Camp F. A. Day Closes Season With Banquet And Awards Of Prizes

Twenty-Third Season of Popular Y. M. C. A.
Camp Ended Tuesday Night—Senior, Junior and Midget Cups To Outstanding Boys

With the enthusiasm typical of the entire season Camp F. A. Day closed its twenty-third season last Tuesday night at the Camp Assembly Hall before a banquet group of two hundred people, including campers, counselors, directors and friends. Highlights of the night were the awards of the many and varied prizes to the campers. It was an unusual night in that practically all boys were recipients of at least one prize.

Opening the evening's activities Mr. C. D. Kepner, chairman of the Camp Committee, invoked the Divine blessing upon the assemblage, and then the boys showed their talents at consuming the banquet spread, prepared by Nils Johnson, the popular Camp chef and his staff. Individual cheers for counselors, and directors, singing of the Camp songs, and other outbursts of boyish spirits made the time slip quickly by.

Award time is always a long-awaited period, not only for those who expect sports awards, but also for the reading of the statistics of the Camp "mosts" and "bests." But the greatest thrill comes when the Camp Director, Clyde G. Hess, calls forward the three boys who have been chosen by the counselors to receive the cups for outstanding achievement during the season. In order to win the cup a boy must have attended the Camp for the entire nine week period, and to gain unanimous approval of the entire counselors' staff.

For the first time in his three year stay at the Camp, John Beeten was awarded the Midget Camp cup. John has been active in athletics in the Midget Camp this year to such an extent that he is selected as an outstanding competitor, but the cup is awarded, not so much on athletics as on character and spirit. Born in Belmont John lives there with his father and mother, and has the company at Camp of his brother, Leslie, who is in the Senior division.

The Junior Cup was the center of much speculation for the Junior Camp is the largest in numbers at Camp Day, and there are many boys who were worthy of the award. The counselors, however, unanimously agreed to give the cup to Robert Carr, also of Belmont. Bob Carr was a strong member of the Junior camp baseball team, an outstanding canoeist, and received his export sailor's emblem after the completion of a rigorous course. He also has a brother in Camp, Ronnie, who is in the Midget camp, and like his older brother was in camp for the first season.

William MacVicar of 428 Walcott st., Auburndale, was chosen by the counselors as the recipient of the Senior cup, and was a standard choice, and very popular with the boys. Bill was selected by the Senior boys as the best sport of the Senior division. He was also a leader in athletics, especially excelling in swimming.

Associate Director Johnson read the statistics of the Camp elections, which always causes much merriment, as well as loud approval. In the entire Camp the following were the selections:

Final Swimming Meet Last Saturday

The final swimming meet conducted on last Saturday afternoon proved to be a walk-away in the Junior Camp for the Purdue team, but in the Senior division a tight race was the order when Dartmouth edged out Yale by a score of 29 points to 26, and Harvard brought up the rear with but 17 points. Purdue led Minnesota by 41 to 29, while Northwestern could garner but 2 points.

Individual honors in the Senior division went to Doug Teschner who

Protest Against Night Noises At Security Mills

Next Wednesday night, Sept. 6, a hearing will be held before the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen on a petition signed by about 50 residents in the vicinity of the Security Mills, Newtonville, protesting against noises made by the operation of a night shift at the mill. The petitioners live on Norwood, Parkview, and Bridges aces, Clarendon and Carter sts. They allege that the operation of a shift during late night and early morning hours at the knitting mill make it impossible for them to obtain proper sleep.

The Security Mills have figured importantly in Newton affairs before. It was the erection of this mill building on the South side of the tracks, near Newtonville ave. in Newtonville, that aroused the people of Newton to the need of a zoning ordinance in 1922, and was directly responsible for the creation of Newton's zoning act, one of the first to be passed in Massachusetts. So, the mill must be credited with having protected Newton against further intrusions of business and manufacturing into residential zones of this city. A few years ago residents in the vicinity of the mill protested against odors which came from the dye house there, and measures were taken to lessen this nuisance. The mill is one of the few industries in this vicinity which has been busy during the depression years.

Playgrounds Have Fewer Directors

The regular season at Newton Playgrounds closed last Saturday and about half of the staff of directors and assistants ended their duties. The playground will continue to be conducted with reduced staffs until schools open on September 11. The bathing beaches at Crystal Lake and Auburndale will continue to be supervised with the regular staffs provided the warm weather continues the coming week. Last Friday the entire staff of directors and assistant directors of the playgrounds, together with the maintenance workers, were addressed at the Newton Centre playground by F. Ewing Wilson, acting superintendent, and by Mrs. Theresa Marshall and Irving Paul of the Playground Commission.

Streets At West Newton Improved

Two new streets on the former Albemarle Golf Club links at West Newton are in process of being improved and shortly accepted. The streets, bearing names suggestive of the game formerly played over the area they now occupy, are Fairway drive and Bunker lane. There is no Stymie rd. in the area. The cost of improving Fairway drive over its 2100 foot length from Watertown st. to Waltham st. is estimated at $15,000. The cost of improving Bunker lane will be $3000. The work is being done under the betterment law, which means that the streets will be properly surfaced. The work will take six or seven weeks and will employ 18 men.

Bandits Rob Insurance Man Of $1885 In Cash In Daylight Hold-Up

Cashier of Metropolitan Ins. Co. Seized by Two Men In Newton Corner Business Section
While Going to Bank With Funds

James A. Mitchell, 60 Clyde st., Newtonville, cashier for the Newton branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was held up by two bandits and robbed of $1885 in cash and $149 in checks on Wednesday morning at 10:29 in front of the office of the Edison Company at 289 Washington st., Newton. The boldness of the robbers was evidenced by the fact that the spot where they accosted Mitchell is one of the busiest places in the city, and that a policeman was standing hardly over 100 feet from the scene of the robbery.

Mr. Mitchell, who has been the cashier at the insurance company's office in Newton for many years, was on his way to the Newton Trust Company from the Metropolitan Company's office at 313 Washington st. He was carrying the cash and checks in a large envelope, and in his other hand he held an umbrella, as it was raining.

The first prize winners were given an all-expense trip to the New York World's Fair. Mr. Sheridan went last week. His accomplishment in winning this contest among thousands of competitors all over New England, is appreciated by the hundreds of his friends in Newton, and the large number of patrons of the Newton Motor Sales, who have observed Mr. Sheridan's skill and courtesy during the many years he has been in the employ of the Newton Ford agency.

Lincoln-Eliot, New School Not Ready

The new Lincoln-Eliot School at Pearl st. and Jackson rd., Newton, will not be ready for occupancy when schools open on September 11, as had been hoped. It is now believed that the new building will be ready for occupancy on Monday, October 16. Children who were assigned to the new school are being assigned temporarily as follows—kindergarten, Stearns School at Irving; first and second grades, Lincoln School; third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades, Eliot School.

At the end of the school sessions last June, in the expectation that the new building would be ready in September, the windows at the old Lincoln School were boarded up and furniture from the Eliot School stored in that building. Now, the windows at the Lincoln School will be replaced, and equipment taken from the Eliot School is being returned to it.

at the time, Mitchell had proceeded about 200 feet from the insurance company office and had reached the spot in front of the Edison office when the two bandits, who had approached him from behind, attacked him. One placed his arm around Mitchell's neck, throttled him, and knocked the cashier to the ground. At the same time, the second bandit ran in front of Mitchell, pulled the umbrella down in front of Mitchell's face, and seized the envelope which the insurance man was carrying.

Both bandits then fled to Bacon st., about 100 feet distant, ran about 50 feet to a narrow alley which runs from Bacon to Peabody st., jumped into an automobile in which another man was waiting, and escaped as the car was driven down Peabody and Pearl sts. to Centre st. and the direction of Watertown. Mitchell arose to his feet, ran after the bandits and reached the intersection of Bacon st. and the alley in time to see the robbers departing in the automobile. Mitchell then ran along Bacon toward Pearl st. and observed the bandits' car proceeding toward Centre st. He noted the registration numbers on the car, and stopped the next automobile that came along Pearl st., intending to pursue the automobile containing the robbers. But, the car stopped by Mitchell had two women in it, so he did not attempt the pursuit.

Mitchell then walked along Bacon st. to the scene of the robbery and recovered his hat and eyeglasses which had been knocked off. A bystander, to whom he told the story of the hold-up, attracted the attention of Patrolmen McDonough and Riley, who were then standing at the police signal box at the corner of Centre and Hall sts., hardly more than 100 feet from the scene of the hold-up. The two policemen ran across to the place, obtained information regarding the robbery from Mitchell and notified police headquarters. The only clues where a 6 3/4 size hat dropped by one of the bandits, the supposed registration numbers on their car, as noted by Mitchell, and rather limited descriptions of the bandits provided by Mitchell and an employee of a garage on Bacon st., who saw the robbers as they fled through the alley to the car which was waiting on Peabody st. The numbers given by Mitchell proved to be those assigned to a car owned by an Arlington man, and this car was in Rhode Island at the time of the robbery.

When the hold-up occurred, Patrolman McDonough was standing on Centre st., near the police box, just around the corner from Hall st. Patrolman Riley was at the corner of Washington and Centre sts., just starting to walk along the East side of Centre st. toward the police box at Hall st. Lines of parked automobiles intervened between them and the scene of the hold-up, and the fact that the robbery was executed so quickly, and without any resultant hue or cry, kept the officers in ignorance of the act until they were informed several minutes later. Inspector Thomas Burke was assigned to the case.

OUR PARTY SYSTEM

IN A MODERN democracy, a party system is necessary. The people must have a channel through which they can make their political opinions effective. It is interesting to remember that our forefathers, who planned our present form of government, not only did not provide for political parties but disapproved of them. Yet the need of a democracy for some organization of voters became apparent almost immediately. The theory of the party system is that each party advocates different ideas and chooses candidates endorsing those ideas to run for office. Then the citizens vote for the party that most nearly reflects their own views. The party elected is supposed to be responsible for the carrying out of the principles it advocates through the candidates elected upon that platform. A party is supposed to be judged by the kind of platforms it puts forth and by the worthy performance of its candidates if elected, but this is not always the way it works out in this country. The people may elect a Democratic president and yet the majority of the Congress may well be Republican. Then two branches of the government are check-mating each other, and neither party can be wholly successful in carrying out the pledges of the platform under which its representatives were put into power. Then, too, national party platforms are adopted only in the years in which the president is selected, although the House of Representatives and part of the Senate change every two years. The members of the Congress elected in non-presidential election years may not feel bound to the platform adopted two years previously, due to changes that have taken place in the meantime. This makes it difficult for the party in power to carry out its adopted platform. Another difficulty in fixing responsibility upon parties arises from the fact that the same party organization functions for local as well as for state and national affairs. Local issues are not the same as state or national issues, yet candidates for national office are often selected because of their views on such local issues. For all of these reasons the problem of party responsibility remains unsolved.

J. W. Pearson, Esq., showed us this morning one of the neatest, best and most unique curry-combs we have ever seen. It rubs and cleanses the skin but does not scratch or cut. It is simply without a rival. All stable-keepers who have tried it, say it is the best thing they have seen.

The meeting last Sunday afternoon on the bank grounds at Newton Corner was addressed by George W. Hayes of Boston on "Temperance." He enforced the truths with thrilling illustrations from his own experience and his wonderful delivery from the terrible thralldom of appetite by the power of the Gospel.

How long is that dangerous bank on Centre st., Newton Centre, near the Rice estate going to remain? It is a wonder that someone has not walked off this dangerous place during the last 9 months.

Newton Highlanders have given up all hope of seeing the Circuit railroad running this season, as it is understood that the Highway Committee have been playing a two-face game. They coincided with the railroad engineer's plan to run a grade over the Eliot street crossing, but when the County Commissioners came on the scene, they advocated a bridge and demanded an elevation that is not practical. This two-face policy has disgusted the railroad company, so that they propose to rest a while.

A Butler Club was formed in this city last Thursday and it is proposed to put in some hard work for the General. He will need all the help he can get in order to be elected.

Newton Graphic, Aug. 23, 1889

Union 275, Newton Carpenters, has issued an invitation for all carpenters to join them in the grand parade in Boston on Labor Day, September 2. The union will be a white straw hat and a button-hole bouquet. The union is growing. It initiated 8 new members last week.

Harris Johnson and W. F. Johnson of Newton have returned from a three weeks' trip to the White Mountains, which they made on an Elliott "safety," and a quadricycle. They had a very pleasant trip, visiting Franconia Notch and other places of interest, and Mr. Johnson is again ready to fit up private residences with electric-bells, gas-lighting apparatus, etc.

(An Elliott "safety," was one of the early, low-wheel type of bicycles which were called "safety" in contrast with the old, high-wheel bicycles. It was made by Sterling Elliott in the factory building now occupied by the Bachrach photography company on Hunt st., near the Watertown line. A quadricycle was a four-wheel vehicle with solid rubber tires, weighing about 150 pounds. Imagine pushing such a "pleasure" vehicle over the rough, gravel roads then in the White Mountains, with their "thank you mamms," and over grades such as Franconia Notch.—Ed.)

It is estimated that the population of this city is about 25,000, on the basis of polls obtained by the Assessors for 1889. The city is growing very rapidly. Many houses are now in process of construction, and portions of the city, heretofore undeveloped, are coming into the market through generous expenditure of money. This is noticeably so in Waban where new streets are being laid out, and large lots of land divided into house lots. With the advent of street car service, uniting more closely the various Wards of Newton, the future growth of the city promises to be very rapid.

While standing in the yard of H. A. Eames on Centre st., Tuesday morning, a horse attached to one of Richardson's market teams, was startled by boys shooting a toy gun near him. Jumping to get away from the noise, he ran against one of Mr. Eames' wagons, demolishing a wheel.

Newton citizens will soon enjoy the privileges of an electric railway, as the work of laying the rails of the Newton Street Railway will be commenced within a few weeks. This will be an important factor in the development of Newton. The directors have elected as president George W. Morse of Newtonville, a gentleman of executive capacity and energy. F. G. L. Henderson has been elected superintendent. He is an experienced railroad man, having worked for the Boston & Albany Railroad for 14 years, and has long been a resident of Newton. The headquarters of the company will be located at Newtonville. Electric power will be used, the cars to be propelled by the Thompson-Houston overhead system. The power station will probably be located on

Powers' Paragraphs

In the Newton court next week a man will go on trial for gambling. He was summoned to appear in the Newton court after a Newton policeman who has manifested a certain zeal for prosecuting small-time lottery agents in Newton was assigned to raid the place where this man was employed, and where he seized a quantity of alleged lottery slips. During the past year Newton has received considerable publicity regarding the alleged prevalence of gambling within its confines; most of this publicity resulting from the investigation of the Newton police department ordered by Mayor Childs as a result of the Mayor's feud with the Board of Aldermen over certain matters affecting that department. Incidentally, that investigation resulted in a finding that the Newton police department wasn't so bad, after all.

As we stated some months ago in this column, we do not condone gambling, when gambling results harmfully to those who engage in it, or to their dependents. Certainly there is too much gambling today. The only gambling the writer does is to play a few games of "45" once a week or less often, and taking a "sweepstakes" lottery ticket three times each year. We never bought "nigger-pool" lottery tickets, nor have we ever entered the confines of Suffolk Downs, the Revere dog race track, or any other pari-mutuel plant where the suckers are separated from their money. And when we hear of prominent citizens obtaining dividends of $75,000 and more each year from their holdings in the legalized pari-mutuel race tracks, when we see photographs of the "cream of society" and their sons and daughters, sitting in the club area reserved for the "high toned folks" at a certain gambling resort; and when we know that many residents of Newton who feign resentment at the small fry who make a small income selling lottery tickets, themselves gamble habitually either at cards or on the horses, we become cynical over this manifestation of hypocrisy in our social fabric.

Story of The First Ascent of Mount Washington by Automobile

By Frank H. Burt

Forty years ago last Thursday, August 31, 1899, also falling on a Thursday—Freelan O. Stanley of Newton, Mass., with his wife, Mrs. Flora Tilston Stanley, drove to the top of Mount Washington in the first motor vehicle ever to make the ascent. The actual running time for the climb of about 4600 feet in eight miles of dirt road was two hours and ten minutes, about half the ordinary time for horses.

The car was the so-called "Locomobile," a steam car, the invention of Mr. Stanley and his twin brother Francis E. Stanley. It was forerunner of the Stanley Steamer, famous a few years later for spectacular speed records on Ormond Beach, Fla.

At the time of this ascent the writer was editor of "Among the Clouds," a daily paper then printed on Mount Washington and founded by his father, the late Henry M. Burt of Springfield, Mass., and so was present to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, who were his friends and neighbors, and to take, he believes, the only photograph of the event.

The Summit had been advised by telephone the evening before (Wednesday, the 30th) that Mr. and Mrs. Stanley had arrived at Darby Field Cottage in Pinkham Notch (then the only hotel near by) and would attempt the mountain in the morning. Then the wire failed and in the morning we were without any knowledge of their plans. Had we had television we might have seen the queer little car, built somewhat like an open buggy, passing the tollhouse and starting chug-chugging up the carriage road, driven by Stanley, tall, middle-aged, sandy-bearded, with his wife beside him, a few spectators looking on in wonder.

At the Summit an anxious group kept constant watch. The hotel staff and the printing office personnel were joined by trappers from Gorham, N. H., who had come over the range from Madison Hut. Word came at length that the car had passed the Half Way House. The arrival of the railway train brought about fifty passengers, making a gallery of perhaps a hundred to fill every vantage point on the platform by the Summit House and even the wooded roof. Only a few minutes later the auto shot into view as it rounded the curve at the edge of the Great Gif, then spinning along the last stretch it reached its goal in the parking space by the stables at 11:35 a. m.

Little difficulty had been experienced in the climb, Mr. Stanley said, except that he had had to stop twice to replenish the water in the boiler. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stanley expressed themselves delighted with the ride, as well as with the journey of 197 miles from Newton to the foot of the mountain at the present site of the Glen House, in which the car had averaged 14.1 miles per hour, a remarkable figure considering the primitive roads of the period.

They had traveled in leisurely fashion, driving only a few hours a day and spending nights in Newburyport, Portsmouth, Ossipee and North Conway, the longest day's run being 54 miles. Pioneers in long distance touring, they adopted something like a horse-and-buggy schedule, taking plenty of time for rest and sight-seeing and using five days in a trip now easily taken between breakfast and lunch.

"From Rochester, N. H., to North Conway," Mr. Stanley told the editor of "Among the Clouds," "the road was about as difficult for a motor vehicle as could be imagined. So deep was the sand in places that it took the full power of the machine to drive it on a level. The grades, fortunately, were a little gravelly, having a better road surface. . . .

"We found the ascent more difficult than we anticipated," said Mr. Stanley, "although we had no trouble in climbing the steepest grades. The day was perfect, being practically cloudless, with no wind. . . .

"As the carriage is constructed for road use we found it necessary in climbing the mountain, where the average grade for eight miles is approximately 12 per cent, to jack up the rear wheels and run the engine for a few minutes in order to supply sufficient water to the boiler. In other respects the journey up the mountain was as free from any interesting incident as the same distance traveled on level." Mr. Stanley added that in the entire trip "not the slightest difficulty in the way of breakage or loose nuts or anything to mar the pleasure of the journey happened. We can both say without reserve that if the roads from Rochester to North Conway were as good as the rest of the journey, this would soon be the popular way of visiting the mountains."

Less than two gallons of gasoline were used in the climb, Mr. Stanley stated, adding that "for a gentleman and his wife to ride up Mount Washington by such a vehicle will cost less than 25 cents for power."

From the woman's standpoint Mrs. Stanley spoke enthusiastically of the fitness of such machines for the use of her sex.

"A lady can very easily learn to steer it," said Mrs. Stanley; "it is steered by a handle bar very much as you steer a bicycle. She needs to become somewhat familiar with the mechanism, but it is not at all complicated, and she can readily acquire the necessary skill to manage the machine. She must know enough about its workings to instruct the stable boys whom she would have to hire to take care of it and clean it at the stopping places on the journey. Even without this knowledge she could, if the machine were in perfect order, take a ride of fifteen or twenty miles just as well as a man."

Perhaps it was not just because Stanley has shown the way, but in the next five years the hill-climbing powers of autos increased incredibly. In July, 1904, in the first "Climb to the Clouds," on the same Mount Washington rd., five American cars smashed record after record in quick succession, only to lose to Francis E. Stanley in the newly devised Stanley Steamer in 28 min. 19.25 sec. while he was outdone only by a foreign car, the 60-h.p. Mercedes, driven by Harry Harkness in 24 min. 37.35 sec. Again, in 1905, in the second "Climb to the Clouds," the Stanley defeated all American rivals in 27 min. 17.25 sec., the Napier scoring 29 min. 58.25 sec.

Today the record stands at 12 min. 17.6 sec. The average car now climbs Mount Washington easily in 30 or 40 minutes. Much improved in width and surface, the road has been climbed by as many as 5000 cars in a year.

This Car Used for Sleeping Purposes En Route.

On Saturday morning, Aug. 26, the sales force of the Newton Nash Co., including M. E. Estabrook, C. C. Stevens, D. H. Hamblett and J. E. Conners departed from Newton in a Nash convertible sedan, en route to the Nash Convention at Chicago. They travelled with two men occupying the driving compartment, while the other two enjoyed all the comfort provided by the famous Nash sleeper compartment. Prior to starting, Mr. Stevens said he had travelled many miles in the car, sleeping en route, and he had found it most comfortable. Alternating in driving and relaxing, the four men reached Chicago on Sunday night, August 27.

They spent a few days at the convention, and then went to the Nash factory at Kenosha, Wis., where they obtained first-hand information on factory procedure about servicing the 1940 model Nash. They started for Newton on Thursday and expect to reach this city tonight with three of the new 1940 Nash models, which will be on display at the salesroom at the corner of Washington and Hovey sts., Newton.

So Stalin hid out England and sought the highest bidder, while diplomats the world through out began to fret and jitter. Powers' Paragraphs

There is an old aphorism that he, whom the Gods would destroy, they first make mad. And there is another old aphorism which says—that he who lives by the sword, will perish by the sword. We wonder if Adolf Hitler, Hermann Goering, Goebbels and the rest of the power-drunk despots who rule the German people ever heard of these truths? Because, eventually they will realize them. They have plunged a nation of wonderful people into horrible, mass slaughter, and it is our belief, that eventually these blood thirsty leaders will share the fate to which they have condemned not only many millions of Europeans, but also millions of their own race.

We look to see Germany speedily overcome Poland. Whether, or not, Russia will aid in the decimation and conquering of Poland, has not, as yet been shown. Germany's new and strange ally will probably do so. Also, Germany's new and strange ally may, eventually turn against the Nazis and assist in their engulfment. Russia failed the "allies" in the World War. It is not unlikely that she will turn against Hitler in this war. There is no love lost between Hitler and his Nazis, and Stalin and his Soviets. The Nazis turned to Russia in desperation, and the Soviets have for the present allied themselves with their erstwhile enemies because it is expedient for them to do so. But if and when events take a turn that will make it expedient for Russia to treat the Nazis as the enemies they really are, instead of the quasi-friends they now pretend to be, the Soviets will have no qualms of conscience in so doing.

There is nothing sentimental in the pact between Hitler and Stalin. There is no love lost between them and their followers. The Teutons despise the heterogeneous masses composing the Soviet Republics, and the intellectuals of the "Reds" entertain no illusions regarding the Nazis.

Last winter residents of Newton who attended the Community Forum listened to Earl Browder, leader of the Communists of this country. A week ago, Mr. Browder gave an interview to New York newspapermen in which he revealed his views on the pact between Hitler and Stalin. He stated that he did not think Russia would invade Poland, and that Russia would also give Poland a non-aggression pact similar to that that gave Germany if the Poles had asked for it. He even said that it is his belief that if Germany invaded Poland, Russia would aid the attacked country, should such aid be asked. Mr. Browder, however, stated, and we believe he told the truth, that all he knew of the acts of the Soviet government is what he read in the newspapers.

The next few days will tell whether or not Russia will join with Germany in the rape of Poland. It will take more than days, probably more than months, and possibly more than years before the present fever of a dis-cased civilization will be alleviated. And if the scourge lasts for long, the wily, realistic Stalin believes, and more than likely is correct, that his pact with Hitler will result in mass conversions of Germans, French and even English to Communism and its international aims.

We listened this morning to radio broadcasts telling of the statement issued by Hitler to the German people. To us it seemed fantastic and pessimistic. It seemed to indicate that Hitler realizes the uncertainty of continued support from Italy and Russia. Here is a man who we believe was sincere, but terribly foolish. There was reason for his zealous, fanatically patriotic urge to lift Germany from the sorry state to which her loss of the World War had reduced her. The French extremists who sought to reduce Germany to permanent helplessness after the war, and their allies, the greedy reactionary element in England, who scuttled Woodrow Wilson's idealistic efforts, can be blamed largely for the present sorry condition of things. They not only incited the younger generation of Germans to a resentment which made them ready converts to Hitler's philosophy, but they then permitted the Nazis to forge ahead in preparations for a Blitz Krieg calculated (with the aid of Italy) to speedily overwhelm England and France.

Hitler, during the past few years had won tremendous victories without resorting to war. His successes caused him and his clique to depart from reason. What the future portends, one would be presumptuous to prophesy. In the meantime, millions of young men will be killed and wounded, and the horrible spectacles of women, children and the aged being bombed in cities will be witnessed, despite the humanitarian apostasy of President Roosevelt. Eventually an outraged and nauseated humanity will turn and end it all.

In connection with the State tax on alcoholic beverages, which went into effect today, Tax Commissioner Long warns residents of Massachusetts against purchasing liquor outside the State and bringing it into Massachusetts unless one has a license to do so, and pays the tax on such liquor. He calls attention to the fact that such a provision was made in the Liquor Control Act passed in 1934, when so-called prohibition ended. How does this act conform with the Constitution of the United States, which

mer. The deceased was born in Philadelphia and was a resident of Newton for 35 years. She was a member of the First Church in Boston.

forbids taxes on interstate commerce? One thing is certain. The added taxes on spirituous liquors will increase the illicit manufacture and sale of alcohol in this State. And there has been plenty of such illicit traffic in bootleg alcohol during the years since the prohibition law was repealed.

The voluminous report given to the Board of Aldermen at its meeting on Aug. 21, relative to the changes in Newton's building code, contained 106 typewritten pages. It was prepared by a committee of citizens who have been working on this subject for the past couple of years. One important part of the report is that relating to apartment houses. No provision is made in the sections referring to apartment houses about compelling apartment houses to provide garage or parking spaces for automobiles. This very important apartment house problem was seriously discussed by the Aldermen 10 years ago. It will have to be met, if the building code is not the proper avenue to deal with this problem, the zoning ordinance should be amended without delay as the means to control the growing nuisance of the use of streets as garages by persons residing in apartment buildings.

Sampson Guilty on Larceny Charge

Raymond Sampson of 991 Water-town st., West Newton, was found guilty by Judge Murray in the Newton court last Friday on two charges of larceny. He was given a sentence of 6 months in Billerica prison, and the sentence was then suspended on condition that Sampson make restitution of $140 to Anthony Lombardi of Capitol st., Newton, and $30 to Catherine Melver of Newton Highlands. The testimony showed that Sampson took a car owned by the Melver woman to sell it, and also obtained a deposit from her to buy a later model car. He then obtained $140 from Lombardi, who is in the automobile business, for the purpose of paying off the balance owed on the Melver car to a finance company, when he told Lombardi he had a customer for the car. Instead of paying the money to the finance company, Sampson converted it to his own use. Sampson informed the judge that he owns a third interest in a house, and the judge gave him until September 23 to obtain money with which to pay Lombardi and Miss Melver.

THE HOSPITAL AID BENEFIT SHOP

The Hospital Aid Benefit Shop, located at 795 Washington st., Newtonville, will reopen on Wednesday morning, September sixth, at ten o'clock.

This annual closing during the month of August is to enable the corps of workers, all of whom are volunteers, to have a short respite from their work in this line.

The shop is one of the sources of income of the Newton Hospital Aid Association, and has been in operation for thirteen years. During the recent drive for the new nurses home, all profits were applied to the pledge which the Association had made.

As usual, there will be clothing for all members of the family, furniture and household goods, also sporting goods to be found in the stock. This committee for this opening day will be in charge of one of the West Newton groups with Mrs. Fred Hardy who is also chairman of the Advisory Committee, in charge.

The hours are still from two to four thirty on Monday afternoons and ten to twelve on Wednesday and Friday mornings. Donations will be very gratefully received and will be collected by a truck from the hospital by calling Mrs. Raymond Perkins, West Newton 1774.

Sharkey's Chow Dog Bites Girl

Jack Sharkey of 10 Stone ave., Chestnut Hill, former widely known pugilist, seems to own dogs which have a belligerent nature. A few years ago Mr. Sharkey owned dogs which were ordered restrained for having allegedly attacked persons. Last Friday a chow dog owned by Sharkey was ordered restrained by the Newton police after Ellen Moran, 17, of Ackers ave., Brookline, had complained that the dog had bitten her on the right leg as she was walking by Sharkey's estate. Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine the dog.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

Bernard Beale, 40, of Kendall pl., Framingham was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Tuesday when he was found guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Mullen observed a car driven by Beale being operated erratically on Beacon st., Newton Centre at 3 a. m. Tuesday and he placed the Framingham man under arrest. Beale told the judge that the reason he was driving the car zig-zag was because he had lost his way and was looking for direction signs.

Injured When Two Cars Collide

Cars driven by Jess Melanson of Wolcott st., Arlington and James Calf of 11 Faxon st., Nonantum collided on Tuesday evening at 7:15 at California st. and Woodrow ave., Newtonville. Calf received a bad cut on his left ear and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Melanson reported that the collision occurred when Calf's car, which had been parked, was started out onto the roadway just as he drove along.

Taxpayers Association Makes Recommendation For Purchasing Agent

Gives Statement of Its Activities for This Year and Its Aims for 1940

The Newton taxpayers after months of study have presented to the Board of Aldermen a recommendation to adopt an ordinance requiring a Central Purchasing Department. Over two hundred cities of the United States have adopted this method of purchasing materials and supplies with great success and substantial economy. At the present time 22 departments of the City of Newton purchase the materials and supplies for their respective departments. As a result much time and money are wasted.

Antiquated methods of operating a city government, says the Taxpayers' Association, must go into the discard in favor of more modern and efficient methods if taxes are to be reduced. Mr. C. B. Jones, President of the Association, estimates a saving of $50,000 per year by adopting a Central Purchasing Department. This will, moreover, permit the department heads to devote most of their time to the administration of their department, thus tending toward a greater degree of efficiency in management.

If the taxpayers of Newton are in favor of this modern method of purchasing, and desire to reduce their tax bills, they should express their views to their aldermen and request them to use their influence toward the immediate adoption of an ordinance requiring a Central Purchasing Department.

Our 1939 Accomplishments

The first Public Meeting of the Newton Taxpayers' Association was held January 17, 1939. The High School auditorium was well filled. Here we were challenged to show the City Government how to reduce expenses. We have made a start. There is a lot more that can be accomplished. Read on.

In co-operation with the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen, we were instrumental in eliminating $197,119.00 from the proposed budget, a saving of $1.20 on the tax rate.

We helped "kill" the proposed two-plant system for the Fire Department which would have increased the City Budget $44,110.00 per year.

We opposed the taking by the city of land adjacent to the Stearns School at an initial cost of approximately $4,000.00.

We hired an outstanding engineering concern to make a survey of our Street Department. This has resulted in our submitting to City Hall a plan for a simple cost system that will save the Street Department $20,000.00—and possibly $60,000.00 a year. (This is in process of being approved.)

School Football Practice Opens; New Grid Coach

Forty-Two Selected Candidates Report—New Mentor To Use Little System

The Newton high school 1939 football season officially opened this week when a selected group of candidates reported at the high school on Wednesday morning. Equipment was issued to these candidates and on Wednesday afternoon Coach Owen MacDowell, newly appointed mentor of the orange and black eleven, had them on the field for the first conditioning work. Sessions were also held yesterday and today with the real work to begin with the opening of school on Monday.

Coach MacDowell, tall, 180-lb., Columbia end, who paved the way for the lone touchdown of the 1934 Rose Bowl game with Stanford which brought Columbia a 7-0 victory, will be assisted this year by C. Evan Johnson, and Ernest V. Knapman. Johnson has been assistant coach for the past several years while Knapman moves up from former coaching duties with the junior varsity squad.

Speaking of the work ahead, Coach MacDowell stated that he would install the Lou Little system used at Columbia—a system which has the backs lined up much like the Notre Dame formation after the shift. He also has had in mind a few variations of his own which he will introduce later in the season as the squad progresses. Sound fundamentals and building up morale are his first tasks. With a background of four years assistant coaching and scouting under Little at

Commends Wilson's Service As Head Of Playgrounds

Mr. F. Ewing Wilson, who has held this position as acting superintendent of the Newton Playgrounds Department, is to be commended on the excellent work which his department rendered to the citizens of Newton during the past summer. Mr. Wilson took over the department last June at the very beginning of the intensive summer playground season. His job was a complicated one, demanding the highest type of executive leadership, tact and spirit. That Mr. Wilson possesses these qualities has been manifested in the quality and quantity of the department's activities. There has been complete co-operation among all the members of the playground personnel, including the office force, playground supervisors, directors and the maintenance force. Co-operation seemed to be the slogan of the department, resulting in some of the finest exhibitions and play days which the department has ever presented.

The real gainers of Mr. Wilson's efforts have been the hundreds of youngsters throughout the city who have flocked to the playground and bathing beaches for the supervised recreations which their city so bountifully offers to them. The parents of these children, too, are grateful for the satisfaction they enjoy in knowing that their children were being carefully supervised physically, mentally and morally in their leisure time.

Mr. Wilson and his department may well feel proud of the completeness and thoroughness which marked the playground season this past summer in Newton. It was a job well done and a monument to the man who directed the department.

Edison Patrolman Is Electrocuted Replacing Lamp

Michael J. Kearney Worked
30 Years In Newton

Michael J. Kearney of 42 Maple st., Watertown, a well known resident of Newton for 30 years, was electrocuted Tuesday night while replacing a broken street light on Homer st., Newton Centre, opposite the driveway to City Hall. The pole is but a short distance from the Edison transformer station on Homer st. and Kearney received the force of a heavy voltage.

A young Newton Highlands man who was walking along Homer st. about 11:30 stumbled over Kearney's body which was lying on the sidewalk. He hastened to a nearby house from which a telephone message was sent to police headquarters.

A cruising car with Patrolmen Fitz-Simmons and Stevens speeded to the place, found that the body was that of Kearney, and radioed headquarters. The body was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Both of Kearney's hands were severely burned.

For many years Mr. Kearney, who entered the employment of the Edison Company when a youth, had been night patrolman and inspector of street lights for the Edison Company in the Newtons. His duties included the replacing of broken or burned out street lamps. He had gone apparently about 1 o'clock Tuesday night to replace a broken light at the Homer st. pole. The lamp was on a cement pole and Kearney mounted a ladder to remove the broken globe and lamp and replace them. He apparently had taken hold of the metal ring which held the globe, when his other hand came in contact with a wire or part of the broken bulb, and the current went through his body.

Michael Kearney was born in Boston 49 years ago. His father, for whom he was named, was a veteran employee of the Edison Company and its predecessor, and was retired on a pension some years ago. Mr. Kearney was an enthusiastic horseman and dog fancier. Joyful in disposition, he had a wide circle of friends. His funeral was held this morning from the home of his sister, Mrs. Esther Canniff, 115 Neponset ave., Dorchester, and the requiem mass was at Our Lady's Church, Newton. Burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Watertown. Mr. Kearney's wife, the late Catherine Kennedy, died three years ago.

City Employees Meet at Quincy

A delegation of Newton City Employees Local Union attended the annual convention of State, City and Town Employees at Quincy last Saturday and Sunday. The Newton delegates included John Frazier, John Russo, Richard Wales, Patsy Grellorio and Wallace Cox. A Leslie Moriarty, business agent of Newton Local, was an honorary delegate. Two resolutions were presented by the Newton delegation for consideration by the next Legislature. One asks that disability compensation start from the day of injury. The second resolution seeks to have the posting of all seniority lists in cities and towns which are under civil service. John Russo of Newton was elected one of the eight vice-presidents of the State Federation. The next meeting of Newton Local will be held on Sept. 15. At the banquet held in conjunction with the convention on last Saturday evening, the guests included Mayor Childs of Newton, Street Commissioner John Haughey, and Division Foreman Richard Murphy.

Newton Woman on Athenia Saved

Miss Jane A. Forte, 23, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Forte of 115 Allerton rd., Newton Highlands, was one of the passengers on the S. S. Athenia of the Donaldson Line which was sunk about 200 miles off the coast of Scotland. She was among those rescued and is now on her way home on the S. S. City of Flint.

Miss Forte graduated from Newton High School in 1933 and from Simmons College in 1937. She is teaching modern dancing in Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri.

Neighbors Complain of Night Work At Mill In Newtonville

Many Nearby Residents Claim Hearing at City Hall; Attend Noise Prevents Sleep

A large number of persons residing in the vicinity of the Security Mills at Newtonville, appeared before the Claims & Rules Committee of the Aldermen at City Hall on Wednesday night to complain about the operation of the knitting industry of an all night shift, of work at the plant on Sundays, and of other alleged nuisances there. A petition signed by about 50 residents of the section had been presented to the Aldermen asking that the operation of the mill during late night and early morning hours be stopped.

O. L. Paquette of 95 Norwood ave., led the fight for the petitioners. He said that the owners of the mill had agreed sometime ago not to operate the plant after 11 o'clock nights, or on Sundays, and had not kept this agreement. He said the noise coming from the mill causes persons residing in the neighborhood to cease attempting to sleep, and pulls one out of bed at 5 in the morning. He stated that five ceilings in his home had collapsed because of vibrations from machinery in the mill. Mr. Paquette, who said he also represented the "Cabot Park Associates" charged that the neighborhood is covered with lint which blows from the mill, and that he had complained to the Board of Health regarding this condition. He also asserted that the water tank at the mill overflows and floods Cabot Park.

Joseph Kirchgassner of 11a Carter st., said he is disturbed not only by the noise of the machinery in the mill, but also by the noise of the steam exhaust in the boiler there. Ex-Alderman Donald Hill told his former associates on the Board that while he was an Alderman he frequently had gone to the management of the mill as a result of complaints by neighbors, and that although the mill's owners had promised to correct conditions, they had not kept the promises. Hill said that among the complaints he had endeavored to settle were noise of trucking at the mill nights, the litter prevalent around the mill, sky-larking by employees there, which disturbed neighbors; and work at the plant on Sundays.

Philip Rubenstein, treasurer of the mill corporation, said his company had done all within its power to make the operation of the mill less objectionable to the neighborhood. He said that there had been no work at the plant on Sundays except in cases of emergency, and that because the business is seasonal, it is necessary to work the all-night shift during busy seasons. Martin McDonald, superintendent at the mill, said the noises alleged to come from the machinery at the factory, were no louder than similar machinery would make in any like plant. Mrs. Grace Pomfret told the Aldermen that her husband is employed at the mill and she asked the petitioners how they would like to lose their jobs if they were working at the mill, and they were forced to shut down? Mrs. Pomfret said she formerly lived on Bridges ave., near the mill, and had not found the objectionable conditions as alleged by the petitioners. Mrs. Pomfret, however, now lives at 2197 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale.

Sergeant Michael Sullivan of the Newton police said he had been assigned to investigate complaints about the night noises from the mill and had gone to the home of Rudolph Johnson at 99 Norwood ave. Sullivan stated that he decided he would not like to attempt to sleep in the Johnson home. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the committee, who had to warn irritated opponents and proponents of night work at the mill, asked for a show of hands to obtain the sentiments of those present. Persons residing in the neighborhood favored the petition. Persons in the employ of the Security Mills opposed the petition.

Thomas White Loses Job, Gets Another

Thomas R. White of Walter st., Newton Centre, nephew of Thomas W. White, who was appointed last November under Governor Hurley's administration, as agent of the closed Exchange Trust Company, was one of the five agents of closed banks whose services were dispensed with on Monday because of the reorganization of this division by Governor Saltonstall. Mr. White was then appointed coach in the division by Director Hoag.

William T. Halliday of Newtonville, formerly liquidating agent of the State Department of Banking, is retained in the revised organization.

School Dept. Announces Changes In Faculties of The Newton Schools

Reorganize Boys' Physical Dept. at High School; Simmons Head of Dept.; Sanborn Faculty Manager; MacDowell Football Coach

Announcement was made this week by the Newton School Department of various changes of personnel in the faculties of Newton's many schools. These changes involved retirements, resignations, and new appointments, some of which had previously been known. Foremost among the new changes are several which effect a considerable reorganization in the boys' physical educational department at the high school.

Late in June the appointment of Owen MacDowell, former Columbia star football end, as a physical instructor and varsity football coach, and the resignation of former coach Ralph M. Sanborn, also a physical instructor, who had requested that he be relieved of his coaching duties, were announced. A short while previously a leave of absence from school had been granted to F. Ewing Wilson, faculty manager and head of the physical department at the high school, in order that he might assume the newly created position of Recreation Commissioner in the playground during the summer months and pending the interim period of the necessary changes there caused by the retirement of Superintendent Ernest F. Hermann.

Under the reorganization which has taken place at the high school Mr. Frank M. Simmons, physical instructor and varsity basketball coach, becomes the head of the department. Mr. Simmons came to the high school in 1927. He is a graduate of Springfield College where he received the degree of bachelor of physical education with the Class of 1923.

Mr. Sanborn has been appointed faculty manager and will continue as a physical instructor. Mr. MacDowell, who arrived in Newton this week to open the 1939 football practice season, will also assist in class instruction in the physical department.

Upon his return from his summer duties as Recreation Commissioner, Mr. Wilson will have charge of the physical education program at the Frank A. Day Junior High School. Mr. E. Warren Blue, who has held this position for several years, will go to the Warren Junior High School in West Newton.

Other changes in faculty personnel are announced as follows:

PATRONAGE

GOVERNMENT positions that are given as a reward for working for political parties or for candidates are referred to as patronage. The use and abuse of national patronage began to be talked about as early as Washington's administration, and it was probably a problem within the states even earlier. The problem has become more and more serious, however, as governmental positions have rapidly increased in number and as the services people expect of government have become more complicated. Many of these services have been performed badly because men were appointed to governmental positions for political reasons rather than for their qualifications. However, there has been some improvement in government administration, through the setting up of merit systems. The national government, though people do not always realize it, has made more improvement than the states. One of the worst aspects of the use of patronage is that parties depend upon making promises of positions in order to win supporters. They say "If you will help us elect our candidate, we will be in a position to make many appointments and there may be a job for you." You are sometimes qualified for the appointment you receive and sometimes you are not, yet it is given you anyway as recognition of the party work you have done. When parties rely upon patronage to keep up their strength, they cease to rely upon party principles. Patronage has become one of the most corrupting influences of our political life. For a long time people have been realizing that fact and they are waging a fierce war against it which becomes fiercer as time goes on.

The 3 miles bicycle race at Point of Pines, Revere, was won on Thursday by Edward P. Burnham in 11 minutes, 52 seconds. He gave each of his competitors a lead of one lap; 220 yards. The prize was a solid silver cup valued at $225.

We have been engaged a few days past in investigating the ways and doings of a man who recently came to this village to reside. We propose to give the result of our efforts, with proof of irregular and dishonorable courses in next week's paper.

Considerable excitement was occasioned on Washington st., near Bacon st., on Saturday night at 9 o'clock by a collision of two teams driven by Patrick Farrell and Dennis Leahy. From the noise one would have supposed that several were severely injured. The damage was slight, however, principally to wagons and tempers.

A correspondent asks us what right the Boston & Albany Railroad has to discontinue a street and remove the bridge over the road from Bellevue to Washington st.? We can only say—"We do not know, but presume it is by the right of their power to do so." Remember the B & A is a large, wealthy corporation; what right has anyone to question its acts?

Thursday evening at 5:30 the horse of L. G. Pratt of West Newton became frightened by the railroad cars while hitched in front of the public library at Newton. A lady sitting in the carriage jumped out and was not injured. The horse broke the hitching strap, ran up Centre and Mount Ida sts., and then along Newtonville ave. to Harvard st., Newtonville, where he was stopped without the carriage having been seriously damaged.

A pea hen which was owned by a Newton Highlands resident was killed on the Boston & Albany track a few weeks since. Had it been the peacock owned by the same person, it would have been no loss to the neighborhood. The yells of this creature have become a nuisance.

A fire alarm from Box 15 was rung on Sunday evening at 8:30. We walked leisurely from Eliot Church to Newtonville ave., when we decided to go back and learn the cause of the fire, as it had begun to blaze quite brightly. We walked slowly back and on reaching Elmwood st. we found Steamer 1 at a hydrant, but with no steam up. We then went around to the rear of the burning house and stood there some minutes before a stream of water was thrown on the fire. The driver of the hose wagon was making inquiries for a hydrant, seeming uncertain whether there was one in the vicinity. It seemed to us that there was needless delay in getting a stream on the fire.

It was burning fiercely in both the first, second and third stories of the ell. Small quantity of water, 10 minutes earlier, would have prevented most of the damage, or a fire extinguisher applied when we first arrived, would have saved a large loss by fire and water. The house was owned by Mrs. Carrier and occupied by Henry A. Ball, who was absent at church. The house was thoroughly gutted in the rear part, and all of it was completely drenched. Some of the furniture was removed in a damaged condition. The loss was $3500, covered by insurance. It is with sincere regret that we record the inefficiency of our fire department on this occasion. We have often commended them for promptness and admirable management.

Henry A. Ball and his wife wish to express their thanks to all who rendered aid on Sunday night in rescuing their household goods from the fire. Also to the kind offers from friends who sympathized with them in their loss, offering them a place of shelter, and a place for the furniture removed from the burning building. It was Mr. Ball's 70th birthday and he would recognize God's goodness to him in the calamity, in that He has shown him so many kind friends in his declining years.

Patrolman Henthorn of the Newton police is again on duty after a pleasant vacation. He enjoyed several excursions on Boston Pilot Boat 3 in Massachusetts Bay, accompanied by Mr. C. A. Drew, city editor of the Boston Advertiser.

There is a greater demand than ever this season for small houses at reasonable rent, and apparently not a desirable house will be left vacant next month. The lack of such houses is all that keeps Newton from a rapid increase in population.

In the Newton police court the past week 20 cases were disposed of. They included—drunkenness, 12; suspicious persons, 3; violation of liquor law, 1; violation of city ordinance, 1; insanity, 1; assault and battery, 1; disturbing a religious meeting, 1.

People on Linwood ave., Newtonville, are complaining of the howling and barking of troublesome canines on that street.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

All we know of the present European War is what we read in the papers or hear over the radio, and that isn't much. The leading contestants in the wholesale "battle royal," Germany, England and France, are obviously using caution; waiting for time, as it were. Apparently Germany is marching through Poland according to schedule; the valiant Poles not being able to resist the Nazi invaders with their far superior death-dealing equipment. France is doing what it can in harrying Germany on the West front, although it would have to sacrifice a terrible toll of its man-power in breaking through the Siegfried Line. One thing to be thankful for in the first week of war is—that the three big contending powers have refrained from the horrible slaughter which unleashed bombing of large cities and towns would entail. We hope this phase will continue, but we doubt it. According to military experts, it appears that Germany will endeavor to overcome Poland as rapidly as possible, and then (probably through Mussolini), make overtures to Britain and France for a peaceful settlement. It is quite doubtful that England and France would consider ending the war by ceding Poland to Germany, unless Russia threatened to send its tremendous army into the fray.

Should Germany rapidly conquer Poland, as seems certain, and then concentrate its might on the Western front, and should the war then be continued with the combatants fighting with all resources at their disposal, the full horror of the struggle will be on, and the ruthless bombing of non-combatants will be witnessed. In the meantime tens of thousands of young Germans and Poles will have been killed and maimed. Many hope that the millions of the German people who abhor war and Hitlerism, will revolt. It should be remembered, however, that most of the Germans under 30, and many over 30, sincerely believe Hitler is right. It also should be remembered that it is difficult to start a revolution, when those in power in a country have the weapons with which to crush a revolution, and those who would revolt are not armed. The only successful revolution in Germany would be one of the young soldiers in the Nazi armies, and such a revolution is quite unlikely unless the German armies meet with reverses, or the war continues over a long period.

The torpedoing and sinking of the S. S. Athenia caused amazement in the U. S. A. Most people in this country supposed that the Germans (remembering that it was the sinking of the "Lusitania" and the toll exacted by German submarines on American shipping during the World War, which was largely responsible for this country entering that war and undoubtedly causing the defeat of Germany) would not repeat this mistake. To sink a passenger ship carrying hundreds of U. S. citizens homeward bound, a couple of days after the war started, was the consummation of stupidity on the part of the Germans. In fact, such an act on the part of the Germans would be so provocative, so certain to turn sentiment in this country against them, that many were inclined to believe the statement by Nazi high officials that the "Athenia" was not torpedoed by a German submarine. Statements by the "Athenia's" officers and by passengers—that the ship was not only torpedoed, but also shelled, put the burden of proof on the Nazis and gave President Roosevelt a big advantage in the effort he will probably make to have Congress amend the neutrality act so that supplies may be sold to those contending nations which have the cash to buy such supplies, and ships to carry them in.

The mortuary was placed under the cornerstone by young ladies of the "E. C." Society, who gave the first $100 toward the erection of the church.

Mrs. Edward Lewis; "Tiny Tidbits," miniatures, Ch. Mrs. Carl Pescosolido; "Reflected Glory," mirrored arrangements, Ch. Mrs. Paul Hultkrans; "Among My Souvenirs," flowers and lespikes, Ch. Mrs. Melville Ames; "Green Growth," green in any container, Ch. Mrs. Gerald Higgins; "Harvest Harmony," fruits or vegetables, Ch. Mrs. John McGlennan.

In this week's GRAPHIC is a photograph of Robert Sproat, the oarsman with the good-natured grin. "Bob" sent it to us a few weeks ago from Upper Dam, Rangeley Lakes, Maine, where he spent the summer with his employer, Charles A. Clarke. The photograph shows that "Bob" is not water-shy although last April he was "drowned" in the Charles River at Allston, when the car he was driving was forced off the road and into 15 feet of water. "Bob" was rescued through the heroism of Ladderman Tom Maloney of the Boston Fire Department, after he had been under water in the car for over 30 minutes. To the amazement of all, "Bob" was resuscitated after his long immersion, and the harrowing experience did not even ruffle his nerves. We have known "Bob" for 50 years; he had that infectious grin when he was a small redheaded, mischievous kid and he has never lost it.

In this week's GRAPHIC is a statement from the Newton Taxpayers' Association telling of the accomplishments of the organization during the past year. Among other things the Association states that it was responsible, in part, for the action of the Board of Aldermen in turning down the recommendation of Mayor Childs for a two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Department. Without disparaging the Newton Taxpayers' Association, we believe that a majority of the Board of Aldermen would have voted against this recommendation even had the association not have existed. We attend nearly all meetings of the Aldermen and thus know the sentiments of the Board.

Another "accomplishment" specified in the statement of the Taxpayers' Association was its opposition to the city taking the lot of land adjoining the Stearns School at Nonantum. As one who resides about a quarter of a mile from the Stearns School, we believe we are more conversant with this matter than the members of the Taxpayers' Association. We do not believe that an unsightly, cement-block warehouse should be built within 50 feet of a schoolhouse, because we accept the fact that environment has much to do with moulding a child's life, and gazing continually at the blank wall of a warehouse isn't inspiring to a child in the Stearns School at Nonantum, any more than it would be to a child in the Angier, Bigelow, Burr, Day, Warren or Weeks Schools. And we believe that if it

Shirley Sentence For Auto Thief

Joseph Sheehy, 17, of Montfern ave., Brighton, was sentenced to Shirley Industrial School by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday. He appealed. Sheehy was one of three Brighton youths who stole a car owned by Mrs. Clara Horbitt of Ellison rd., Newton Centre on August 25. The others were Donald Hughes, 16, of Turner st., Brighton; and Albert Keefe, 16, 15 Montfern ave., Brighton. Hughes, who was the driver of the stolen car, was given a suspended sentence to Shirley. Keefe's case was continued. The trio were pursued along the Worcester pike by Patrolmen McCormick and Tobin in a police car, and the chase reached a speed of 85 miles. The automobile thieves abandoned the stolen car at the overpass near Centre st., and fled on foot. Patrolman McCormick caught one of the trio and he gave the names of the other two. According to Brighton police the youths were involved in the thefts of other automobiles. In the Horbitt car Patrolmen McCormick, Tobin and Hoyt found two allegedly stolen coats, and in a pocket of one of the coats was an identification pin issued by the Singer Sewing Machine Company. Inquiries by the Newton policemen revealed the fact that the coat and pin were in another stolen automobile, which had also contained an electric sewing machine valued at $109. Brighton police have been questioning the trio regarding the theft of this sewing machine, which was not in the other stolen car, when it was found abandoned sometime ago.

Pre-Fabricated House Answers Home Problem

A house, pre-fabricated in the shop but precision built to the customer's own specifications and design, is now on the market and is offered as the perfect solution to several vexatious building problems by the Lexington Lumber Company, of which Mrs. George E. Briggs is president. Mrs. Briggs, who has been managing the long-established Lexington firm since the death of her husband in 1930, is convincingly enthusiastic about the precision-built, pre-fabricated house as the answer to home ownership for the family of modest means. Mrs. Briggs already has a precision-built house ready for inspection off Watertown st., Route 2, Concord Turnpike. She first became convinced that pre-fabrication was the answer at a large lumber association meeting in New York. After considerable research, she became interested in the work of Mr. Bemis of the Bemis Bag Company, Watertown who designed a large table on which studs and rafters of a house can be cut accurately right at the lumber yard. Such a table is now part of the equipment at the huge Lexington Lumber company plant on Bedford st., Lexington. As soon as the foundation of a precision-built house is started, carpenters start making the sections for the house at the Lexington Lumber company plant. By the time the foundation is completed, so are the sections. The sections are moved to the building site and put together so that the house can be put up in three days, so far as bare walls, ceilings and rafters go. The builder then finishes off, lays floors, puts in doors, stairs, lintels, windows and window frames. The precision-built house can thus be completely built and finished inside of one month whereas it requires about three ordinarily.

Evans Is Fined For Profanity

David Evans, 30, of Robinhood rd., Auburndale was fined $5 in the Newton court on Saturday for using profanity. Patrolman Timothy Riley was the complainant against Evans. He testified that on the preceding night while he was off duty, he cautioned a man who kept pressing the pedestrian button at the traffic signal near Washington and Adams sts., Newton, unnecessarily stopping traffic. Evans butted in, told the other man not to give the policeman his name, and used profane language. When the cruising car came along with Patrolmen Concannon and Hickey, Patrolman Riley placed Evans under arrest and turned him over to the other policemen.

Warn Storekeepers on Bogus Payroll Checks

Local representatives of Boston Edison Company have warned storekeepers of the possible appearance of spurious payroll checks bearing the name Boston Edison Company. Three hundred of these bogus check forms were released to an unidentified person by a Boston printing shop last week. The bogus form is printed with black ink on mottled gray-green paper stock in direct contrast to the standard Edison payroll check printed with brown ink on buff stock. There are several other pronounced differences between the authentic and bogus check forms. Police throughout the Metropolitan area are on the watch for the counterfeit paper.

Newton Buick Men Back From Factory

Richard I. Dwyer, Treasurer of the Newton Buick Company, of 371 Washington st., Newton, Massachusetts, returned Tuesday after attending the largest field sales organization conference ever held by the Buick Motor division of General Motors in preparation for what company officials believe will be the biggest year in Buick history.

While at Flint, Mr. Dwyer inspected the new Buick models for 1940, and reported them outstanding in style, treatment and mechanical advances and the "hottest" line of new cars he has previewed in his twenty years in the automobile business here.

Other members of his organization who accompanied him to Flint included: A. D. Taylor, Ray P. Cunningham and Ray R. Boudreau.

"While details of the new cars are to be withheld until the public announcement date," said Mr. Dwyer, "it is no violation of confidence to say that two new Buick lines will be added for next year. We will thus have a Buick car to fit every need and every purse just above the lowest price field."

"While at Flint our Buick President, Harlow H. Curtice, told me that he has already made commitments totalling $10,000,000 for early production of new models and that between now and the close of the year more than 100,000 new cars are scheduled for production. This is by a wide margin the heaviest fall schedule in the history of the company, and is an indication of the demand anticipated when the new models are publicly shown."

"We also learned at Flint that advance orders placed for new 1940 Buick cars 'sight unseen' already total $15,000,000. Some of these orders were turned in by us and those people will be the first to get delivery of the new Buicks here in Newton, Mass."

"The Buick projection for the next twelve months calls for an output in excess of 240,000 cars, as compared with 208,000 in the highly successful 1939 model year. If the 1940 schedule is realized, the necessary expenditures for materials, wages and the like will pour upwards of 200,000,000 Buick dollars into the channels of national business."

"New models were already rolling down the assembly line at Flint when we were there, and every indication points to our having a large selection of cars on hand to assure prompt delivery by announcement day."

"As a result of our appraisal of the new models, we confidently expect to set new Buick records here in Newton during the next twelve months."

Car Breaks Hydrant, Driver Speeds Off

Monday night at 9:30 a large sedan ran into a hydrant on Fair Oaks ave., Newtonville, and the driver of the car then speeded away without reporting the collision to the police department as the law requires. Herman Lythgoe of 36 Fair Oaks ave. attempted to obtain the registration numbers on the car, but it had proceeded too far when he reached the street. An emergency crew from the water department was sent to the scene to replace the broken hydrant.

Law Breakers Active In Newton

D. Furden & Sons of Newton Centre reported to the police on Friday that windows in their plumbing shop at 25 Paul st. had been broken by boys who used slung shots.

In the Newton juvenile court last Friday three Newtonville boys, aged 12, 13 and 14 years, were charged with being delinquents. One of the trio stole a bicycle. He also stole $20 from clothing of workmen at the new branch library at Newtonville. The other two boys helped him spend it.

Three Auburndale boys were arraigned in the Newton juvenile court last Friday on complaints obtained by Serg. Galvin and Patrolman Cronin of the Metropolitan police. They were charged with having broken into the store on the reservation near the Weston bridge. They also admitted that they had broken into other stores at Auburndale. Judge Mayberry placed them on probation.

NEWTON ARCHERS HOST AT STATE TOURNEY

For the first time in ten years the Mass. State Archery Association held its annual championship tournament on the grounds of the Newton Archers on Labor Day. The weather was perfect and the eighty-eight Archers from all over the state voted it one of the best tournaments ever held by the association. Miss Thelma Phillips, a member of the local club, successfully defended her title of Mass. State Ladies' Champion. W. C. Shedd was high mass scorer for Newton finishing in third place. Adrian Matthews was fourth and B. J. Seaman sixth. Bob Goldich, Walter Kimmer and Geo. Skinner, 7th, 8th and 9th. In the Junior division Newton Juniors fared well, Scott Doten winning the Junior championship, also the Junior club (120 yards) and Newton Juniors taking five places.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Warner of Springfield served as Field Captain and Lady Paramount—they are affectionately known to archers all over the United States as "Ma" and "Pa" Warner. Mr. Reginald C. Garner, president of the Newton Archers, presented the prizes at the end of the shoot.

Mrs. Ruth Dick, secretary-treasurer of the State Association, was assisted in scoring by Mrs. Betty Peeling, president of the Waltham Archers. Mrs. Teresa Goldich, secretary-treasurer of the Eastern Archery Association, Mr. Henry S. C. Cummings, member of the Executive Board of the National Archery Association and vice president of the Newton Archers.

Geo. S. (Tad) Skinner received the improvement trophy—his score was 163 points better than last year.

Three Newton boys shot for the first time as full fledged seniors, Townsend Cushman, Jr., Phil Spofford and Bob Goldich all reached sixteen during the summer and tried their luck on the men's line.

Special range medals were awarded to Newton Archers as follows:
50 yards—Silver cup, Mrs. Grace Harrison, 238.
30 yards—Medal, Miss Rose Grove, land, 158.

50 yards—Medal, B. J. Seaman, 194.
60 yards—Medal (double) Bob Goldich, 281.

Juniors

50 yards—Medal, Letitia Doten, 135.
40 yards—Medal, Althea Goodwin, 148.

30 yards—Medal, Betsy Cushman, 160.

20 yards—Medal, "Sister" Pollard, 130.

The Newton Archers third quarterly shoot which would have been held Labor Day, will take place September 16th at two p. m. in connection with the Carroll P. Moulton handicap shoot.

PNEUMONIA

PNEUMONIA is a germ disease that develops quickly. Pneumonia does not always follow influenza or a cold, but lowered resistance may give pneumonia germs a better opportunity to lay hold. Pneumonia is an infection resulting from the pneumonia germ, in the lobes of the lungs.

Because, almost entirely, this pneumonia germ is combated by a substance manufactured in the body to resist this poison, maintain bodily resistance during winter months. If below par physically, consult your physician, for underlying organic causes. Healthy, full-blooded, nourished bodies rarely contract pneumonia, so the chief method of prevention is to keep up the blood count and bodily resistance, get plenty of rest, stay away from those who have "flu," colds or pneumonia and avoid allowing the body to become chilled.

The Treachery of PNEUMONIA calls for constant supervision of a competent physician, and experienced nursing.

Mr. Ramm was a Past Commander of Newton Post, A. L., and District Commander of the American Legion in Middlesex County. He was also a member of Newton Veterans' Council. He had been active in the movement which resulted in the building of the War Memorial at Newton City Hall. He was also a charter member of Waltham Lodge of Elks. His body laid in state in the hall of flags at the War Memorial from Monday until the funeral on Wednesday morning. Members of Newton Post, A. L., served as a guard of honor.

His funeral service was held on Wednesday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Forty members of Newton Post, A. L., under Commander John B. Foley, served as an escort from War Memorial Building to the church, and following the service marched to Newton Cemetery. The solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Donald Whalen. Among those present were Mr. Ramm's close friend, Ex-mayor Sinclair Weeks, Mayor Childs, and many prominent in veterans organizations. Six Past Commanders of Newton Post, A. L., served as pallbearers. The V. F. W. was represented by Commander Charles Marden, and the D. A. V. by Commander Roy Edwards. Burial was in the soldiers lot at Newton Cemetery, where committal prayers were read by Rev. Father Winn, and military honors were accorded by the drill team of Newton Post. Mr. Ramm leaves no near relatives.

Auburndale Man Injured In Crash

Edward E. Scribner, 35, of 234 Lexington st., Auburndale, was injured last Thursday night at Old Harbor Village. South Boston when the car he was driving was hit by a stolen car which was being pursued by policemen. Scribner received a brain concussion and was taken to Boston City Hospital. Last Friday he was removed to his home. Boston police arrested the alleged driver of the stolen car, Edmond Kientovics of South Boston.

Taxpayers

Over 200 cities in the United States, including Cambridge, Medford, Waltham, Haverhill, and Boston, have adopted Centralized Purchasing. In Newton each of the 22 departments purchases its own supplies and materials. The waste is obvious. As a result of our exhaustive study of purchasing methods in many cities we have submitted a recommendation to the Board of Aldermen for the adoption of an ordinance establishing a Central Purchasing Department which, if approved, will save approximately $50,000.00 a year.

In co-operation with the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' Association, Inc., we have opposed through our governor, senator and representatives, extravagance in the State Government.

Our Plans for 1940

The foregoing are but a few of the high spots in the work of the Association. We are simply presenting to the city government outside viewpoints based on studies of the operation of the City of Newton as compared with the experience of other cities. We appreciate the co-operation given us by Mayor Childs and the Board of Aldermen.

In 1938 we had 495 members—this year we have 1860 members—in 1940 we want 3,500 members—Membership campaign will begin September 18 and will end September 30.

We are studying other departments of City Government and will keep our membership advised of our recommendations when the studies have been completed.

Technical advice, research, and office expense cost money. Our only income is from membership dues paid by Newton taxpayers. If you like what the Newton Taxpayers' Association has accomplished on the limited funds at its disposal, forward the attached bill with your check, indicating the type of membership you want in the organization. Become a sustaining member at $5.00 per year if you can. If not, continue your membership anyway and send your remittance together with that of your wife and members of your family.

The Newton Taxpayers' Association is an aggressive, militant, wide-awake group of citizens interested in getting the most they can for every tax dollar by avoiding unnecessary municipal expense. Please don't wait for a solicitor to call—Help us to conserve time and money—Do your bit by mailing the attached bill with your dues in the enclosed envelope today.

Dutch Village

from the Chestnut Hill Associates who objected to the granting of the petition. He said that 16 homes in the vicinity are owned by members of the Chestnut Hill Associates. John Healey, an abuttor, also objected. He called attention to the fact that the Board of Aldermen had rejected a petition he had presented asking for a zoning change. Alderman Temperley stated that although the proposed venture might cost $150,000, if the tract were developed for house lots, residences built on it would be taxed for at least $200,000.

L. A. VanHusen of Prentice rd., Newton Centre, one of the leaders in the proposed enterprise, told the Aldermen that the "Dutch Village" would not be a Coney Island or "tin can tourist" place. He said that in addition to the first unit, a second unit costing $100,000 might be built.

Oppose Greenhouse Near Hospital

A hearing was held on Wednesday night by the Claims & Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen on the petition of Cyril Forbush for a permit to erect a greenhouse at 2101 Washington st., opposite Beacon st., Lower Falls. About a year ago Mr. Forbush was granted a permit to establish a nursery at that locus, which was formerly a gravel pit, and for years had been an eyesore.

The petition was opposed by several owners of nearby properties, who were represented by Harold Rogers. He told the committee that Forbush had promised as a condition to obtaining the permit for the nursery, that he would plant a row of trees along the edge of the property, and that he has failed to do so. He also stated that Forbush had failed to fill in a low area at the rear of the property, as he had allegedly promised to do. Forbush replied that he is filling the low spot as fast as he can.

Henry Corcoran, president of the Lower Falls Improvement Association, favored the petition. He said it has improved the appearance of the place.

16-Yr.-Old Driver Breaks Hydrant

Lyon P. Clark of 11 Irvington rd., Waban 16, already has, or had a license to operate an automobile. On Wednesday he lost his wallet, which contained his driving license and the car registration. On Thursday Lyon lost control of the car and the City of Newton lost a fire hydrant on Crofton rd., and also a large amount of water. In the collision Lyon received a cut on his scalp which was sewed at the Newton Hospital.

Lyon was reckless, but honest. He admitted to the police that the accident occurred as he attempted to steer the car with his knees while lighting a cigarette. Unfortunately, Crofton rd. is not smoothly surfaced enough for such a stunt, and the car swerved onto the hydrant. Lyon confessed to the police that his brother can eat while steering a car with his knees.

were planned to build a warehouse within 50 feet of the other schools listed here, the Taxpayers Association would not oppose the city spending $3500 or $4000 to protect these schools from the intrusion of such a warehouse. We believe in Taxpayers' Associations, but they should have the proper perspective.

We have been requested by an Auburndale woman to mention the fact that dogs which bite children are not always to blame. Referring to the many cases in this city of dogs biting children, she calls attention to the fact that many children tease dogs, or attempt to pet canines that resent such familiarity. It is suggested that parents warn children not to tease or pet strange dogs, or dogs not obviously of a friendly nature.

The tragic death of Michael Kearney, who was electrocuted while replacing a broken street light at Homer st. on Tuesday night, causes regret to the hundreds of friends he made during his long residence in Newton. "Mike" had a jovial, happy disposition. He was a great lover of horses and dogs, and on many a night in years gone by, Dr. Tom Gallagher, Mike and the writer were out in the country until the wee morning hours listening to the baying of the doctor's hounds as they chased foxes, a diversion which caused our acquaintances to question our common sense. Mr. Kearney's death should serve as a deterrent to those ill-trained or onerous youths and boys in Newton who wantonly break street lights. Every time an Edison man climbs a pole to replace a broken lamp, his life is to some degree, in danger.

A news despatch told of the arrival in New York on Monday of J. P. Morgan from his curtailed holiday in England and the Scottish moors. Mr. Morgan had departed hastily from his baronial estate in Scotland because of the war. Mr. Morgan was depicted as being in an amiable mood, and he also commented in answer to a question, that it would be a natural thing for Great Britain to appoint his firm as the fiscal and purchasing agent in the U. S. A. during the current war. Mr. Morgan was in an amiable mood, despite the fact that the war discommoded him—insofar as hunting grouse is concerned.

Football

Columbia, the Newton coach is a believer in up-to-date football. The forward pass will undoubtedly be a big factor in Newton's offensive although he stated that he did not plan to go overboard on it.

The forty-two candidates who have reported this week numbered among them only three regulars from last year's squad and three other lettermen. The remainder have had little experience, either on the 1938 varsity or intermediate and junior varsities. Weight also is noticeably lacking with the candidates of 180 pounds a rarity.

Captain Brooks Heath, 170-pound back, Walter Hurley, 150-pound speedster and captain-elect of hockey, and Bill Boyer, 200-pound tackle are the three regulars. Coach MacDowell has to work with. K. H. Fisher, 150, Tony Reznitz, 170, both backs, and John McNeill, 175, a tackle are the other trio with letters bringing the total of so-called veterans to an even half-dozen.

Other members of last year's varsity squad who have some experience are Joe Doherty, Don Garland and Francis Olivigni, backs; Louis Iacalone, end; John Doherty, Ray Holmes and Walter Imrey, guards; and David Hastie a centre. Another inveterate candidate, James Burns, is recovering from appendicitis.

The squad: Backs—Don Ashley, Augustus Avagnio, Joseph Beatty, Arthur Cornier, Kittredge Fisher, Don Garand, Capt. Brooks Heath, Gordon Hoson, Walter Hurley, Francis Olivigni, Anthony Reznitz, Frederick Wooruff, Kenneth Young.

Ends—Robert Beatty, Amelia Hanchi, John Brown, Jack Cohen, Norman Williams.

Tackles—William Boyer, Fred Friant, Allan Hugo, Francis Lene, John MacNeill, Robert Nardone, George Neagle, George Salmon.

Guards—John Doherty, Raymond Holmes, Walter Quirie, Irving Hoffman, Rocco Marzilli, Joseph Saulin, Phil Teschner.

Centers—Davis Hastie, Richard Lyons, William Ranknow, Robert Ross.

Mayor's Appointment Of Brown As Commr. Of Recreation Refused

Aldermen Refuse To Confirm Newtonville Man And Make Public Correspondence With Recreation Commission

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a vote of 16 to 2 rejected the appointment of Reginald W. Brown of Walnut st., Newtonville, to the newly created office of Recreation Commissioner. Brown's name was presented to the Board on August 21 in a communication from Mayor Childs as his appointee to the new office, the holder of which will be the executive head of the Recreation Department at a salary of $4000 per year. At that meeting it was pointed out that the Mayor had not consulted the members of the Recreation Commission, relative to Brown's appointment, although it was understood by the members of that committee that the Mayor had tacitly agreed to do this when earlier this year, the Mayor, the City Solicitor and members of the former Playground Commission conferred on the changes in the ordinance relative to the Playground Department.

Last Monday night the Aldermen held a recess of over three hours, much of which was devoted to a consideration of the Mayor's appointment of Mr. Brown. Prior to voting on the Brown appointment, the following correspondence between President Floyd of the Board of Aldermen, and Acting Chairman, Mrs. Terese Marshall of the Recreation Commission were read—

Mrs. Louis H. Marshall,
Acting Chairman of Playground Commission,
Newton, Massachusetts.

My dear Mrs. Marshall:
Those public-spirited citizens who give so freely of their time and abilities as members of the Recreation Commission are the ones best qualified to define the ideal type of person to conduct the activities of the department as the executive head. In considering confirmation of every appointee members of the Board of Aldermen seek all possible information. As Acting Chairman, will you be so good as to list the qualifications which you and your fellow members deem essential for the one who will direct the work of the Recreation Department. It will be most helpful in our deliberations.

Will Not Remove Pearl Ct. Barrier

As the GRAPHIC goes to press we are informed by Alderman Maxwell Gaddis, chairman of the Street Traffic Committee, that he had conferred with Mayor Childs relative to the published report that the stone barrier would be removed on Monday from the Washington st. end of Pearl ct., and automobiles permitted to enter the parking space through the narrow alley. The Mayor told Mr. Gaddis that the barrier would not be removed. Mr. Gaddis and his fellow members on the committee, all opposed such use of the alley, and the Street Department is also opposed to the removal.

Cullen Hearing to Start Sept. 25th

Starting Monday, September 25, hearings will be held by Alexander Lincoln who was appointed by the Supreme Court as master to hear evidence and decide on facts in the matter of the removal of Bart Cullen of Lindbergh ave., West Newton, as a member of the Newton police department. Cullen, who was formerly sergeant-mechanic in the Newton police department ceased to draw a salary on July 1 because the Board of Aldermen voted to abolish the office when they declined to make an appropriation for its continuance in the 1939 budget. Cullen, through his attorney, Francis X. Hurley, entered petitions for writs of mandamus against Mayor Childs and Chief of Police Hughes, alleging that his removal was not in accordance with law, and demanding his reinstatement because of his alleged seniority rating as a sergeant in the department. It is expected that many will be summoned to testify at the hearings and that the testimony will take a (Continued on Page 8)

Former Harvard Athlete Killed In Newton Car Crash

Henry J. McGuinness, Jr., 31, of 82 Hobart st., Brighton, a former Harvard baseball star, was instantly killed this morning at 2:14 when the car he was driving crashed into an electric light pole on Washington st., at the corner of Centre ave., Newton. The car after hitting the pole careened into a fire alarm box near Engine 1 house, and was so wrecked that the members of Engine 1 company, awakened by the crash, had to use a crowbar to extricate the body of McGuinness from the wreckage. The body was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance, and it was found that McGuinness had received a broken neck, fractured skull and internal injuries.

Thomas Faga, 26, of 18 Brackett st., Brighton, who was riding with McGuinness, was dangerously injured. His right ear was torn off. It was found at the scene of the accident, taken to the hospital and sewed onto Faga again. His name was placed on the danger list. When the accident occurred the car was proceeding toward Newton Corner. McGuinness was chosen as an all-scholastic baseball player while attending Boston Latin School. He played on the Harvard College baseball nine in 1929 and later in the Twilight League. He was a salesman for the Horace Partridge Company. His father, a mailer in the employ of the Boston Globe, was notified of the tragedy while at work.

McGuinness' death was the fourth automobile fatality in Newton so far this year.

There Will Be No Dutch Village on Pike at Chest. Hill

By a unanimous vote the Board of Aldermen on Monday night turned down the petition of Augustino Onofrio and others asking that 8 1/2 acres of land abutting the Worcester turnpike between Hammond Pond parkway and Florence st., Newton Centre be changed from a private residence zone to a business zone, so that a restaurant, overnight cabins and apartment house might be built there. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee stated that this traffic artery to avoid business areas in towns between Boston and Worcester will be defeated.

The Board also held a hearing on the petition of Raymond DeRubeis for a permit to install two tanks for the storage of fuel oil at his property, 78 Craft st., James P. Gallagher, attorney for DeRubeis stated that tanks of 12,000 gallons capacity were asked for, instead of 20,000 as previously wanted. He said that the revised petition meets with the approval of the chief of the Fire Department, that the owners of properties nearby favor the petition, and that Mr. DeRubeis has greatly improved the property since he obtained a permit for a gasoline station last year.

Change in Phone Rates Postponed

The Department of Public Utilities has announced that the effectiveness of proposed changes in telephone rates for the West Newton area, filed several months ago by the New Eng. Tel. & Tel. Co. will be suspended for thirty days. This is the third suspension of these changes. The Commission reports that due to the necessity of arriving at a decision in the case of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company next week that sufficient consideration could not be given the telephone matter.

The proposed changes, while slightly increasing the base rate of certain classes of phone service for West Newton would provide for a 5-cent call to Boston and would treat Newton as one unit area as to rates.

Aldermen Cannot Stop Night Work At Security Mill

The petition of about 50 persons residing near the Security Mill at Monroe st., Newtonville, asking the Board of Aldermen to prohibit all night operation of the mill, was given leave to withdraw at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night. The petitioners affirmed that they are not able to sleep because of the noise of machinery at the mill during late night and early morning hours. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims & Rules Committee told the Aldermen that the committee had been advised by the City Solicitor that the Board had no authority to order the mill to cease its all night work, and that the only redress the neighbors have is through legal action as individuals. He called attention to the fact that the mill property was placed in a manufacturing zone, due to the fact that it was under process of erection before the zoning ordinance was passed in 1922.

Alderman McCabe, who lives about 300 yards from the mill, was the only member to vote against giving the petition leave to withdraw. He said that the Newton Health Department should have power to stop the operation of the mill during night hours, as this work prevented neighbors from sleeping and lack of sleep affects one's health. McCabe said that if the mill were located in other parts of the city, the Aldermen would find a way to stop the all-night work there.

Fewer Pupils In Public Schools

The number of pupils who registered at the opening of Newton public schools on Monday was 11,469, or 246 less than on the opening day in 1938. Of this decrease 238 was in the elementary schools, with the junior high schools showing a decrease for the first time. At the high school, however, 57 more pupils registered than on the first day last year. However, an accurate estimate of comparative attendance cannot be made until next week as all of the pupils have not returned from their summer homes. There has been a reduction of 15 in the number of teachers in the Newton public schools, in addition to a reduction of 5 in other employees. Supt. of Schools Warren estimates a savings of $50,000 will result.

The new Lincoln-Eliot School on Pearl st. will not be occupied for school purposes until Monday, November 6. In the meantime, pupils assigned to this school are back at the old Lincoln and Eliot schools.

Newton Men To Serve on Jury

Seven Newton residents were drawn to serve as jurors at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night. They are Frank Robert, 77 Westchester rd., Newton; Harold Janks, 54 Elm rd., Newtonville, for criminal session at Cambridge starting October 2; Charles Marden, 254 Eliot st., Upper Falls; Chester Hervey, Harvard cir., Newtonville; William Egan, 137 Allerton rd., Newton Highlands; Herbert Wyman, 200 Parmenter rd., West Newton; Fred Prior, 354 Wolcott st., Auburndale, for civil session at Lowell starting October 2.

Commander Hunt started in the floor covering business with Jordan Marsh Company in 1892 and remained with this concern twenty-five years and is now sales representative covering New England for a New York wholesale floor-covering firm. He is a member of several Masonic and Military organizations, as well as the Boston Rotary Club, married and has one daughter who was three years of age when he entered the army.

Taxpayer's Association Opens Membership Drive

Urges Citizens To Join In Support of Efforts

Having just completed a most gratifying year the Newton Taxpayers' Association has just announced its annual membership drive which will be held September 18-30. Present members have already received a report of last year's activities, a prospectus of this year's plans, and a bill covering the "sustaining" membership of $5.00 or "individual" membership of $10.00. A large percentage have already assisted the Association by renewing their membership by mail, making personal calls by our solicitors unnecessary, and many more are signing up daily.

Beginning September 18, every taxpayer will be called upon and invited to share in the activities of this civic organization whose sole purpose is to cooperate with the City government in finding ways and means of reducing the tax burden.

Newton's tax rate for 1939 is $39.20, the same as last year's, and Mr. C. B. Jones, President of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, is confident that recent recommendations based on scientific study of departments in other cities similar to Newton can and will result in a lower tax rate for Newton next year.

To substantiate his opinion Mr. Jones tells us that in May the firm of Thompson & Lichtner Company, incorporated, was engaged for the purpose of making a study of the Street Department. Mr. Sanford E. Thompson, President of the Company, submitted a report recommending a modern simple system for Cost Accounting. This report was submitted to Mayor Childs and representatives of the City Government and all agreed that the proposal by Mr. Thompson was not only desirable but absolutely necessary, in order that the Street Commissioner could know something about the cost of various methods of procedure. Mr. Thompson advised that he could guarantee a saving of $20,000. This is a very conservative figure and the saving should amount to $60,000 a year or approximately 10% of the operating payroll.

Another example: On August 21, the Taxpayers' Association presented to the Board of Aldermen a recommendation for the adoption of a Central Purchasing Department. At the present time twenty-two departments of the City are purchasing materials and supplies for their department. This of necessity results in lost time, waste, and inefficiency. This proposal has been referred by the Board of Aldermen to a committee and in a short time there will be a public hearing on the question.

Through their various connections the Association has been able to secure the services of experts trained in municipal and business management and the accomplishments to date are indicative of what may be expected in the future.

While these studies and services are not expensive they do require some funds and if the people of Newton believe in efficiency in government and want to save taxes they should get behind the Taxpayers' Association on these questions and aid the work by becoming members at once. The Newton Taxpayers' Association is located at 1357 Washington st., West Newton.

Newton Graphic,
Gentlemen:

We will appreciate your publishing the following correction: "We wish to correct the impression that we are sponsoring or are connected in any way with a movement to organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce in Newton."

Yours sincerely,

COMMERCE,

Secretary.

Arthur Hunt Heads Newton Post A. L.

At the annual election of officers held last night, Arthur A. Hunt of Auburndale was elected Commander of Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, without opposition.

His military service started when he enlisted in the 1st Regiment Coast Artillery Corps, Massachusetts National Guard, in March 1915, at the age of 40; giving a fictitious age of 34 years, 35 being the limit at that time. He served overseas as Ammunition Sergeant of Battery B, 65th Artillery, C.A.C. using 155M guns, taking part in four major engagements. On his return from France he re-enlisted in the new Coast Artillery Regiment being formed, shortly after being commissioned Captain in Ordnance Dept. by Calvin Coolidge, then Governor.

Commander Hunt started in the floor covering business with Jordan Marsh Company in 1892 and remained with this concern twenty-five years and is now sales representative covering New England for a New York wholesale floor-covering firm. He is a member of several Masonic and Military organizations, as well as the Boston Rotary Club, married and has one daughter who was three years of age when he entered the army.

Mayor Childs To Run Again. James Waters Is Also A Candidate

Other Mayoralty Candidates May Enter Field Soon—Several Announce Candidacies For Aldermanic Contests

James A. Waters of Aberdeen st., Newton Highlands, a well known Newton attorney has issued the announcement that he will be a candidate for Mayor. Mr. Waters in his statement says:

"Rejecting the advice of some of my best friends, I have decided to become a candidate for the office of Mayor of Newton at the election to be held on November 7, 1939. In fact, I decided on this course in the spring of this year when the City was faced with a possible increase of at least $2.00 in the tax rate. Fortunately, Governor Saltonstall was able to divert this additional burden from real estate by compelling the Legislature to impose $21,000,000 additional taxes on cigarettes, liquor, dog racing, etc. But this is only a temporary expedient. It imposes additional taxes on our citizens, it in no way represents economy in government, and, unless our citizens are aroused to the dangers of extravagant, wasteful spending by our elected officials, local tax rates will in the near future again be increased to meet ever increasing costs of government.

My candidacy for Mayor is the most effective protest which I, individually, can make against increasing taxation.

I realize that our City Government did a good job this year in reducing the annual budget. But, I believe that further economies can and must be made.

I can assure my friends and fellow citizens that my campaign for the office of Mayor will be conducted with fairness and dignity, upon a constructive program of affirmative issues, utterly devoid of personalities, so that win or lose, I shall at least retain the respect of all good citizens, and, what is more important to me, my own self-respect."

Mr. Waters statement was given yesterday to the press for publication. Also yesterday Mayor Edwin O. Childs announced that he will again be a candidate for re-election next November. Mr. Childs was first elected Mayor in 1913 and served from January 1, 1914 to December 31, 1930. He did not enter the contest for the office against Sinclair Weeks in 1929, and Mr. Weeks served from 1930 until 1936, inclusive. Mr. Childs again became a candidate in 1935, was elected and has served from January 1, 1936 to date. He is now serving his 20th year as Mayor.

The entrance of Mr. Waters and Mr. Childs into the contest makes a total of three mayoralty candidates to date: Paul M. Goddard having announced his candidacy three months ago. It is not improbable that there will be more candidates, as the names of some prominent men have been mentioned, and it is known that they have been giving serious consideration to the requests of their friends.

Robert Whidden to Run for Alderman

Robert A. Whidden of 83 Bonad rd., West Newton, has announced his candidacy for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3. Mr. Whidden has been a life-long resident of Newton. He is at present a member of the Planning Board, chairman of the executive committee of the Newton Hospital, President of the West Newton Men's Club, and has always been active in civic affairs.

Maynard Hutchinson, present Alderman-at-Large from Ward 3, will not be a candidate for re-election.

Candidates For Board of Aldermen

John J. Maguire of 146 Crafts st., Newtonville, has announced that he will be a candidate for Ward Alderman from Ward 2. He was born in Newton 25 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Maguire. He is a graduate of Our Lady's High School and Suffolk Law School.

It is understood that most of the members of the present Board of Aldermen will be candidates for re-election.

Eugene A. Cronin of 33 Henshaw st., West Newton, has announced his intention to run as a candidate for Ward Alderman in Ward 3, West Newton. He is 24 years of age, a graduate of Newton High School, and has been employed at the New England Tiro Company, West Newton. He has been active in Community Chest drives. The present Ward Alderman from Ward 3 is Kenneth C. Tiffin of Prospect st. He will probably be a candidate for re-election.

More Vandalism In This City

To the many acts of vandalism which have been committed the past year in this city, apparently by boys, were added two more, reported to Newton police last Saturday. Five panes of glass were broken at the Eliot Congregational Church on Church st., Newton. The panes were in a protective window in front of a very valuable stained glass window, and had the missiles been hurled with a little more velocity, the large stained glass window would also have been broken.

On the same day the police were notified that three panes of glass had been broken in the new Eliot-Lincoln School at Pearl st. and Jackson rd., Newton.

Boston & Albany officials complained to the Newton police last Saturday that another train had been stoned while passing under the bridge at Washington st. near the Woodland Golf Club, and windows in the cars broken. This has happened numerous times in the past at this bridge.

Automobile Accidents

Cars driven by William Dacey of Dorchester and Ernest Scott of West Roxbury collided at Brookline and Vine sts., Oak Hill, at 8.10 a. m. Monday. Dacey's car hit a stone wall and Dorothy Ellis of Leonard st., Dorchester, who was riding with him, received cuts on her head and face when she hit the windshield. She was taken to the Newton Hospital in a car which happened along.

Wilfred Ash, 22, of 66 Evans st., Watertown, was seriously injured early Monday morning when the car he was driving hit a pole on Chestnut st., Waban, and overturned. Mason Stone Jr., of Broomfield rd., Newton, who came along in his car, observed the wrecked automobile. Aided by other motorists who happened along, Stone extricated Ash from the tipped-over car. Ash, badly injured, smoked cigarettes in the meantime, although suffering intensely. After he had been removed from his wrecked car, Ash collapsed. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and was found to have a dislocated collarbone, broken ribs and chest injuries. He said that the brakes on his car locked, causing it to swerve into the pole.

The play was given for the benefit of the scholarship fund. This scholarship fund is to be a yearly award to the student from this community whose scholarship achievements merit it.

This year the award goes to Mr. Lester G. Houston, who graduated in June of this year and was one of the recipients of the coveted Lieut. Stafford L. Brown scholarships at Newton High school. Mr. Houston plans to enter Howard University at Washington, D. C., this fall.

The ushers were Eleanor Lee, Alice Hill and Leahora Turner.

New England Conference In Vermont

Mrs. Albert E. Chittenden, of Auburn, Me., president of the New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Merrill F. Proctor, of Ludlow, Vt., as general chairman for the Annual Convention of the New England group to take place in Vermont September 27, 28, and 29.

She has announced also the change in the convention meeting-place from Burlington, Vt., to Manchester, Vt., which is noted as a scenic mountain resort in the southern part of the state. This will be the second time that Manchester, popular as a convention town, for this reason and others, has been host to the Conference.

Mrs. Proctor and her co-workers have arranged for the convention to open at 2 o'clock on September 27 at the Equinox House, where some of the estimated 500 delegates from the six states will be housed, and where all sessions will be held.

As tentatively worked out the program includes a Twilight Hour at the conclusion of the first afternoon's program, to be followed by a Banquet and Reception in honor of officers of the Conference, and of Mrs. Lucy Dickenson of Keene, N. H., second vice-president of the General Federation.

Mrs. Frank M. Wright of Windsor, Vt., Conference vice-president, has completed her program for a Round Table in which each of the state presidents takes part, their addresses being based on the Conference theme, "The New England of Tomorrow—As Thou Wilt."

The state presidents and their topics are: Mrs. Eva C. Mason, of Dover, Foxcroft, Me., "Conserve Her Natural Beauty"; Mrs. Frederick B. Preston, of Manchester, N. H., "Promote Her Industrial Life"; Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of Winchester, Mass., "Maintain Her Educational Advantages"; Mrs. Laura Hale Gorton, of Glastonbury, Conn., "Preserve Her Religious Heritage"; Mrs. Frederick H. Devere, of Auburn, R. I., "Encourage Her Cultural Progress"; and Mrs. Earle Brown, of White River Junction, Vt., "Safeguard Her Splendid Youth."

Many Massachusetts clubwomen will avail themselves of this opportunity to travel into the mountains during the September days, enjoying autumn foliage while en route to this opening event of the Club season.

The rescued passengers were 11 days on the little freighter, which had accommodations ordinarily for only its crew of 26 and 8 passengers. Miss Forte, who graduated from Simmons in 1937, is a teacher of quacking at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, was met at Halifax by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Rotary Club

James P. Reynolds, director of Welfare in the city of Newton, and a member of the Newton Rotary Club, addressed his fellow members on Monday at the regular noon meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club. Mr. Reynolds was the third speaker in a series of talks on social welfare and relief. He was introduced by Lyscomb A. Bruce, Jr.

Mr. Reynolds stated that obviously the greatest single factor in welfare aid is the unemployment question. Were jobs available there would be a drop of 70 to 80 per cent in welfare figures. He stated that during 1938 the city of Newton expended $666,000 in all forms of public welfare. Of this sum the Federal and State governments and other cities and towns, reimbursed Newton to the extent of $252,000 making the net cost for support of those in need $414,000.

There are three major forms of aid: old age assistance, aid for dependent children, and temporary aid. To a great extent the Federal and State governments reimburse the cities and towns in the first two cases. Temporary aid is granted by both cash and food orders. Rent, food, gas and electricity are thus covered while fuel and clothing are supplied separately.

Every able bodied man receiving relief works from two to four days per week in return for assistance granted. At present there are 610 persons on the local lists. Investigators for the department have curtailed the few instances of "chiseling" to a minimum and most of these individual cases are well-known to the investigators.

The public welfare department is assisted and supplemented by various private organizations such as the Family Service Bureau, the Catholic charities and others. All cases are cleared through the Social Service Index maintained by the Community Chest, preventing the possibility of duplicate aid and effort.

Hyslop's left leg hit a stone post, inflicting a deep wound.

Now that you are getting your boys ready for school, remember that flannel blouses and anything suitable for wear by boys 11 to 14 years of age, can be used at Pine Farm School, Waban. A postcard addressed to Benjamin Morre, superintendent, with your address, will insure a call, if you cannot deliver the clothing at the school.

The boys are cautioned not to make so much noise on the baseball grounds at Newton Highlands. Otherwise, it will be declared a nuisance by occupants of adjoining premises.

Newton Graphic, Sept. 6, 1884

Deacon Bacon and family returned from Magnolia on Thursday. He is looking several years younger for his respite from care.

Deacon John Warner and wife have returned from a month's vacation among the granite hills of New Hampshire, looking hale and hearty.

Deacon Eddy and family returned from Great Head Beach where they spent the summer; all much improved in health.

The Boston & Albany railroad has put up a high board fence between Centre and Washington sts., on the North side of the tracks, and from near St. James st. bridge toward the marsh.

The good sense of delaying the opening of schools for a week has been well proved. Mr. Elliott from this district, the hottest of the summer, the thermometer running into the 90s almost daily. The scholars will be far better off when they begin work next Monday.

Women who wish to vote for the School Committee should remember that they can register without paying a poll tax if they have paid a property tax this year or last year. Those who did not pay such a tax must apply to the Assessors on or before September 15, to be assessed a poll tax of 50 cents. After paying such a tax they can register to vote this year, and next year also.

Ward 1 delegates to the Republican senatorial convention favor William P. Ellison as Senator from this district. Mr. Ellison wishes us to say that, while grateful for the kind expression of confidence in him, he must decline being a candidate, and hopes his friends will use their influence in favor of Thomas Westcott, who for two years past has faithfully served in the House of Representatives.

The first yearly course of free scientific lectures provided for in the will of the late Charles A. Read, will be given the coming winter. The suggestion has been made and received with general favor, that Professor Henshaw of Amherst College be engaged to give his course of lectures on spectrum analysis. In that branch of science, Professor Henshaw stands at the head.

A large number of people walked up Newtonville ave. last Sunday to view the sidewalk and judge its condition. We overheard one remark that if the city had harvested the grass and weeds growing on the sidewalk and in the gutter, and applied proceeds of sale, it would go some way toward building a retaining wall.

Patrolman Henthorn has been laid up in consequence of trying to stop a runaway horse on Lowell st., Newtonville, last Monday. He was standing beside the carriage in which he had driven up from Newton with J. C. Kennedy, when a passerby in a buggy snapped his whip and started Mr. Kennedy's horse. Jim caught the reins and hung on bravely, being knocked down by the hub striking his knee, and dragged along the road until the reins parted, leaving him with his face and hands fearfully torn. Mr. Kennedy stopped the horse before more damage was done.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

The present European war has provided a new "pet word" which the "A. P." men overseas have adopted, and which U. S. A. newswriters and radio announcers have copied to such an extent that the writer, and we suppose a large percentage of the American people have become bored, reading and hearing it so often. This word is "communique." Why not use the good, old English words—"despatch," "statement," or "announcement," once in a while. The Germans don't "communique." They issue an "Ankündigung," a "Kund," "Nachricht," a "Aussendsetzung," or some other short Teutonic word. Certainly the Poles don't "communique." We won't attempt to give any Polish words.

Young men of the present generation are naturally disturbed over the prospect of the U. S. A. becoming involved in the wholesale slaughter which is underway in Europe. And we don't blame them. Their relatives, particularly their mothers, are also worried. Likewise their sweethearts. If history repeats itself, the number of marriages in this country will greatly increase during the next year.

Young men who have been keeping company with girls, but who have been slow in proposing, are apt to pop the question now. Married men, you know, are less apt to be drafted than single men. If our government uses common sense, none of our young men will be drafted. This country should not repeat the mistake it made in 1917. We will need all our manpower in future years on this side of the Atlantic, and this side of the Pacific, to keep the Western hemisphere safe for democracy.

The declaration of war against Germany by Canada, and the re-declaration by President Roosevelt of his pledge to protect Canada against aggression by any foreign power, other than Britain, creates a very ticklish situation. It is not probable that Germany will attempt any attacks on Canada. But, if Russia enters the war as an ally of Germany, it is more than probable that it might send airplanes over the Arctic area to attack Canada.

If Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long has been quoted correctly in the newspapers recently, both regarding his statement that automobiles coming into Massachusetts from New Hampshire will be searched for liquor, and also that anyone who rolls his own (or her own) cigarettes is a manufacturer and must pay a $25 fee, some friend of Mr. Long's ought to tell that gentleman to come down to earth. Mr. Long, who has been a competent official heretofore, probably has certain authority as Tax Commissioner, but he is neither Adolf Hitler nor Joseph Stalin, and the Constitution of the United States still provides reasonable freedom for citizens of this country, including those of Massachusetts. Mr. Long seems to be taking himself too seriously.

We are reminded frequently that some Chinaman invented gunpowder about 650 A. D., but the Chinese never used it except for making firecrackers, until "Christian" Europeans showed them how to use it in death-dealing weapons. I doubt that the Chinese, who loves that the "heaven Chinese" were more peacefully inclined than the allegedly superior white race.

Citizens of Newton will approve the action of Judge Mayberry in fining a 19 year old West Newton youth $5 for unnecessarily turning on the pedestrian lights in the traffic signal on Washington st. at Adams st., thus stopping without reason the heavy traffic on Washington st. In fact, Newton citizens would have approved a more severe penalty. The traffic signals placed on Washington st. at Adams and Jewett sts., were installed after years of agitation, as a result of a number of pedestrians having been killed at these two spots. One argument offered against the installation of these signals was—that they would be operated unnecessarily by children, thus interfering with vehicular traffic and even causing collisions. Happily, the boys and girls, on the whole, have cooperated by not fooling with these signals. But, some grown-ups, including the youth fined in court last Monday, have exhibited lack of common-sense or appreciation of traffic hazards by needlessly operating the pedestrian signal. It also meets with public approval that the West Newton man who interfered when Patrolman Riley admonished Houston, was penalized for making trouble.

The announcement on Wednesday by James A. Waters of Newton Highlands that he will be a candidate for Mayor at the November election, hastened, in the opinion of the writer, the announcement of Mayor Childs that he will be a candidate for another term. A few months ago Representative Paul M. Goddard announced that he would be a candidate for Mayor. Mr. Childs, as has been his custom during many times he ran for re-election, refused to state, whether or not he would run again, when questioned during the earlier months of the year. The only exception to this practice of Mr. Childs was in 1935 when the writer prevailed

There have been rumors extant for months that several candidates would be in the field against Mr. Childs. Undoubtedly the Mayor has heard these rumors, but, as usual he awaited developments. With Mr. Waters' positively in the battle, probably the Mayor deemed it expedient to announce his candidacy without further delay. This announcement may deter other candidates. And it may not.

The proposal to remove the granite post at the Washington st. end of Pearl st. to allow automobiles to enter the parking area from that end, will meet with the disapproval of hundreds of residents of Newton Corner, including Wards 1 and 7. In past years when comparatively few automobiles entered or left Pearl st. through the narrow, blind entrance at Washington st., accidents resulted, and pedestrians were injured. As a result, when after years of agitation for a parking space at Newton Corner, Phillips Byfield, formerly agent of the R. C. Taylor Estate, succeeded a couple of years ago in starting negotiations between Mr. Taylor and the city, which resulted in the establishment of the parking area there, it was specifically agreed by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, and with the approval of the Chief of Police, that there should be no entering or leaving by automobiles going to or coming from the parking space by that end of Pearl st. at Washington st.

The responsibility for such a change will rest squarely on the shoulders of Mayor Childs. The Chief of Police is opposed to such a change. Alderman Gaddis, chairman of the Traffic Committee, is opposed to it. Members of the Board of Aldermen from Wards 1 and 7, the Newton Corner Wards, were not consulted, neither were the people of Newton Corner asked to express their opinions on this matter. The parking space has been extensively used since it was established. It could be used more and should be. But lazy persons who park their cars on Washington st. instead of using the parking area, will continue to do so, even with an entrance at Washington st. And a number who have been doing this are not customers of Newton Corner merchants. They are persons who themselves have business places at Newton Corner. The safety of Newton Corner residents, the safety of the hundreds of small children who daily pass by the Washington st. end of Pearl court, is of more importance than any doubtful effort to increase the use of the parking area.

Ray Houston, 19, of 23 Douglas st., West Newton, was fined $5 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Monday for disorderly conduct. Patrolman Timothy Riley, the complainant, told the judge that a few nights previously he had observed Houston repeatedly pressing the pedestrian button operating the signal light at the corner of Washington and Adams sts., thus unnecessarily stopping the heavy traffic along Washington st. When the policeman asked Houston to give his name, the latter refused on the advice of David Evans, 30, of 1 Robbino rd., Auburndale, who butted in. Riley then placed Evans under arrest when he used profane language.

Evans, who has been in the Newton court a number of times on various charges, was fined $5 in that court, September 2 for his conduct when he interfered in the Houston case. He was given a few days to pay the fine, failed to do so, and was again brought into court last Monday together with Houston. Asked by Judge Mayberry why he had told Houston not to give his name to the policeman, Evans replied that Houston "had committed no crime." The volunteer legal adviser, not having the money to pay his fine, was committed to the county jail at East Cambridge for 10 days.

The Old Game

The price of chickens has been boosted—although the place where they have roosted is separated by an ocean from all this foreign war commotion. And other items for our plates—all raised in these United States, with no connection with the fight. Democracy may be all right, but we'll take issue with the goop who says we don't jump through the hoop just like the Nazis and such strings.

No boost in prices at the modern upholstery shop of J. J. Chaisson, 44 Centre Ave. But we are always on the lookout for new ways and means to boost the quality of our workmanship and materials. After spending 12 years in the employ of Joseph Renk it is easy to see that we are not lacking in experience.

It was the view of the aldermen present at a meeting of the committee of the whole that great weight would be given any opinions expressed by the members of the commission individually or collectively.

Sincerely,
(Signed) CHARLES B. FLOYD,
President of the Board of Aldermen.

September 1, 1939.

Mr. Charles B. Floyd,
President of the Board of Aldermen,
Newton, Massachusetts.

Dear Mr. Floyd:

In reply to your request that I list the qualifications which our Recreation Commission deem essential for the one who will direct the work of the Recreation Department, may I say that at a recent meeting of the Commission with three members present, one absent, it was the unanimous belief of those present that the qualifications which I am enclosing are the requisite ones for a Recreation Commissioner who is to direct the work of the Department.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) TERESE C. MARSHALL,
(Mrs. Louis H.)
Acting Chairman of Playground Commission.

The list of qualifications which Mrs. Marshall presented, and which, it is understood coincide with the specifications devised by the National Recreation Association, was quite lengthy. It included the following requirements:

Education

Graduation from a university or college of recognized standing, preferably with special training in recreational administration, physical education, economics, public administration, educational administration, community organization and personnel management, and also preferably participation in such extra curricular activities as sports, athletics, dramatics, glee clubs.

Experience

A minimum of seven years' previous recreation positions prescribed as follows:

- (1) For at least two years immediately preceding appointment the applicant shall have held an executive recreation position such as Commissioner of Recreation, Assistant Commissioner of Recreation, or other position of comparable responsibility.
- (2) An additional five seasons in recreational positions of a responsible nature.

Special

A thorough knowledge of the development of public recreation movement; appreciation of the varied activities making up a well rounded community recreation program; ability to enlist the best efforts of a staff of employees.

Health

Good physical condition, as certified by a competent registered physician.

In addition to the qualifications printed herewith, the list submitted by Mrs. Marshall contained 15 specifications of activities and procedure which the Recreation Commissioner should accomplish. These include the largest possible use of playgrounds and community centers, providing capable directors and adequate equipment for playgrounds, securing of buildings for community centers, helping neighborhood groups to relate themselves, developing the popular outdoor and indoor sports, co-operation with school authorities, giving young people opportunities for handicraft, helping in dramatics, pageants and concerts; co-operating with police, library and probation departments; keep city government and public informed about what department is doing.

At their meeting held last week, members of the Recreation Department expressed surprise that the Mayor had not conferred with them before appointing Mr. Brown. They also praised the work done the past summer by F. Ewing Wilson, who had been appointed by Mayor Childs as Acting Recreation Commissioner.

Alderman Temperley was excused from voting on the appointment. Alderman Ashenden and Inches were absent.

The Newton Recreation Commission held a meeting last Friday night which was attended by Mrs. Theresa Marshall, acting chairman; George Kellar and Irving Paul. The members passed a resolution commending the work of F. Ewing Wilson as Acting Superintendent of Playgrounds during the past summer. The resolution called attention to the fact that Mr. Wilson did a fine job although the playground budget had been cut considerably. The members stated that they were surprised that they had not been consulted by Mayor Childs before he appointed a Recreation Commissioner, as they had been given to understand that the Mayor would confer with them before he appointed anyone.

The playground is not properly accessible, and the feeling throughout the city is that the money expended at the Cold Spring area was largely wasted, and might have been spent to much better advantage on other projects.

Rubeis property, objected to the petition. He stated that there is an average of 6 children in each of the houses his family owns, and the storage of the fuel oil would be a hazard to them. He also stated it would decrease the value of the houses, which are assessed for $16,000. Michael Maguire said that the storage of fuel oil so near the houses would be like living on top of a volcano, and the tenants in the houses are objecting against the storage of the fuel oil. Mr. Maguire said DeFubeis got the gasoline permit last year and now wants a permit for fuel oil. He compared the situation to "what is going on in Poland." The matter was referred to the Licenses Committee.

"SO CALLED" The COMMON COLD

We again run up against "Lowered Resistance" when discussing "Colds."

It can not be emphasized too strongly that healthy, full-blooded bodies stand the best chance of keeping free of colds and influenza. If run-down and susceptible to frequent colds, see your physician. There may be some drain on your system that can be quickly and easily overcome.

When colds are prevalent, build yourself up by resting at least eight hours every night; eat regularly and keep the system open; drink plenty of water—and keep away from crowds and people who have colds. Should you contract a severe cold, stay in bed, and should you have a temperature, consult your doctor.

RECENT DEATHS

HELEN C. TAYLOR

Mrs. Helen C. (Payne) Taylor of 238 Grant ave., Newton Center, widow of Bertrand E. Taylor, died on September 9. She was born in Plainfield, Connecticut, 79 years ago and had resided in Newton Center for 56 years. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. A. M. Stone and Miss Dorothy Taylor, both of Newton Center, and Miss Marjorie Taylor of Milwaukee; and two sons, Clifford Taylor of Indianapolis and Aldrich Taylor of Lancaster, Massachusetts. Mrs. Taylor's funeral service was held on Monday afternoon in the chapel of the First Church, Newton Centre; Rev. Morrison Boynton officiated. Interment was in Newton Cemetery.

With the death of Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor (Helen C.) on September ninth Newton lost one of its best friends and benefactors. Coming here fifty-six years ago when her late husband was the architect of the first buildings of the Newton Hospital, she gave of herself so unstintingly that her wise counsel and assistance have been felt in very many fields of service for the community.

While President of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs she discovered and helped to meet many civic needs. From the formation of the Family Service Bureau she has been its wise counselor and inspiration, doubtless contributing far more than any other to its successful administration.

She was a devoted member of the First Church of Newton and actively interested in the Hospital Aid Association and the Newton Center Woman's Club.

For eighteen years she served as trustee of the Walter E. Fernald State School.

But dearer to her than all of her other varied interests was her home circle which now includes five children, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. She was, above all, a devoted mother and home maker. Rarely do we find in one person such a combination of unselfish zeal and wise leadership together with those qualities of heart and mind that made her loved and honored by all who knew her.

Newton Judge Will End Brighton Gang

In the Newton court yesterday Judge Mayberry sentenced William Sutton, 18, of 59 Brock st., Brighton, to 1 year in Billerica prison, and William Harrison, 19, of Montfern ave., Brighton, to 6 months in that prison. Both appealed. Both were found guilty of having entered the home of Frank Harney, Jr., of 533 Hammond st., Chestnut Hill, on July 18. They admitted stealing a camera, toilet set, cigarette case and cuff studs from the house, but denied taking $1400 worth of silverware which also was stolen from Harney's home. They were arrested by Captain Goode and Lieut. Crowley of the Newton police after their loot had been recovered in a Boston pawnshop.

Charles Driscoll, Brighton attorney, asked Judge Mayberry to allow both defendants to go on personal recognition instead of on $500 bail each. Driscoll stated that Judge Connolly had allowed the pair to go on personal recognition when they had been tried on a similar charge in the Brighton court, and that Judge Connolly had commented that "he didn't think the youths were criminals." Judge Mayberry refused to grant Driscoll's request and said: "For your information, there is a gang of toughs in that (the Oak Square) neighborhood of Brighton. For some reason they think they can come into Newton and do anything they please and get away with it. A little while ago I took some of this gang out of circulation. I am going to break up this gang if it is the last thing I do."

Judge Mayberry was referring to the fact that for some years past youths from the Oak Square section of Brighton have been arrested for stealing automobiles in this city, entering and looting houses, and committing other offences. Incendiary fires have occurred in Newton buildings near the Brighton line.

Aldermen Vote to Take Stearns Land

The Board of Aldermen early Tuesday morning voted to take the lot of land (part of the estate of the late M. Ethelyn Stearns) on Watertown st., Nonantum, adjoining the Stearns School. This matter has been argued by the Aldermen for the past year. A permit was granted last year for the erection on the lot of a large warehouse for the storage of paper by the G & S Paper Company. The big building, to be constructed of cement blocks, would contain a garage, and would be within 50 feet of the school. Residents of Nonantum protested against the use of the lot for such a purpose. They contended that the warehouse would be a fire and traffic hazard to the school children. For sometime the School Committee declined to favor the taking of the land, but finally did. Of the 19 aldermen present at the meeting Tuesday morning, all voted in favor of taking the land except Aldermen Colby, Hoffman, Schipper and Tiffin.

These four aldermen also voted against appropriations of $1750 for the taking of land owned by the Cunningham estate as an addition to the Auburndale playground, and $400 for the purchase of land at Duncklee st. and Beverly rd., Newton Highlands, to provide an entrance to the Cold Spring Playground.

Attendance In Newton Public Schools Is 245 Less Than Last Year

Four New Teachers Elected—Kindergarten Rule Enforced

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Tuesday night, Supt. of Schools Warren gave the information that the attendance in Newton public schools this year is 245 less than in 1938, as of Sept. 15. In the High School there was an increase of 68 pupils; in the junior high schools a decrease of 39; in the elementary schools a decrease of 314; in the Trade School an increase of 1. At the Angier School there was a decrease of 18, at the Burr 30, Cabot 55, Carr 55, Claffin 29, Davis 35, Peirce 119, Rice 27, Stearns 52, Underwood 90. Some of these decreases at West Newton were caused by transfers to the new Franklin School, which showed an increase of 165 over the attendance at the old Franklin School last year.

Supt. of Schools Warren told the committee that parents of about a dozen children prevented from entering kindergarten because of the increase in the entering age from 4 years and 6 months to 4 years and 9 months, had protested because these children were only slightly under the new entering age. Some were only a few days too young and one was but 5 hours too young. Mr. Warren said he had adhered strictly to the enforcement of the new age requirement.

Referring to a report that parents of three children had refused to send these children to the Hyde School, instead of the Emerson School at Upper Falls, Mr. Warren explained that because there would have been 43 children in the 8th grade at the Emerson School, parents of 8 children in that grade were asked if they would send their children to the Angier or Hyde Schools. Parents of children in seven families gladly accepted the suggested change. Parents of three children in the other family declined, and choose to have their children continue attending the Emerson School. (Continued on Page 12)

Daylight Saving To End Sunday

At two o'clock Sunday morning the annual Daylight Saving period will officially come to an end. Most persons will stop their clocks and watches for an hour before retiring on Saturday night. Some persons probably will forget that daylight saving is ending and will start out Sunday morning to find that they are an hour earlier than they should have been. Once again, don't forget, stop your timepieces for an hour tomorrow night and be on time Sunday.

Brown Appointed Acting Recreation Commissioner

Reginald W. Brown of 490 Walnut st., Newtonville was appointed Acting Recreation Commissioner by Mayor Childs last Saturday. Brown's name was submitted to the Board of Aldermen by Mayor Childs on August 21 as his appointee to the newly created office of Recreation Commissioner. At that meeting a criticism was directed at the Mayor that he had not consulted the members of the Recreation Commission relative to Brown's appointment, although it had been understood that such action was to have been taken by the Mayor before he would appoint anyone to this office.

At the meeting of the Aldermen on September 11, the Board by a vote of 16 to 2 refused to confirm Brown's appointment. At that meeting the Board on recommendation of the Mayor, voted to appropriate $300 to pay an acting commissioner's salary for four weeks. Mayor Childs stated he would retain Mr. Brown as acting Recreation Commissioner until someone is appointed to that office, and confirmed.

Workers Aid Taxpayers' Assn. Membership Drive

The annual city-wide membership drive of the Newton Taxpayers' Association that started last Monday is well under way with a steady stream of new enrollments being made in all sections of the city.

An enthusiastic corps, nearly 300 strong, is calling on every taxpayer in Newton and expect to reach their goal of 3500 members, a 100 per cent increase over last year. The drive closes Sept. 30, and taxpayers are urged to cooperate by sending in their memberships at the earliest possible moment to the Newton Taxpayers' office, 1357 Washington st., West Newton. "Sustaining" membership is $5; "individual" memberships are $1, and "business" memberships are 40c per $1000 of assessment.

Recommendations of the association based on studies of the operation of municipal departments in Newton and other cities of similar size have resulted in substantial economies, and prevented a rise in the Newton tax rate—advantages which the citizens of Newton have been quick to recognize and appreciate.

The sole object of the Newton Taxpayers' Association is to cooperate with city officials in finding ways and means of decreasing municipal expenses, and lightening the tax burden. Membership dues are necessary to finance proposed surveys and 3500 members are needed. If the full benefit is to be derived from the work of this aggressive association of Newton citizens.

Decide To Hire Investigator For Soldiers' Relief

The committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen in charge of the conduct of the Soldiers' Relief Department has decided to follow the practice used in all other cities of Massachusetts over 50,000 in population, and have an investigator as an employee of this department. Until 1933 the administration of Soldiers' Relief in Newton was in charge of City Clerk Grant. Efforts of Newton Post, A. L., resulted in the Soldiers' Relief Department being established in 1933 on recommendation of Mayor Weeks. Edmund T. Dungan was appointed director and has since held that office.

During the past year, as a result of criticisms by members of the Board of Aldermen regarding alleged acts of a member of the department staff in an official capacity, a special committee of Aldermen was appointed to investigate the department, and the City Solicitor ruled that in conformity with the State laws, the Board of Aldermen, and not the Mayor, should control this department. At the meeting of the Aldermen on Sept. 11, the Mayor, on recommendation of the special committee of Aldermen, recommended that $650 be appropriated to pay the salary of an investigator and his traveling expenses from Oct. 1 until the end of this year.

The committee has not decided what the salary of the investigator shall be, nor has it been decided whether or not he will be under civil service. The director's salary is $2500 per annum.

Old Drill Shed Gone to the Dogs

The large wooden structure at the rear of the older high school building on Walnut st. which was erected about 50 years ago as a drill shed for the high school battalion, and a gymnasium for the girls in their "calisthenics" under Jennie Ireson, is to be a drill shed—for dogs. The canines will not be instructed in military tactics or Swedish gymnastics. Their devoted masters and mistresses will drive their pets hither to train them to "heel," stop, start, run, walk, sit, go into reverse, and obey various commands in a manner that could serve as a model for many two-legged pets.

At the meeting of the School Committee on Tuesday night, Alderman Kenneth Tiffin appeared and obtained permission for the Bay State Dog Training Club to conduct a course in dog-training at the drill shed. He said that the club will donate from $30 to $50 to charity in return for the use of the building. Mr. Tiffin does not go in for dogs in a small way. He owns Great Danes.

Motorcycle Patrolman John J. McGrath of the Newton police department was critically injured about 1 o'clock last Saturday morning when his own automobile crashed into a tree at Cherry st. and Adams ave., West Newton. McGrath, who was off duty, was returning to his home at 56 Noble st., West Newton, when the accident occurred, and he dozed while operating the car. He was terribly cut on the face and head and the interior of his mouth by broken glass, but did not lose consciousness. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and received two blood transfusions, the blood being donated by Leo Gagnon and Manley Kiley, members of the Newton police department. McGrath, himself, had a number of times donated his blood to others. In addition to the serious lacerations, some of his ribs were fractured.

For several years McGrath had been one of the two outstanding revolver marksmen of the Newton police department, and he recently won first prize in the annual championship contest of the New England Police League. His wife is also a patient at the Newton Hospital, where she gave birth to a child a few days before her husband was injured.

Incendiary Fires at Newton Highlands

Last Friday night three incendiary fires occurred at Newton Highlands; two of them in the same building. At 8:05 p. m., fire was discovered in a large shed adjoining the building formerly used by the Purdy Ice Company on Pico st., off Beacon st. When the firemen reached the place, the large shed was a mass of flames and Box 71 was pulled at 8:15 to bring additional apparatus.

While the firemen were at the blaze at the former ice company, a fire occurred in a house on Terrace ave., Newton Highlands, owned by Lulu Wicks. The fire started near a stairway at the rear of the house. This fire was soon extinguished, but at 11:10 p. m. another fire was set in the same house, necessitating a second trip to the place by the firemen.

Safety Council Hold Meeting

The executive committee of the Newton Safety Council will hold a meeting on Sunday evening, September 24, at the home of Daniel Needham, president of the council. Among the matters which will be discussed will be ways and means to stimulate interest in the safety council movement in Newton, and what can be done to further the cause of safety in this city during the coming year.

Elect Mrs. Marshall Chairman of Comm.

Mrs. Theresa Marshall of Newton Highlands was elected chairman of the Recreation Commission by the members of that body on Wednesday. She has been serving as temporary chairman since the resignation of Ralph Henry. George Kellar was elected secretary. The commission voted to accept a resolution praising the work done by E. Ewing Wilson as Acting Commissioner of Recreation during the past summer.

Eighth Annual Community Chest Campaign Planned

Seek Bus Permit On Turnpike

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday night, a hearing will be held on the petition of the Peter Pan Bus Lines for a franchise to pick up passengers on the Worcester pike in this city. The petition was filed by Peter Picknell. The bus company operates between Boston and Springfield via the cut-off from Shrewsbury and Sturbridge, and makes three trips daily. The petition states that it would not interfere with any other bus company now holding a franchise in this city.

Budget Committee Holds Final Hearings For Chest Agencies

Plans for the eighth annual Newton Community Chest Campaign, Nov. 10 to 21, are rapidly being completed and committees are speeding up their work. This week the Budget Committee of the Chest will hold its final hearings on all budgets of Chest agencies and make its recommendations to the Chest directors for the 1940 agency budgets. The goal for the campaign will be based on the recommendations of the Budget Committee.

The work of the Budget Committee is one of the most important aspects of Community Chest work. Made up of well-known business men, the committee meets monthly, except during the summer, reviews the past month's expenditures of each Chest agency and passes on the proposed expenditures for the coming month. In September of each year all Chest agencies submit budgets for the next year. These budgets are carefully studied by the Budget Committee and if necessary revised. Through its work the committee has been able to improve the business methods of the agencies, and also makes certain that there is no overlapping in agency expenditures.

Each member of the Budget Committee is contact man for the committee with one or more Chest agency and works closely with that agency in its business affairs. The members of the committee are: Benjamin J. Bowen, contact man for Chest and Council; F. Wadsworth Busk, contact man for All-Newton Music School and Newton Circle; Charles H. Cobb, contact man for Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts; Charles C. Dasey, contact man for Newton District Nursing Assn.; Cyrus Y. Ferris, contact man for Y. M. C. A.; Leslie D. Hawkridge, contact man for Family Service Bureau; Clarence G. McDavitt, contact man for the Newton Hospital; Joseph F. Wogan, contact man for the Newton Catholic Welfare Committee; Clark E. Woodward, contact man for the West Newton Community Centre and Stearns School Centre.

Painter's Torch Causes $5000 Fire

An unoccupied house at 38 Chestnut terrace, Newton Centre was damaged by fire to the extent of $5000 on Wednesday afternoon. The house is owned by the East Boston Savings Bank and painters were at work on it. Flames from a painter's torch worked under the siding and started a fire on the second floor. It worked up through the roof and badly gutted the building. In addition to fighting the fire, the firemen also had to fight a large number of hornets which had nests in the eaves of the building and got real angry when disturbed by the fire and the firemen.

PEACE WITH HONOR

We resume our editorial column after several months of inattention because of personal considerations to find the summer waning, schools in session again, a city election in the offing, Europe in a state of war, chaos, and uncertainty, and Congress in special session to determine this country's procedure in the world crisis. From letters from individuals which come to our desk and from the personal views of many others it is a certainty that the American people do not want any part of this war. Those who remember the World War of two decades and more ago, have not forgotten the lessons that experience taught us. Today, with the radio and other quicker means of obtaining information, it is far easier to get a true perspective upon the situation as a whole. Yet as the days go by it is becoming increasingly difficult to distinguish fact from propaganda. Propaganda, cleverly disguised, is calculated to swing public sentiment to the side of the propagandist—and both majorities and minorities are all ready to use the public for its own ends. This is one of the occasions when it is clearly our duty to inform our Senators and Congressmen of our feelings against American participation. They are the representatives of the people and we look to them to maintain peace—peace with honor—to the very end.

Information About Paul M. Goddard

Inasmuch as all the voters of Newton should know something concerning the background of any candidate for Mayor or Aldermen, the GRAPHIC requested Paul M. Goddard of 20 Trowbridge street, Newton Centre, a candidate for the office of Mayor, to furnish a biographical sketch of himself, and Mr. Goddard complied.

Paul M. Goddard was born at South Royalton, Vermont, on September 25, 1896. His father was a Congregational minister, and both his father and mother were born in Ludlow, Vermont. His mother was related to the late John G. Sargent, Attorney General in the Coolidge administration.

PAUL M. GODDARD

Mr. Goddard obtained his elementary education at West Concord, New Hampshire, and then attended the Gloucester, Massachusetts, High School; his father having transferred to a pastorate at Essex, Massachusetts. His family having removed from Essex to North Reading, Mr. Goddard left Gloucester High School in the middle of his senior year and attended Phillips Andover Academy nearby. He graduated from that institution in 1914 and entered Harvard College that year. He graduated from Harvard in 1918.

After being employed by the B. F. Sturtevant Company for about a year, Mr. Goddard became associated with the home office agency of the New England Mutual Insurance Company in 1919, and since that time has been engaged in life insurance and general insurance business as an independent broker.

In 1933 he entered Northeastern University Law School and graduated in 1937 with the degree of LL.B. He passed the Massachusetts bar in that year and was admitted to practice of law in November, 1937. Since his admission to the bar he has been associated with the law office of Robert T. Bushnell. He was admitted to practice in the Federal Courts in June, 1939.

Mr. Goddard has been a resident of Newton for 21 years. He served on the Boy Scout Troop Committee, Community Chest drives, and is a director and member of the executive committee of the Family Service Bureau of Newton. He is a past president of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church of Newton Centre, and served there as deacon and on the prudential committee. He is a former director of the Newton Y.M.C.A., and a member of the executive committee of the Newton Center Improvement Association. Mr. Goddard is a member of Dalhousie Lodge of Masons and the Charles River Country Club.

Mr. Goddard has also taken an active interest in political affairs as well as in civic matters. He is a member of the Republican Ward and City Committee, and a former member of the executive committee of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. He served as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen from 1933 until 1938, when he resigned after having been elected Representative from the 5th Middlesex District, which includes Wards 4, 5 and 6 of Newton.

All Newton Music School Opens for 29th Year

Registration has been going on all week at the All Newton Music School. This school, with a branch in the Peirce School, West Newton, and one in the Claffin School, Newtonville, will open for its twenty-ninth consecutive season on next Tuesday, September 26. There will be the usual regular sessions on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and on Saturday mornings from now until June.

The All Newton Music School is a member of the National Guild of Community Music Schools with headquarters in New York, the Music Division of the Greater Boston Federation of Settlements and Charter Member of the Newton Community Chest. It follows an approved course of study carefully graded to meet high musical standards and individual needs. Pupils' work is supervised by the heads of the various departments which include private individual lessons in piano, violin, cello, clarinet and voice and group activity in theory of music, ensemble and orchestral training.

The school is known primarily as an avocational school, but many of its present and former pupils show interesting accomplishments in music activities in Newton and elsewhere. However, the larger number of students are not aspiring to professional musical careers, but are of the ever-increasing group who want to know how to appreciate good music, to be better listeners.

Pupils may enter the school at any time during the season, but early registration at this time insures the best results. The first lessons will be given next Tuesday at one o'clock in both branches.

55 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Sept. 13, 1884

Rev. Wolcott Calkins will preach on the Newton Bazaar grounds next Sunday at 4 p.m.

The horse cars now leave Newton for Bowdoin Square, Boston, at quarter before and quarter after the hour.

Tickets to the Institute Fair, including a free horse-car coupon, are for sale at Faxon's and the Newton Bazaar.

The Highway Department is doing an excellent piece of work this week in paving the gutters on Washington street from Centre street West.

Engine 1 answered an alarm of fire from Box 568, Oak Square, Brighton on Wednesday on account of a burning bale of hay in a barn. No damage.

The intensity of the heat may be judged from the fact that an apple, too hard to eat, was literally baked by a few hours exposure to the sunlight in the Newton Postoffice on Tuesday morning.

"A Patron" who wants us to print a letter about an alleged "Mrs. Grundy" who he claims is persecuting the people in a certain section of the city is informed that newspapers have other business than airing private grievances and printing anonymous letters. If the grievance can only be cured by publishing it, our advertising columns can be used at the regular rates.

The excursion of the Newton Natural History Society tomorrow to Stony Brook in Weston, will doubtless prove a very pleasant occasion. Rev. Mr. Winkley of Newton Highlands will read a paper on "Earthquakes" and other papers may be expected. Miss Loring has extended to the Society an invitation to end the field day at her beautiful home in Weston, where the exercises of the day will take place. The barge carrying the members of the society will leave Newton depot promptly at 2 o'clock. For further information apply to Dr. J. F. Frisbee. The ride will be through Waltham to Stony Brook, arriving there as near 3 as possible. It is about a mile and a half from there to Miss Loring's residence, which will be reached about 4.30. The homeward ride will be by way of Auburndale. Now that the dust has been laid by the late shower, a delightful trip may be expected.

Pedestrians who have had their umbrellas and parasols broken by the limbs of trees projecting over the sidewalks, cannot but think that the Highway committee of the Aldermen has been dilatory in its duties.

Joseph Newell, a resident of West Newton for 25 years, died on Tuesday at his home on Waltham street, aged 71. He had been in the retail shoe business in Boston for 40 years. He had been working hard of late, and on Sunday remarked to a friend—"I worked 21 hours yesterday, and today I am as well and vigorous as ever," adding—"I sometimes have a little trouble with my head." The next day he was stricken with apoplexy and before Tuesday noon he was dead. His last day's work was no doubt the immediate cause of his death.

The reopening of school this week found scholars and teachers alike in an unambitious state of mind and body on account of the frightfully hot weather. Luckily the supply of text books purchased by the School Committee, were not all ready to be delivered to the pupils, who thus escaped a good share of the regular work, and were not confined the full time. Wednesday and Thursday afternoons all schools were closed on account of the heat.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, Sept. 13, 1889

Warren Jaguth of Newton is very ill from a malarial attack, and has been confined to his bed since his return from his vacation.

Patrick Maloney fell from his hack on West street on Wednesday while suffering from some kind of a fit, and was badly bruised.

Horace M. Walton is very busy this week getting the musical department of the public schools in running order. There are some 87 school rooms in the city, and it takes nearly two weeks to make the rounds.

The reservoir on Waban Hill is being cleaned out this week and meantime the water is being pumped directly into the pipes, which accounts for the queer noises in the pipes, and the way some of the meters are said to be working. The reservoir needs cleaning badly to free it from the vegetable growth which has appeared there.

One of the first lessons which should be taught to school children is—stealing fruit and flowers is a sin and a crime! "The fruit thieves of today will be in the prisons of the State 5 or 10 years hence" says the Cambridge Daily, if they are not taught better. Most of them get no home training on this line, and will get none unless the teachers give it.

Powers' Paragraphs

Those of us who for years have been advocating isolationism for the United States instead of this country becoming embroiled in the bloody quarrels and machinations of Europe, naturally were pleased to hear such a popular hero as Charles A. Lindbergh join with us. Mr. Lindbergh's arguments coincided with those we offered our humble way in this column on August 25. Our attitude on this question was influenced to a great degree by first-hand contacts we made with Frenchmen, Englishmen and Germans in their countries following the Armistice of November 11, 1918. One ceased to be an idealist after one had heard the sentiments expressed by both soldiers and civilians of these countries concerning their attitudes toward the U. S. A. One became a realist. Colonel Lindbergh, like those of us who were across with the A.E.F., has had better opportunities than the average citizens of this country to observe the psychology of various European races (including the British) and how they actually feel as regards us. Few have had the opportunities in recent years to obtain an insight into European military and political affairs as has Lindbergh. So, being an honest and courageous man, he speaks frankly. He does not fall for the clever propaganda disseminated by Britain, France, Germany, Italy and the other countries overseas as do all too many Americans who think themselves intelligent and versed in international affairs but who are, actually, quite provincial, and because of their idealistic philosophy begotten of democracy easily duped into becoming sympathetic for alleged democracies across the Atlantic.

This brings us to the vital question of the day. Shall the U. S. A. amend its neutrality law so as to permit "cash and carry" to belligerents, as desired by President Roosevelt? Many persons in this country who were strongly opposed to such a change three weeks ago, now favor it because of the unexpected alliance between Germany and Russia, but more especially because of Italy's position in the European situation. Hitler's axis partner is allegedly neutral, but it is commonly believed that this neutrality is a matter of expedience so that the Fascists could prevent an attack on the Germans through Italian territory, and because Italy, as a neutral, can purchase munitions of war here and then transfer them to Hitler's forces. The status of Japan through its recent pact with Russia also has influenced many who have changed their views on "cash and carry."

Although millions have changed their views on the question of supplying war munitions to belligerents who can pay for them, and who have ships to transport them, which means Britain and France, the great majority of those who have so changed their attitude are utterly opposed to the country becoming involved in the war or sending an army of young Americans to Europe to get slaughtered, as was done in 1917 and 1918. Citizens of the U. S. A. know how Britain and France welched on the payment of the billions loaned to them by our people. They know that our participation in the World War has cost this country about $41,000,000, much of which this country still owes.

There is another reason why this country should not become involved in the current European war. Without being pessimistic, we must face possibilities. Germany has startled the world by its speedy conquest of Poland, its overwhelming of a large army of that country, which was supposed to be able to withstand the Nazis for a much longer time. Europe and this hemisphere were also startled by the alliance between Germany and Russia. Many do not believe that Russia will send armies to fight against France and England on the Western Front. Many do not think that Italy will become actively engaged in the war and join its armed forces with those of Germany. But, stranger things have happened. Should Russia or Italy, or both, and their armed might to that of Germany the writer, for one, believes that France and Britain could not resist such a preponderance in man-power and airplanes. Should Russia and Italy join with the Nazis in the fray, it is within the realm of possibilities that their enormous airplane armadas might destroy the British navy. Should this happen, and should France and Britain be conquered by the alliance of the totalitarian nations, with Japan assisting in the dirty work, the U. S. A. would be in a precarious position. There are those who will scoff at the dark picture just drawn—but, it could occur.

Remember that the U. S. A. has a standing army of only about 250,000. Compare this little army with the many millions of trained soldiers included in the military forces of Germany, Italy and Russia. And our National Guard with its limited training cannot be expected to approach the efficiency of regular army men, even with allowance being made for the calibre of the young men in our militia. Furthermore, our National Guard is woefully lacking in modern equipment. Abhorrent though it is to most Americans, it behooves the U. S. A. to train (even by compulsion) its many millions of young men in the damnable art of war. This country should also manufacture as rapidly as its resources will allow, an air fleet and machines of war sufficient in size to cope with those of the totalitarian nations whose resources during the past 5 and more years have been mainly used in preparing for conquest. If armed might is not to prevail, the only way to prevent this is to be ready to meet force with force, if the need arises. And this country's experience in 1917 and 1918 should cause us to remember that military airplanes, artillery and other war equipment cannot be manufactured in large quantities in one year or even two years. A lot can and may happen in the next year, or even in the next few months.

Ambassador Joseph Kennedy is supposed to be a man of great intellect. But, he did not display much intelligence when he sent that tactless note to American citizens who were passengers on the "Aquitanian." Why did the Ambassador wait until the people were on the boat, and it was about to start to sail, before he gave them the cheerful warning that the ship might be sunk by a submarine?

Members of the drill team of Newton Post, A. L., twice national champions, have had their likenesses printed in newspapers all over the country the past week in advertisements of one of the four leading cigarette companies.

We listened the other day to the speech of Adolf Hitler. He certainly is a spellbinder who can sway multitudes. Hitler expressed his sympathy for the "pollus" of France. He should have at least equal sympathy for the great numbers of German young men who will also be sacrificed in this war, if it continues. We were interested to hear Adolf express his faith in "Almighty God." Evidently some of his earlier Christian training survives, despite his yielding to the paganistic doctrines of some of his associates.

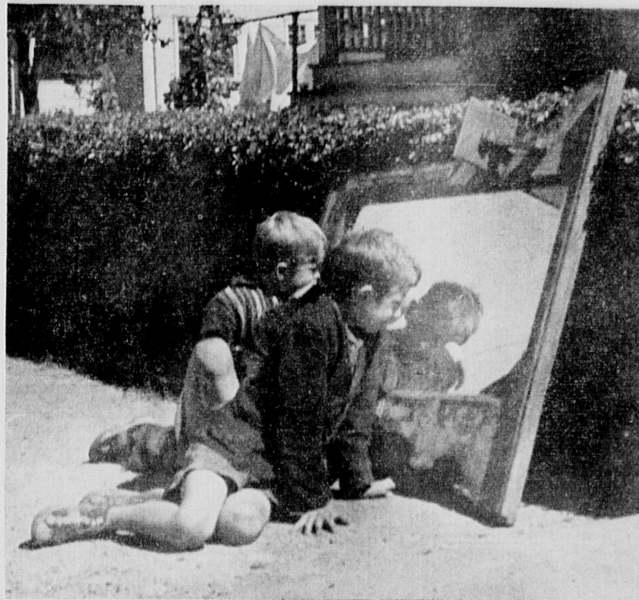

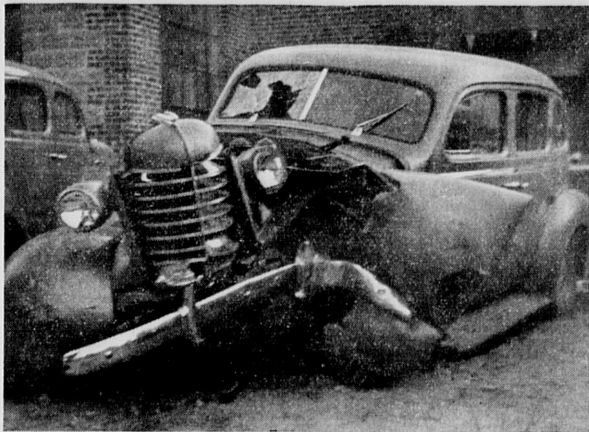

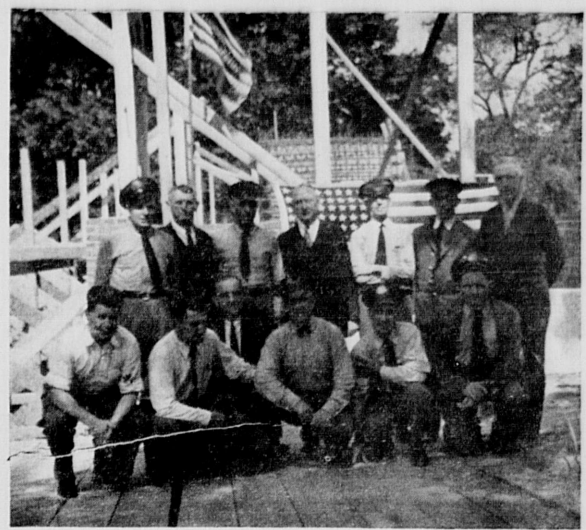

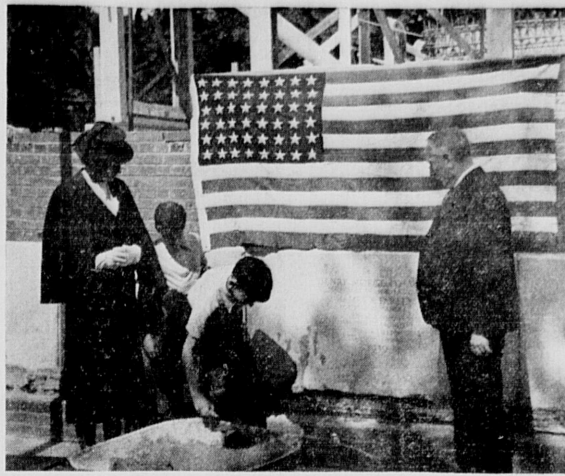

Newspapers the past two weeks have covered pages of their publications with accounts of the invasion of German territory by the French army in its advance toward Saarbrücken and Trier. The French, gallant soldiers though they are, have not taken much of that territory, and in our opinion will not. We spent six weeks in Trier and travelled over most of the country in that section. From Saarbrücken easterly and northerly (in the Hunsrueck and Moselle valleys) the country rises rapidly. The hills are steep and the valleys narrow. From Saarbrücken to Dudweiler is 2½ miles, and the increase in altitude is 167 feet. The terrain keeps rising until at Wallhausen, 28 miles from Saarbrücken, the altitude (at the railway) is 1263 feet. From Trier, on the north side of the Moselle, similar conditions prevail in the high Eifel region. The French and English could advance in these regions only by making tremendous sacrifices.

WEST NEWTON ESTATE SOLD

Alford Bros. have sold a residence in one of the most desirable portions of the City of Newton, located at 65 Sterling st., at the corner of Berkeley st., West Newton. This property is a portion of the land which was at one time owned by the Charles Robinson heirs, and includes a handsome tract of land of almost one and one-half acres. This property was purchased twenty-four years ago by Mr. William Lloyd Garrison and Mrs. Edith S. Garrison, who built under architect's supervision a most attractive Colonial house containing twelve rooms, five baths, first floor lavatory, open porch, and a sleeping porch. The purchasers plan to occupy the premises as their home. The real estate is assessed as a whole at $28,900.

Another collision of cars last Thursday was at the dangerous intersection of Washington and Harvard sts., Newtonville. Cars driven by Alan White of Woodward st., Waban, and Robert Whiteacre of 296 Cabot st., Newtonville collided. White reported that he was slightly injured.

Monday afternoon at 3:45, cars driven by Albert Plunkett of 11 Vineyard rd., Newton Centre, and Philip Simpson, 18, of Winchester, collided opposite 33 Commonwealth ave. The accident happened when young Simpson turned his car around on the street and it collided with Plunkett's car. Plunkett and his wife, Mrs. Ella Plunkett, were on their way to a wedding. Mrs. Plunkett received severe cuts on the head and face, and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

A car driven by Catherine Brown of Perthshire rd., Brighton, hit a tree at the intersection of Prospect and Temple sts., West Newton, last Friday when she swerved to avoid hitting a dog. Miss Brown and three other girls riding in the car received cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Newton Hospital by an autoist who happened along.

Youth Shot While Target Shooting

Paul McAvoy, 17, of 118 Bonard st., Brookline was accidentally shot on Sunday afternoon while target shooting with several companions in a wooded section of Lagrange st. at Oak Hill. A bullet from a .22 calibre rifle went through the calf of McAvoy's right leg and lodged in his left leg. The youth's companions hastened to the nearest house and telephoned to Brookline police headquarters, and the ambulance of that town took the boy to Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Sergeant King of the Newton police investigated the shooting. He found that the rifle belonged to E. W. O'Brien of Princeton rd., Brookline and had been taken into the woods by Albert Hastings, a boy residing at that address.

Who Is My Neighbor?

When one earnestly and honestly seeks to know what is his part in helping to improve national and international affairs, he will find publicity was given, by leading in sales, not only for his territory, but over all the other branches. This success he attributed solely to his application of the teachings of Christian Science. When he realized that he felt a new responsibility, a natural desire to leave a record to maintain; and he began giving more and more time to his business, often staying up late at night. To his surprise his sales began to fall off, and before long he was below the standard he had previously set. Then he realized that he had been neglecting his spiritual development of God, and had been spending much less time in the study and contemplation of Christian Science. Fortunately he recognized his mistake, and when he returned to his former practice of seeking God first, the other things were again added to him. He found that he had hoped he would never forget.

Practicing Prayer

joy, happiness, health, and supply are to be found in material conditions he will never really find them. As soon as he realizes that they are spiritual

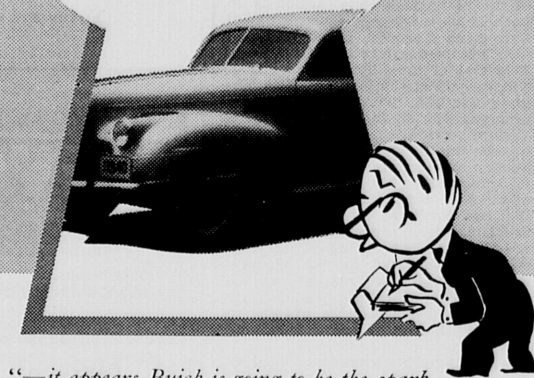

A student of Christian Science was once faced with a physical problem, for which the material medica declares an operation is the only remedy. A friend, who was not a student of Christian Science, had a similarly obstructing growth temporarily removed by an operation. The temptation came to her that in this case an operation was necessary. For many years she had relied upon Christian Science to meet her every need, and it had never failed, and she wondered why she did not have a healing this time. The suggestion of an operation was so insistent that she gathered together all Mrs. Eddy's writings, the Bible, and their Concordances, and set about to make a thorough analysis, examination, and diagnosis of the case. For several days she persisted, and when she had finished she felt that she had passed through each of the material stages attributed to such an operation, and for each one the operation of Truth had proved sufficient to eliminate the arguments, symptoms, and physical discomfort attending them. She emerged completely healed, and has had no return of the difficulty. Mortal mind can only counterfeit the operation of divine Mind.

Overcoming Limitation

What are some of the wrong thoughts that need to be exchanged for true ideas? Christian Science teaches that "the procuring cause and foundation of all sickness is fear, ignorance, or sin" (Science and Health, p. 411). Most of us know well the harmful results of sinful habits of thinking, and we know, too, that ignorance must be replaced by understanding, but we may yet need to eliminate fear before a healing is accomplished. Over and over again Mrs. Eddy reminds us that when

A PEEK THROUGH THE KEYHOLE AT NEXT YEAR

"—it appears Buick is going to be the spark plug of the 1940 General Motors lines"

—from a recent issue of the magazine, STEEL

WE think the statement quoted above takes in altogether too much territory.

Everyone knows all General Motors cars are good cars and good values—no one division needs to "spark plug" that great line.

Just the same, it's true that here at Buick we're straining our suspenders to produce something special for 1940.

We've spent, for example, eight millions more for tools, dies and new plant equipment to make sure of that.

We plan to offer you for next year not only our accustomed four Series of cars, but two completely new numbers also.

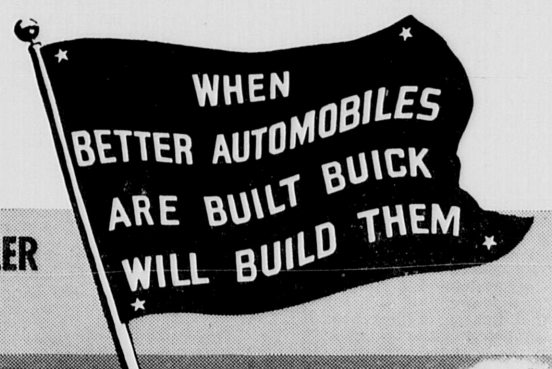

There'll be something pretty important for you to learn about in connection with making our famed Dynaflex engines even more to be desired.

In every Buick there'll be more swell features of ride and stride than you've got time to count.

So, whether we're "spark plug" or not next year—who cares?

The main thing is, we'll be "in there pitching" with the grandest automobiles you ever saw!

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney departed by airplane for a trip to include New York, Washington and Virginia Beach. On their return they will live at 169 Concord st., in Portland.

The bride was educated at House in the Pines, Norton, Mass., and was graduated from Waynflete School in Portland. Trust In God

In these perilous and uncertain times when the whole world seems to be thinking of nothing but that horrible word WAR let us be calm and collected, leaning on the everlasting arm of the Almighty God. The same God that our forefathers trusted in, as we as a Christian Nation should be faithful in JESUS CHRIST praying that God will in his goodness and mercy deliver US from being drawn into this conflict.

May HE protect us.

Do unto others is just as sound today as it ever was and much more important. You can expect this 100% in all your dealings with J. J. Chaisson, the modern upholsterer, located at 14 Centre Ave. Think it over.

SMALLPOX

Still A Menace

Before vaccine that protects against smallpox was discovered, the disease was one of the worst scourges of mankind. Gradually, since vaccination has become so universal, smallpox is being stamped out.

However, smallpox is still with us and is unexpectedly bobbing up from time to time. Wide travel and crowds that bring people into such close contact, make it necessary to be protected.

Today vaccination is simple, practically painless, and ill-effects are extremely rare. The vaccination should be done by a reputable physician and the same care exercised against infection as with any other skin abrasion.

Basic prices on the Series 40 models, with the exception of the convertible phaeton, remained unchanged from 1939 notwithstanding addition as standard equipment of such important accessories as improved front and rear safety direction signal, extra front bumper guards, extra electrical equipment, trunk lights, fender lamps, oil filter and other accessories which either were not on the cars last year or were optional at extra cost.

Buick's new Series 50 Super and Series 70 Roadmaster lines, completely new additions for 1940, will take their position price-wise just above the Series 40 Special and Series 60 Century models, respectively, providing the most complete market coverage in the experience of the company, Mr. Curtice said.

Reductions of $35 a car on the popular Series 60 Century four-door sedan, $78 on the Series 40 Convertible Phaeton, and $120 on the Series 60 Convertible Phaeton were included in the wide range of price cuts. At the same time, substantial additions were made to the standard equipment of these cars.

It was pointed out that all Buick convertible phaetons will include the new improved design under-seat heater with defroster and air intake, which likewise is standard equipment on all Limited series cars. The same heater will be offered as an accessory at extra cost on other models.

Burglary at Gas Station Nets $100

The gasoline station of Benjamin Kritzman at 58 Crafts st., Newtonville was entered last Friday night. Tires and other accessories valued at $100, and $10 in cash were stolen. ZONTA CLUB

Newton Zontians assembled at the home of Mrs. Miriam Clark, 183 Dorset rd., Waban, for the first get-together of the ensuing season, Sept. 11. After dinner, which was cooked in and served around the out-of-door fireplace in the terraced garden, the meeting was called to order. The outstanding feature of the evening was a report, read by Miss Olivia Cate of West Newton, the club delegate to the convention held at White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, in June.

At the convention Dr. Helen Pearce of Salem, Oregon, International President of Zontas, spoke of Zonta's "initial excellence," her up-to-the-minute attitudes and purposes to further the cause of women. "The club is called upon to increase her interest in the legal and economic status of women." "Among her latest achievements is the inauguration of the Amelia Earhart Memorial Fund, through which financial means to assist women in aeronautical research was established."

In her address on "Legislation that Limits Women Workers," former International President, Dora Neun, of Rochester, N. Y., said, "It is obvious that the status of women is much more an economic question than it is one of sex. Many people are misinformed concerning the discrimination against women for employment. Zonta is prepared for action on these matters, not too aggressively, but with diplomacy and understanding." Henry Waters Taft, of New York, spoke of the significance of women in the bar. "Law expresses the will of the people. Women will and deserve to acquire security through legal and political standing. They should not be given employment in business nor in professional life, nor in government work because they are women, but because they are qualified to do it."

A. Helen Anderson, of Denver, Col., Chairman of the International Service Committee, stated, "Zonta has concentrated on encouraging and promoting Vocational Guidance work among girls. Motivated by the desire to supplement existing activities, Zonta has enriched the experience of many girls and enabled them to make wise choices in their vocations."

Men and Nations

By J. Murray Quinby

The widespread uneasiness and dissatisfaction of the thinking people of the entire world, at the present time, has resulted in something good after all. It has started people thinking about the basic things of life.

To those of us who really believe in God, and that every created human being is a child of God, it seems such an awful waste of the short time we have to live, in this world, for the various nations to continue their present policy.

Many nations are either at war or feel that they must be prepared for war. What a waste of energy, time, money and men!

Is it not true that we are all growing up children? Is it not true that most Americans realize the home is the heartstone of the nation? Is it not true that happiness in the home is brought about by the various members of the family making concessions to settle disputes? Is it not true that this is the psychological time to acclaim lasting happiness and contentment by helping our neighbors and fellow beings, really like brothers and sisters? For in the broad sense we are all brothers and sisters if we are all children of the same God, the father of all mankind.

The people of the entire world are beginning to realize that fear is the worst thing in life, and that hope and love and happiness are the greatest things to possess.

Disputes between nations should always be settled by peaceful means if possible. Each nation must, of course, maintain a standing army of adequate strength to quell disturbances within its own borders. The United States army should be increased to a size in proportion to its population for this purpose.

We who had sons in the Great War know what war and the consequences of war bring to the world. Why not do away with it all? None of us wants hunger, misery, suffering, sickness or unemployment which create fear in the world.

There must be enough men and women eager and intelligent enough to form a working plan. Let's try to have a heaven on earth. Why wait?

Rotary Club

Dr. Harold D. Chope, Health Officer of the Newton Health Department, and a member of the Newton Rotary Club was the fourth speaker in a series on the topic of Social Welfare at the regular meeting of Rotarians on Monday at Brae Burn.

Dr. Chope emphasized that health service is available to all citizens and not limited to special groups as is welfare and other forms of aid. Although complete service is attempted it is economical, costing but 57 cents per capita or $1.15 on the tax rate which is regarded as low insurance for the services rendered. In brief these services are:

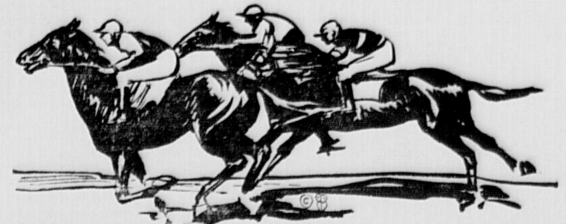

1. Supervision of the sanitation of the City, including the milk supply, the water supply and all food establishments.
2. Communicable disease service designed to prevent and control tuberculosis, pneumonia, diphtheria, typhoid fever, small pox. Certain diseases which cannot be controlled are whooping cough, scarlet fever, measles and infantile paralysis.
3. Complete health service for children beginning with the service of the Newton District Nursing Association, for mothers and for babies up to 18 months of age. The Health Department takes over with pre-school conference, and follows the children with annual physical exams, through their school career.
4. An effort to provide Newton citizens with further information regarding health, which is accomplished through an annual report and quarterly bulletin entitled "Your Health" and special lectures and daily correspondence and telephone calls and answers to inquiries from citizens.

Dr. Chope pointed out that Newton citizens were receiving Standard Health Service at the least as in 1938 Newton won first place in the Health Conservation contest sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and American Public Health

Christian Science Lecture

fear is banished the case is healed, and that Love, divine Love, is the supreme and lasting remedy for all fear and its discordant effects. And so, again, in order to recognize the fraudulent nature and powerlessness of fear we need to learn more about Love, its all power and presence. Sometimes the convenient excuse that one's understanding is too small to make these truths practical is only a postponement of that which one must eventually prove. The smallest grain of truth has more power than all the arguments of evil put together for all time. We can do our part, and leave the increase to God. It is our willingness to use what we do understand that makes us receptive to larger unfoldment.

Let us learn to accept the testings times as opportunities to rise above error. I am reminded of a story of a man who was traveling in the Himalayas. He was watching a spectacular storm, and spied an eagle just as the fury of the tempest reached it. He expected him to be dashed about and thrown downward by the tumult, but, instead, he was amazed to see the eagle spread his wings, set himself, and use the force of the wind to carry him up and above it. He literally used the storm to rise higher.

Would you postpone, or turn aside, an opportunity to gain freedom and dominion over the claims of mortal sense? Would you be tossed about in discouragement, fear, despair; or will you use the storm, as did the eagle, to carry you higher and higher into the atmosphere of peace and harmony? We can be grateful for the trials that come, if we have the wisdom to use them for this purpose. The more severe the trial is, the higher it can carry you, and the greater will be the overcoming.

When the storms of human experience approach, let us not try to plunge through them in an attempt to dispel them by material knowledge or development, but use them to lift us higher into the atmosphere of Spirit. If the fury of the tempest forces us to abandon material methods and seek divine guidance, then we can be grateful for these opportunities to rise higher.

When one comprehends a truth in Christian Science, the opportunity to prove it often immediately follows; and this coincidence may be misunderstood, and not recognized as a blessing. The understanding of Truth carries with it the responsibility for proving it, and the ability to make it our own; and this means progress. Behind each command of Truth is divine authority, and carries with it an attending blessing, when obeyed. Christian Science is a demonstrable religion, and unless one is willing to prove it, he will have little part in its practicality.

There often arises the argument that one is handicapped by past mistakes, environment, or training. What you think now is all that counts. What you know of Truth, and prove now, is the only important or necessary consideration. The his-

Ass'n. Dr. Chope gave credit for this achievement to the members of the Board of Health, the Mayor, the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen and the staff of the Health Department.

When you find something helpful in the Bible, or Mrs. Eddy's writings, or in the periodicals, or in a lecture, do you say, "Why, that was just written for me; that just exactly fits my case," and make yourself believe that this is enough? To have found the remedy is only the first step. To apply it, use it, means to receive the benefits and blessings promised therein. You must make it your own.

When Jesus had concluded the parable of "The Good Samaritan" he had answered the lawyer's question regarding his neighbor satisfactorily; even the lawyer must have recognized it as such. But Jesus added an individual responsibility to this recognition of truth. He reminded him to go and do likewise. But what of the first question the lawyer asked, the one which is in the thoughts of practically everyone today, as then: "What shall I do to inherit eternal life?" Jesus gave him his answer in the first two commandments: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength; and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself;" but to this also he added another responsibility in order to really find the answer to his question: "This do, and thou shalt live."

He who has read these two commandments and passed them by as impractical or too idealistic will find the very windows of heaven open to him if he takes them into his daily life and lets them solve his problems

The Fun Begins an Hour From Now

YOU'LL SEE IT PASS like a silver flash! But don't waste time staring after a 1940 Nash. Get in the driver's seat... for that's where the fun begins.

Turn the Weather Eye to the comfort you want. (It offers new conditioned air wonders this year.)

Just a nudge of your toe, and a hundred-odd stampeding horses lift you ahead. Then—a click—a rush—and a new Fourth Speed Forward lends soft wings to your ride.

A Sunday driver ahead? Don't worry. There's something new in the throttle—the Nash Automatic Overtake. Just press your toe—and leave him dawdling in your dust.

There's riding magic, pure and simple, in the Arrow-Flight Ride. Miraculous result of new springing combination... so smooth, so level, so silent, you might be in your easy chair!

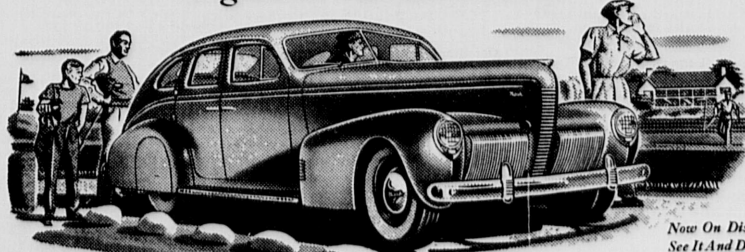

Can you be blind if nightfall finds you far away, sleeping under the stars in your Nash convertible bed?

We're asking you, with nothing but your own preferences and instincts, to get behind the wheel of a 1940 Nash. For ten glorious minutes—that's all.

Then decide if any other car today can give you as much down-right fun as this new, lower-priced Nash!

Let's go! Your Nash dealer is ready now.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON ELEVEN TO OPEN AGAINST CANTABS

New Coach, Owen MacDowell, Has Light and Inexperienced Eleven

Newton High opens its 1939 football season tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock against Cambridge Latin High at the Dickinson Stadium field.
With a new coaching regime, a light and inexperienced squad of candidates, and the fading memories of but season no predictions are in order.
Cambridge Latin is in a rather similar condition, but having one game, a 14 to 0 loss to Somerville under the lights last Friday night, might be considered to have a slight edge in experience.

Coach Owen MacDowell, the new Newton varsity mentor, has already begun to look and build for the future. The varsity squad comprises thirteen backs, ten ends, nine tackle-six guards, and three centres. Most of these are seniors and juniors with about ten of the most likely looking sophomores also included. The intermediate squad is comprised entirely of juniors and seniors while the jayvee outfit is limited to sophomores.

A tentative line-up has been named for tomorrow's opener with Captain Brooks Heath holding down the quarterback position. Tony Bezzutti and Joe Beatty will be at the halfback positions and Walter Hurley in the fullback berth. Beatty, a junior is a newcomer to the varsity squad with the other three backs having seen more or less service a year ago.

The line will have Bob Ross in the pivot position and flanked by John McNeil and Allen Hugo as guards.
Bill Boyer and Bill Kladousian will probably start as tackles and Louis Macalione and Phil Teesler on the ends. Boyer and McNeil are the only veterans in the forward line but assistant Coach Vic Knapman has been working diligently towards a quick and unified change.

The first important injury to one of Coach MacDowell's hopefuls occurred
Wednesday when in a short scrimmage with Needham High Kirtledge Fisher, who had been alternating in the quarter and halfback positions, received a fractured ankle but will put Fisher on the shelf for several weeks and possibly for the entire season.

The four backs next in line, who will probably see early service unless the starting quartet clicks, are Donn Ashley, Gus Avantaggio, Garland Hobson, and Francis Olivigni. Bob Beatty, brother of Joe, is slated for end service and George Walker will get the first call to fill in at tackle. Clark
Fisher, no relation to Kit, and Art
Cook are Coach MacDowell's first reserve guards with Bill Rangnow ready to step into Ross' berth at centre when called.

The Newton squad, which now has some 150 boys equipped, has been practicing about two weeks which has been little enough time for the new coach to get acquainted with his material. However with the schedule opening tomorrow the orange and black faces the future with hopes for the best.

As the result of the changes made in Newton's athletics, considerable interest has been aroused among the students and citizens. The morale of the student body as well as that of the candidates, which has gradually decreased with the passing years, has taken on a feeling of optimism which has only been justified with the passing of time. Coach MacDowell is an extremely personable young man who has won the confidence of his boys within the short space of two weeks.
In winning that confidence, however, he has shown that he means business and there will be no frills until the team has shown that it has mastered the fundamentals which are so vital to success on the gridiron.

DeLONG: on Sept. 14 Charles G. De-Long at 27 Hickory Cliff rd., Newton Highlands.
O'LEARY: on Sept. 17 at 55 Williston rd., Auburndale; Mary T. O'Leary; age 80 years.

Fewer Pupils

There was no attempt at compulsion on the part of the School Department.
A petition was received from parents of children attending the Hamilton School at Lower Falls, asking that the Trade School be removed from that building because of increased attendance at the elementary grades in that school. According to the figures submitted, the attendance has only increased from 73 in 1938 to 83 this year.
Upon being informed that George Kellar, secretary of the School Committee, and assistant to the Superintendent, had not taken any vacation this summer because the opening of two new schools brought extra work on him, the committee insisted that Mr. Kellar take his delayed vacation at once.

Four new teachers were elected by the committee. They are Edwin Hale, to teach electricity at the Trade School; Grace Caron, Bowen School;
Marion Fitzpatrick, Oak Hill School;
Alice McGilivray, Davis School. A leave of absence of 6 months was granted to Elizabeth Deans, supervisor of attendance. She had won a $1000 scholarship at New York University and wanted a year's leave of absence, but the Civil Service laws permit a substitute to be appointed for only 6 months. Resignations of the following teachers were accepted:
Margaret Murphy, building assistant, effective Sept. 1; Ruth J. Shaw, War-

TWILIGHT LEAGUE HOLDS BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Newton day night at the cafeteria in City visor of the league; Joe Cronin, Hugh Duffy and Neil Mahoney of the Boston "Red Sox"; Bill Hunnefeld, and Fred Maguire of Boston College. Sam

Fried served as master of ceremonies at the entertainment following the banquet.

per Falls team, was presented with a ment. Medals were presented to Rich and Chase Kepner as winners of

NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers held their 3rd quarterly shoot at the Newton Centre Playground on Saturday, Sept. 16th.
This is the tournament held on Labor
Day yearly, but this year the Newton Club was host to the State Association on Labor Day and postponed their own shoot. The weather was extremely hot, but the field with its 63 shooters, targets, colored umbrellas and waving target flags made a pretty picture. An interested gallery of Newton folks looked on. Among those most interested was Cyrus E. Dallin, former National Archery Champion, and a charter member of the Newton Archers.

High scorer in the ladies' division was Mrs. Clarence Cheney of Worcester; for men, Geo. S. Skinner of Arlington, a member of the local club, and for juniors, Scott Doten, President Reginald C. Garner made the awards.

Twenty-one Newton archers' journeyed to Swampscott Sunday to take part in the tournament held there by the Swampscott archers. Mr. R. C.
Garner, president of the local club, acted as Field Captain of the day.

Bob Goldrich was high scorer for Newton, finishing in third place for men. High ladies were Miss Dorothy Skinner, who finished in fifth place.
Mrs. Shedd and Mrs. Stainer finished fifth and sixth. Mrs. Howard and Miss Groveland finished sixth and seventh in the ladies.

Scott Doten took first place in the Junior Boys and Dinsmore Welch second. Marjorie Kimber was first for Junior Girls, Sally Spofford third.
There will be a handicap tournament at the Newton Centre Playground Saturday.

crease in salary because they are teaching two kindergarten sessions.

Associates Honor Fred A. Cahill

Associates of Fred A. Cahill of the Newton Motor Sales of Newtonville, Ford agency in Newton, tendered him a belated "bachelor dinner" at Hugo's in Schmutz last night. All the employees of the company were present and John Cahill, treasurer of the corporation officiated as toastmaster.
The guest of honor was presented with a valuable table lamp and a radio set.

Fred stole a march on his associates when he got married quietly on July 22nd to Miss Josephine Mayer of Hartford, Connecticut. Mr. and Mrs. Cahill are residing at 2084 Washington st., Newton Lower Falls.

Newton Residents Pass State Bar

The Massachusetts Board of Bar
Examiners announced on Sept. 14 that 233 out of 708 men and women who took the bar examinations last June had been successful in passing. Of the 31.4% who passed, 20 were women. Seventy-one women took the examinations, so the percentage of them who passed was slightly lower than that of the men. Among the Newton residents who passed were Herschel M. Bon, Newton; Joseph
Chevarley, Newton; Lawrence Jona,
Newton Centre; Stuart DeBard, West
Newton; Joseph Donaghue, Jr., Chest-

Supreme Court Decides In City's Favor In Oak Hill Gravel Pit Case

But Trucks May Still Take Gravel From Pit

Another victory was won this week by the City of Newton in long-drawn-out litigation with George S. Wilbur over the operation of the large sand and gravel plant at Oak Hill, known as the Highland Sand & Gravel Company. The plant, off Dedham st. near the West Roxbury line, had resulted in the excavation of many acres of land in that section and the creation over a long period of years of much heavy trucking which Oak Hill residents asserted was a nuisance. Three years ago the Board of Aldermen refused to grant another renewal for the operation of the plant, which is in a residential zone. Wilbur obtained an injunction, a master was appointed by the Superior Court, and the matter has since dragged until the Supreme Court returned a decision upholding the finding made by the master in favor of the city.

The city also had to go through a similar fight with Wilbur over a traffic ordinance passed by the Aldermen which restricted heavy trucking on Dedham st. City Solicitor Bartlett stated that although the buildings and machinery at the locus may not be used, a huge amount of gravel which has been screened at the plant pending the decision of the Supreme Court, may be removed, so heavy trucks will continue over Oak Hill streets for some time.

Illegal Practice Charge Against West Newton Man

Alfred Carreno, 52, of 147 Highland ave., West Newton, was arrested on September 21 by State Officers Conniff and Hale, who are attached to the State Department of Public Safety. The charge against Carreno is illegal practice of medicine, and resulted from a number of complaints made by Boston and Newton physicians. The physicians complained to the State Board of Registration in Medicine, and Dr. Stephen Rushmore, chairman of the Board and a Newton resident, turned the complaints over to the State police, who for a long period have been trying to get evidence against Carreno. It is alleged that Carreno specialized in treatments for obesity and arthritis, and charged appreciable fees. Dr. Carreno has had a considerable practice during the several years he has been at West Newton. He holds a license as a masseur from the Newton Health Department and says he is a graduate of the University of Brazil. He denied ever having prescribed medicine. He was arraigned in the Middlesex Superior Court and the case was continued. Carreno was released on $2000 bail, which was provided by Donald Rust, formerly of 147 Highland ave.

Protest Taxes On Office Furniture

Lawyers, insurance brokers, real estate agents and others who have been taxed this year for the first time on office furniture, have registered protests to the Board of Assessors, some of the protestants claiming their furniture has been taxed too high. The tax on office furniture of those in this profession and business is levied for the purpose of relieving to some degree, the burden borne by real estate owners.

Cabot To Run For School Committee

C. Raymond Cabot of Bulloah Park, Newtonville, will be a candidate for member of the School Committee from Ward 2. Mr. Cabot makes the following announcement:

"I have been asked by many old friends and neighbors to be a candidate for the School Committee from Ward 2. I have never before been a candidate for a public elective office in our city government, though through the years I have tried to serve the community in such things as might, to some degree, maintain and advance the character of our city.

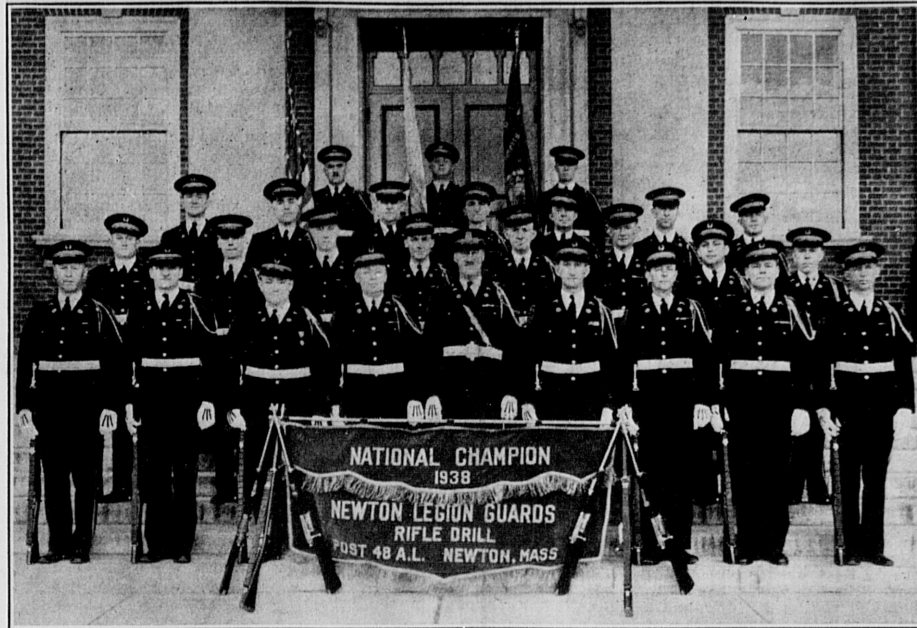

"I was born in Newtonville in 1891, attended public schools, graduated from Newton High School in 1908, from Dartmouth in 1912, and from Boston University Law School in 1915. I have seen our city grow from a little over 30,000 in population to approximately 70,000.

"I am conscious of the individual problems that confront us as parents for I have a child in the junior high school. Beyond the individual problem is the relationship that our school system bears to the city as a whole and to the citizens who, as taxpayers, have to support it. If elected, I shall try to give to the consideration of these problems the benefit of such experience as it has been my good fortune to enjoy as a citizen of Newton.

He is employed at the Silver Lake Garage, Newtonville.

The Newton Legion Guards, drill team of Newton Post, American Legion, for the third successive year won the national championship at the convention of that organization by capturing first prize at Chicago on Monday. The Newton team scored 93.12 points, the highest rating given since this competition started. The Milwaukee drill team was second. The Newton drill team was organized in 1924 and has since won many competitions, including the championship of Massachusetts and the national championship at New York in 1937 and at Los Angeles last year.

The team has been commanded and drilled by Captain J. Joseph Ward. (Continued on page 12)

Aldermen Enjoy Outing at Marion

Members of the Newton Board of Aldermen and department heads journeyed to Marion last Sunday and enjoyed a second annual outing at the summer home of Alderman George Bacon of Abundance. Mr. Bacon is a native of Marion. Most of those who attended the affair, spent a couple of hours in the morning fishing from two motor boats, one of which is owned by Alderman Henderson Inches whose summer home is at Wareham. The fish, however, were not biting well and a small catch resulted. Alderman Carl Schipper, who proved to be a poor sailor last year when the sea was choppy, stole a march on his colleagues. He journeyed to Wareham with Alderman Inches on Saturday, fished in the calm waters of the canal, and caught seven large sea-bass.

At 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon the party drove to "Brown's" at Fairhaven and risked acute indigestion by partaking of a shore dinner, which included clam chowder, baked clams, lobster fish, sausages, corn and various other edibles. The afternoon was spent in tennis matches, horse-shoe contest and a bridge game.

Six Rescued At Newton Ctr. Fire

Six persons, including a blind, elderly woman were taken down over ladders by Newton firemen at the home of Frank H. Stewart, 83 Sumner st., Newton Centre, early this morning. Members of the family were aroused about 1 o'clock by dense smoke which filled the house. A telephone call at 1:05 brought Engine 3 to the house and an alarm was sent in from Box 733 at 1:07. A second alarm followed at 1:12. The fire which started under a stairway on the first floor, made rapid headway, and the firemen did well in confining it to that floor. The damage is estimated at $3000. The house is owned by Vincent Squires of Newton Highlands.

Newton Girl Home From Europe Trip

Miss Virginia Rowland of 166 Oakleigh rd., Newton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William D. Rowland, arrived in New York on Wednesday on the steamship Orizaba, which sailed from Glasgow on September 19. She was one of a party of eleven girls who had been touring Europe this summer. They were scheduled to sail from Glasgow on August 25, but the commandeering of boats by the British government because of the imminence of war, prevented them from departing as scheduled. Two of the party obtained passage on a boat late in August, four others obtained passage on the Orizaba with Miss Rowland, and three, including Miss Nancy Flagg of Newtonville, are still in Scotland.

Childs' Campaign Committee Files With City Clerk

A statement of membership and purposes was filed at the City Clerk's office on Monday by the "Childs' Non-Partisan Committee." The committee includes — Herman F. Wells of Newton Centre, chairman; William A. Sprout of Newton, vice chairman; Herbert N. McGill of Abundance, secretary; Thomas W. White of Upper Falls (and Washington), treasurer; William E. Earle of Newton and Charles W. Henderson, Jr., and West Newton. These six men were members of similar committees in 1935 and 1937.

The committee in registering its membership and purpose with the City Clerk stated—that its purpose is "To promote the election of candidates of probity and ability who stand for a policy of fair valuation of property, allowing the tax rate to be the gauge of expenditure of the taxpayers' money. The committee will work for full publicity of all public business, the needed expansion of school facilities, and the proper care of all Wards of the city." The committee also stated that it will furnish information on questions of public policy, and provide meeting places for the discussions of affairs of government in this city.

Boston & Worcester Bus Company Against Permit Asked By Peter Pan Line

Attorney for B & W Says Competition Should Not Be Permitted, Even Though Proposed
Line Does Not Go To Worcester

The outstanding feature of the meeting of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night was a public hearing on the petition of Peter Pan Lines, doing business as Peter Pan Bus Lines, for a license to operate motor vehicles for the carriage of passengers in and from Newton on the Worcester turnpike between the Brookline and Wellesley lines.

Mr. Picknelly, the petitioner, explained that for several years he has operated the bus lines between Springfield and Boston via Stafford Springs, Connecticut, under an interstate license. In 1937 he started another bus route between Springfield and Wales, Massachusetts. It is his purpose to extend this latter line to Boston through Monson, Wales and Sturbridge, the whole way in this State. To do this he would have to obtain licenses from all towns and cities along the route, which will be 8 miles shorter each way than the present route. The new arrangement would not interfere, he said, with any other bus line, as he does not propose to pick up passengers in Newton, but will run express from Boston, and the line will not go to Worcester. Mr. Picknelly said that 85 per cent of the towns enroute have granted him licenses.

Edmund Openheimer, State Senator from Springfield, also favored the granting of the license. He said that at present there is a lack of proper bus facilities between Springfield and Boston, and the proposed new route will be of great convenience to residents of Hampden, Wales and Monson, as these people now have to travel westerly to Springfield to get Boston buses.

Myron E. Pierce of Wellesley, appearing as counsel for the Boston & Worcester bus company (which he designated as the Boston, Worcester & New York Street Railway) protested against the granting of the license. He said it would mean competition for the Boston & Worcester bus line, which he alleged has given excellent service for 36 years. He argued that it has been the policy of the State not to grant bus permits which will cause competition to well established companies, because if such competition is allowed there will not be as good service. Pierce contended that the Peter Pan line would compete with the Boston & Worcester Company beyond Worcester, because the B. & W. carries passengers to Worcester and then they take the "Short Line" (a differently owned company) from Worcester to Springfield. Pierce said that granting a license to Picknelly "Would not be in our interest, therefore, it would not be in your interest." Pierce argued that Picknelly (despite the latter's statement that he does not intend to pick up passengers in Newton) would make stops in this city by retaining his interstate license. Picknelly had stated that he is willing to have the Newton license so granted that it will prohibit him making stops in this city, and he also said he is considering giving up his interstate license.

Attorney Pierce in referring to Mr. Picknelly's statement that he has obtained licenses in towns along 85 per cent of the proposed route, said that the Boston & Worcester had not been notified of hearings in these places. John P. Carr, counsel for the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, which has the sole right to operate bus routes in Newton, said his client objected to any license which would permit the Peter Pan Line to pick up passengers in Newton, and suggested that the license be so worded. Alderman Temperley, who for years has been attempting to force the M. & B. to extend transfer privileges, made reference to this matter. The petition was referred to the Licenses Committee.

Three Newton Men 33d Degree Masons

At the meeting of the Supreme Council of the Scottish Rite Masons in Hotel Statler on Wednesday night, three Newton men were among the 106 who received the 33d Degree. They are Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Alderman Theodore Lackwood, and Walter McCammon, well known Newton shoe merchant. All three have been prominent in Newton Masonic circles. Rev. M. H. Lichter of Columbus, Ohio, formerly minister at the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, was one of three elected members of the Supreme Council.

Wogan To Run For School Committee

Joseph F. Wogan of 394 Kenrick st., Newton, has yielded to the requests of citizens, not only of Ward 7, but in all parts of the city, and will run as a candidate for re-election to the School Committee as the member from Ward 7. Mr. Wogan has served 3 years on the committee, and is regarded as one of its most valuable members. Franklin E. Smith of Ward 1, chairman of the School Committee, and a member for the past 6 years will not be a candidate for re-election. It is believed that Harry Bryant of Ward 2, Ralph F. Taber of Ward 3, Howard Knowlton of Ward 4 and Clark Bristol of Ward 6, will run for re-election to the committee. Mrs. Margaret Woods of Ward 5 has already announced her candidacy.

CHAMPIONS AGAIN

The Newton American Legion Post drill team has won its third consecutive national championship at the annual Legion convention in Chicago, this week. In so doing the Legion Guards have again brought honor to all of Newton. It is no easy task for any group or body of men to combine their individual efforts into the action of a unit. When that unison becomes so perfect that it is nationally the best it is a distinct honor. When that achievement is repeated and repeated again all credit is due each and every man who has done his part. Captain Joe Ward has given the Guards inspiring leadership throughout the years in the climb to national recognition and to him especial credit is due. All of Newton extends congratulations to the Legion Guards for the honor they have brought to themselves and to their home city.

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor,

Dear Sir: It has been brought to my attention that certain malevolent spirits, with more imagination than brains, are circulating a story to the effect that I am in the campaign for the office of Mayor solely for the purpose of aiding the candidacy of Representative Paul Goddard.

Nothing is further from the truth. I have had enough political experience to know that this sort of thing is to be expected in every campaign, and I do not intend to notice every rumor that is put in circulation. But this one may as well be squelched here and now.

Every citizen has the right to run for any office to which he aspires without having his motives questioned. And this applies to myself as well as Mr. Goddard.

Representative Goddard, in his first year at the State House, has performed very good service, and I am sure his constituents will insist that he continue his good work and remain in the Legislature for at least another year.

The contest for Mayor is between the present incumbent and myself. I am convinced that Mr. Childs would have retired this year and left a clear field to me, did he not feel that he could be of more service to his fellows in the office of Mayor than in any other public position.

Nevertheless, I believe that he should now retire and permit a new pilot to take the helm.

Respectfully yours,
JAMES A. WATERS.

The first fall meeting of the Club was held Sept. 26th with supper provided by Helen Jewett and her committee. The entertainment was the now popular Question Box.

Short Biography Of Jas. A. Waters Out for Mayor

James A. Waters, candidate for the office of Mayor, in the election to be held on November 7, is one of seven sons born to Anne and Patrick Waters, who were born in Ireland and settled in Newton Centre in 1870, where they resided continuously until their deaths recently at 84 Clinton place. James A. Waters was born in Newton Centre, December 3, 1885, and has been a resident of Newton since that date. He was educated in Newton Schools and Northeastern Law School. After four years of study evenings at the Law School he received his degree of Bachelor of Laws, cum laude, in June 1911. Meanwhile, on August 23, 1910, he had been admitted to the Massachusetts Bar, and immediately entered upon the practice of his profession. He was admitted to practice in the United States Court on September 21, 1915.

He was a candidate for the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1912 and 1913. In 1914, he was appointed by Mayor Edwin O. Childs as a member of the Board of Registrars and served continuously on the Board until July 7, 1936, when he resigned to devote more time to his profession. He was Chairman of the Board from 1924 until he retired, having been appointed by Mayor Childs and re-appointed by Mayor Sinclair Weeks.

Because a state law prohibits a member of the Board of Registrars from becoming a candidate, Mr. Waters has not run for election to any office since he first was appointed to the Board. He has maintained a keen interest in politics, however, and has been active in almost every campaign since he first became a voter.

During his many years on the Board of Registrars he became well known throughout the city and was and still is a familiar figure at City Hall. He has made the most of the opportunity which was his to familiarize himself with the work of the various departments and to keep informed on municipal affairs.

Mr. Waters speaks his mind frankly and openly on all public matters which arouse his interest. In the spring of 1937, he called the attention of the citizens of Newton to the fact that the per capita cost of conducting their schools was the highest of any city in the State. He severely criticized the School Department at that time and believes that the present tendency towards economy in the schools is the direct result of his activities.

Prior to that, he had led a movement to remove from the School Committee a member whom he accused of belonging to certain communistic organizations. Mr. Waters enlisted in the U. S. Army in May of 1917, and was sent to the First Officers Training Camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y., where he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Infantry. He was later successfully promoted to the ranks of First Lieutenant and Captain. He was a battalion staff officer and served as Judge Advocate and as a member of many Court Martials until he was given command of Co. H, 74th Infantry, 12th Division, in August of 1918. He was retired from the service on December 30 of that year.

Mr. Waters is a member of many military, fraternal and social organizations, but he declines to refer to them in this political campaign. He says that "it is poor politics and poorer taste for a candidate to attempt to capitalize his membership in any organization for the purpose of obtaining votes."

During the campaign about to open, Mr. Waters will endeavor to point out the causes for high taxes on real estate and will suggest a remedy. This is his principal campaign issue.

Mr. Waters married on October 14, 1925, Rose Mary Burgess, daughter of Mary and Patrick Henry Burgess, late of Franklin. They reside at 3 Aberdeen st., Newton Highlands, and have one son, James Patrick Waters, aged 12.

Rotary Club

The final talk in a series on the general subject of Social Service was given at the regular meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. The speaker was Mr. Noyes Collins, director of the Cambridge Community Federation and the Cambridge Community Council.

The discussion of the relationship between private and public social agencies showed the strength and power of the public agencies as contrasted to the meagerness and understanding of private agencies, both of which are enhanced and correlated by the Community Councils and Chest organizations.

Social service in Newton in one year amounted to approximately 43,000 units of service, with an approximate expenditure of $1,700,000. The Community Council and Community Chest can serve as a representative of the tax payers to use judgment and planning and regulate distribution in a correlated and preventive attitude.

Two Robberies At West Newton

John DeSimone of 45 Oak ave., West Newton reported to the police on Monday that while his family was absent from his home over the weekend, some burglar entered the house and stole $35 in silver from a small bank there.

Madeline Hall of 1277 Washington st., West Newton reported to the police that a pocketbook containing $4 in cash and a check was stolen from her shop at 1282 Washington st. last Saturday. The empty pocketbook was later found at the rear of 1296 Washington st.

Broken Water Main Discolors Water

A charge of dynamite set off by employees of the Newton Street Department, who were blasting rock at the junction of Commonwealth ave. and Fuller st., Waban last Friday morning at 11:25 broke a 20 inch water main and caused the loss of about 1½ million gallons of water. A crew of Water Department employees was rushed to the scene and shut off the flow of water in about an hour. In the meantime the water supply in a number of houses in that section was stopped, and water in the mains all over the city became badly discolored and the Water Department became deluged with complaints. The discoloration in the water lessened on Saturday and ceased Sunday evening except in houses where persons had been away over the weekend. Water Commissioner Murray and assistants were at the scene of the break on Sunday and a new section of pipe was installed.

Two Injured In Falls Down Stairs

Robert S. Bell, 26, of 93 Waban Park, Newton received a possible fracture of the skull when he fell down a flight of stairs last Saturday night at 19 Pulsifer st., Newtonville where he was visiting. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

John McEnaney, 29, of 1075 Washington st., West Newton, fell down stairs at his home last Saturday evening and received an injury to his spine. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Lloyd Hewitt, 13, of 2262 Washington st., Lower Falls, while feeding chickens in the back yard of his home last Saturday, stumbled and fell into the Charles River. One of his hands came in contact with a broken part of an old bed that had been dumped into the river. The boy received a severe cut on the hand and was taken to the Newton Hospital by Motorcycle Officer Dowling.

Accessories Stolen From Automobiles

While automobiles owned by Marion Dodge of 106 Parker ave., Newton Centre, and Joseph Capella of Park st., Dorchester, were parked on Parker ave., some thief stole fog lights off both cars.

An automobile owned by George Rogers of Lake Hill ave., Arlington, was reported stolen Saturday night by someone who phoned to Newton Police headquarters. It was later learned that Mr. Rogers' son was married that evening at Walpole, and someone phoned in the report of the alleged theft, which was stated to have occurred while the car was parked on Centre st. at Newton Corner. The practical joker thought that the groom would drive through Newton in the allegedly stolen car.

In the attendance work she will substitute for Miss Elizabeth Deans, who was granted a leave of absence for 6 months in order to attend New York University.

A meeting to form a Blaine and Logan torchlight company will be held at City Hall on Saturday evening.

Newton Centre is first in the field with a fully organized torchlight campaign club. The Blaine and Logan Club met at Mason school hall on Thursday and 40 members enrolled.

Rev. Samuel Francis Smith, the honored author of our national hymn, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," celebrated with his wife their golden wedding on Tuesday afternoon and evening at their home on Centre st., Newton Centre. The house was thronged for hours with the many who came to offer congratulations, over 700 invitations having been sent out. The visitors were received cordially by the host and hostess, and there were no formal exercises. In the evening the grounds were brightly illuminated. Of the six children of the aged couple, four were present, also 14 grandchildren.

Among the many noteworthy letters received were the following from Dr. Smith's classmate, Oliver Wendell Holmes; and from Mrs. Smith's schoolmate, John G. Whittier:

Beverly Farms,

September 9, 1884.

My dear Smith—I wish I could be with you at the home festival which crowns your 50 years of golden wedded life. There is no more beautiful record among whose names are in our class book than your own. And no one among them all, living on the earth or elsewhere, can or could greet you more warmly, with every kind wish for yourself, your faithful companion, and all those nearest who gather beneath your roof than

Your affectionate friend and classmate,

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

Danvers,

September, 10, 1884.

To Mrs. Mary W. Smith: I thank thee for thy very kind letter. I am not at this time able to accept the invitation owing to the debility of age and illness. I have never ceased to remember the pleasant days when thou and I, and the few who remain, and the many who have gone, were schoolmates at the old Haverhill Academy. It would give me great pleasure to be with thee on the rare and beautiful occasion. With love to thy husband, whose song of our country is sung wherever on land or sea in any part of the world Americans are found, I am, my dear schoolmate, thine, with every good wish

Thy old friend,

JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Many beautiful gifts were received, among them $30 in gold; a silk crazy quilt of 56 pieces given by friends in distant places, one piece coming from India. Dr. Smith has passed his entire life in New England, having been born in Boston, Oct. 28, 1808. He graduated at Harvard in 1829 and at Andover Theological in 1832. He came to Newton Centre in 1856 and for 12 1/2 years was pastor of the Baptist Church. His famous hymn, "America," was written for a children's festival at the Park Street Church in Boston on July 4, 1832.

Owing to the sudden cold snap, school at Newton Highlands was dismissed on Monday, thus giving the scholars an unexpected holiday. This will not happen again, as a supply of fuel has been put in. It was only four days previous that the schools were closed on account of the heat.

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

The other day as I stood talking with Patrolman Walter Jenkins on Watertown st., he shouted a warning to a small boy on the other side of the street. I asked what the youngster was doing, and was informed that he had blown peas from a pea shooter at drivers of passing automobiles. The following day I observed another youngster on California st. indulging in the same dangerous pastime, and since then I have observed a number of small boys on Newton streets brandishing pea shooters. The sale of this "toy," primarily designed for small boys to use in tormenting grown-ups or other children, has been forbidden in many cities and towns. Similar action should be taken by the police of Newton.

For the past three weeks, workmen have been engaged grading and landscaping the grounds at the new Lincoln-Eliot school on Pearl st., Newton. This work should have been started three or four weeks sooner. Had it been, the grass would be well started on the lawns at the school before the building will be occupied for school purposes on Nov. 6, and before the killing frosts come.

There is much conjecture as to the failure of the French and English to commence a widespread, violent attack against the Germans on the Western Front, or vice versa. It seems that the Allies are afraid and the Nazis don't. As Senator Borah commented, it is a very queer war. The civilized world, on the whole, would be satisfied if the war continues to fail to become hellishly violent, with the resultant slaughter of non-combatants in addition to the soldiers at the front. It is commonly supposed that the strength of the Maginot Line is deterring the Germans, and the strength of the Siegfried Line is causing the French and English from attempting advances on a large scale. It is not improbable, however, that the Nazis are waiting until they bring their armies from Poland, and that they will then start a terrific drive, after they have strafed the Allied forces with their thousands of airplanes. It remains to be seen if Germany's alleged great numerical advantage in airplanes will be a vital factor in blasting the Maginot Line, and in overcoming the superiority of the British navy.

When Frank Goodwin resumed the office of Registrar of Motor Vehicles several years ago, one of his first announcements was—that he would forbid the use of 32 candlepower bulbs on automobile headlights, and order the use of 21 candlepower bulbs, which had been used until shortly before that time. He claimed that the more powerful bulbs caused dangerous glare on highways at night, particularly when the headlights were out of focus, as they commonly are on a large percentage of cars. Hundreds of thousands of autoists agreed with Mr. Goodwin, but he did not go through on his statement regarding the larger bulbs. Since then Mr. Goodwin has engaged in considerable controversy regarding the use of the drop-beam on headlights, and many motorists who drive at night differ with the Registrar in this matter.

Now, a new type of headlight is standard equipment on many 1940 automobiles and instead of 32 candlepower bulbs, the new headlights will contain 50 candlepower bulbs. This means that the glare from headlights at night may be much worse than at present, and more accidents will result. Organized action should be taken by citizens throughout Massachusetts to stop the use of these unnecessarily large bulbs, lessen the glare nuisance on our highways, and prevent an increase in accidents, especially the killing of pedestrians.

An old resident of Newton Corner who held a commission in the National Guard for years, and later in the U. S. Army, asked us the other day,—"Ed, how can we keep out of this war?" Our answer was not courteous, because we have little patience with this question which so many are asking. Our reply was—"Don't ask such a foolish question. We can keep out of this war by minding our own business." This was what Holland, Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries did during the World War in 1914-1918, and these countries were nearer to the scenes of that terrible strife, and much more adversely affected than was this country before it became a participant in that "War to End Wars," and to "Make the World Safe for Democracy."

History repeats itself—in Newton as elsewhere. During the many times in the past when Edwin O. Childs has been a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor of this city, persons who had severely criticized him politically, climbed onto his hand-wagon shortly before election time. The same thing is happening again.

smithing for the Fire Department, amounting to $150, which had not been paid. The highway department has heretofore paid such bills because the horses were used in common by both departments. The Highway Committee thinks that the fire department should shoe its own horses, now that it has them, but the fire department says its appropriations won't hold out if they have to pay these bills.

Some of the Mayor's foremost supporters now, are individuals who were panning him only a few months ago.

For the past two weeks imitating (or emulating) Walter Lippman, Dorothy Thompson, Boake Carter, Joe Dineen, John Barry and various other commentators of national and local fame, we had our pziz at the top of this column. But, enough is enough, and we shall refrain from boring our readers with too constant a repetition of our likeness.

City Councilor Elder on Monday night presented an order to the Waltham City Council asking that the Woerd st. dump in that city be converted into a park area. Mr. Elder stated that the dump has been a nuisance for some years not only to the section of Waltham where it is located, but also to considerable areas in West Newton and Auburndale. Fires have frequently occurred at the dump and have sometimes lasted for days. Foul-smelling smoke from these fires has blown over those parts of West Newton and Auburndale within a radius of more than a half mile from the dump, which is located at the Waltham-Newton line. It is not a neighborly act for a town or city to locate a dump at the border of another community, so Mr. Elder's action will be appreciated by many persons in this city who have been bothered by smoke and rats from the Woerd ave. dump.

Inasmuch as twenty-one Aldermen and seven School Committee members must be elected at the coming election on November 7, there will be many candidates for these offices which compose the full membership of the Board. It is of vital importance therefore, that citizens and taxpayers of Newton who naturally should desire this city to be as well governed in the future as it has been in the past, and who want our zoning ordinance safeguarded against increasing attempts to weaken it, shall carefully consider the qualifications of all candidates for Mayor, the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee. Each candidate should stand on his own two feet, and should not seek votes by trying to be a tail to somebody else's kite, by attempting to capitalize on someone else's popularity.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night a public hearing was held on the petition of Peter Pickenly, owner of the Peter Pan Bus Lines who asked for a license to operate through Newton on the Worcester turnpike. We don't know why Mr. Pickenly adopted such a title for his bus line, but he made a quite effective, business like presentation of his case to the Aldermen. He has operated a bus line from Springfield to Boston for 7 years via Stafford Springs, Connecticut on an interstate license. He desires to operate this line via Wales and Sturbridge, with the entire route in Massachusetts, and therefore he must obtain licenses from all towns or cities through which his line will pass. He has obtained such licenses from towns which contain 85 per cent of the route.

Opposing the petition was the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, which has the exclusive privilege to operate busses in Newton. This objection was limited. It confined itself to opposing any privilege being given to Mr. Pickenly to pick up passengers in this city, and the petitioner stated he does not desire such a privilege. Also, opposing the petition was the Boston, Worcester & New York Street Railway, which ceased to be a railway some years ago. And any attorney for this company would have a difficult time in convincing a large percentage of Massachusetts citizens that it was unselfish in its dealings with the taxpayers of this State, when fresh in our memories is the knowledge of the nearly successful attempt of the B. & W. to obtain from Massachusetts taxpayers a huge sum for alleged damages caused by the construction of the modern Worcester turnpike several years ago; an attempt frustrated by the ability of Assistant Attorney General Edward O. Proctor of this city, and the decision of the Supreme Court of Massachusetts.

Moreover, the Boston & Worcester within the past few years endeavored to obtain a bus license in Waltham, which would have permitted it to compete with the Middlesex & Boston company on local traffic between Waltham and Boston. It makes a difference whose ox is gored.

Physical Exams of Pupils Curtailed

During the coming school years physical examinations will not be given to children in all elementary grades in Newton public schools, as has been the practice in recent years. The reason given by the Health Department for the change is that the item in the budget for this work was reduced from $2500 to $2150. Examinations will be given to pupils in the kindergarten, third, fifth, seventh and ninth grades. Also to new pupils and boys on athletic teams at the high school. The staff of school physicians has been reduced from 11 to 10. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Joseph Ferrone will not be filled.

GIFFORD—SMITH

Mr. and Mrs. Newell C. Smith announce the marriage of their granddaughter Barbara Smith to Frank T. Gifford of Wollaston at Auburndale on Saturday, Sept. 23rd.

BUTLER—BURTON

Ferns, palms and green boughs decorated the Evangelical Congregational Church of Needham Saturday evening for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Nadine Burton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Burton of Needham, and E. Earl Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Butler of Newton, N. H., formerly of Newtonville. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. Edward M. Condit was the officiating clergyman at the 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony, which was followed by a reception in the church parlors.

The white faille taffeta gown worn by the bride was an adaptation of the Edwardian fashion featuring back fullness and a bustle. The short veil of tulle was caught to a headdress of white carnations and gypsophila, repeating the flowers of the old-fashioned bridal bouquet.

Her two sisters and only attendants, Miss Ruth Olive Burton and Mrs. Dalton H. Wein, wore costumes of sea-green blue faille taffeta of the same 19th century design as the bride's gown. They wore deep red carnations and white gypsophila in their hair and carried arm bouquets of the same flowers.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Mr. Herbert Perry Butler of Sudbury. The ushers were H. Winston Mercer of West Newton, Dalton H. Wein of Needham, Vincent G. Morgan of Worcester and John King of Worcester.

Mrs. Burton, mother of the bride, was gown in deep red purple crepe and wore a corsage of white carnations and gypsophila at the V-shaped neckline. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Butler, wore silvery gray taffeta with the purple and cerise of the bustle repeated in an aster corsage. On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Butler will reside in Westborough after October 20th.

Expect Successful Season

The Thompsonville Red Skins of Newton Centre, who were co-champions of the city football league last year are ready and waiting to get started on their way to an undisputed title this year.

Last year's strong outfit has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Ted Duffy and John Fitzgerald, former high school captains; Fred McGrath, Sacred Heart's greatest all round athlete; Burt McMullin, Cushing Academy's star halfback of 1938; Ralph Salvucci and John Mcque. These boys will all bolster up the great team which Guido Castoldi and John Rossi led to victory over every team in the league last year.

Coaches Grogan and DeMaio are looking forward at the possibilities of an undefeated and an unscathed season.

SPORT NOTES

The Newton Centre Business Men's Bowling Team had their first game at the Commonwealth Recreation Room, Allston, on Wednesday night.

Ashley, Substitute Back, Grabs Fumble, Giving Locals 6-6 Tie

Newton High seized a big break in the final period of its opening 1939 football season against Cambridge Latin last Saturday to eke out a 6 to 6 tie and avert impending defeat. The visiting eleven was one of the strongest Cantab outfits that Newton fans have seen in some years. Sporting a fast, hard running back in Captain Johnny Randall and an able backfield mate in Bill Boudreau the Cantabs were a continual threat. In the line right tackle Barbytis was the wheelhorse of the visitor's line. Big and powerful he was continually opening up holes in the lighter Newton line.

An intercepted pass by the fleet Randall early in the third quarter set the stage for the first 1939 touchdown at the Dickinson stadium field. The Cantab quarterback raced down the sideline after snaring the pigskin at the Newton 40 yard stripe. Joe Beatty, who played an outstanding game in the Newton backfield, came across to bring Randall down at the 5 yard mark.

Newton supporters had visions of a repetition of an earlier goaline stand by the home eleven but Randall and Boudreau put the ball inches from the goaline in two thrusts and then Randall went over on a guard buck. Macalone, Newton end, blocked Barbytis' try for placement.

Newton came back undaunted and shortly before the end of the third period received the ball on a punt to the Newton 30 with Ashley getting back five yards before being downed. Failing to gain Beatty kicked to Boudreau who twisted his way for 15 yards to Cambridge 37. As he was tackled he fumbled and Newton recovered for a glorious opportunity. Ashley picked up two yards around end as the period ended.

On the first play of the final quarter Ashley was smothered for a seven yard loss with Hurley getting back two on the next play. Beatty dropped back to toss a pass into Captain Brooks Heath's arms. The Newton leader, momentarily free, reached the Cambridge 20 where he was hit from two sides, fumbling as he went down. Ashley, who had replaced Rezzuti some time previously, was Johnny-on-the-spot. Picking up the ball on the bounce he sidestepped his way to the goaline to tie the count. With victory in sight by means of a successful point the try for goal failed.

First Period

Boyer's kickoff skidded along the ground and Heath recovered a fumbled ball at the Cambridge 30. Two line thrusts netted seven yards and Beatty made it first down on the 17. Randall intercepted Heath's pass to give the visitors the ball, returning it 10 yards to his own 25. Failing to gain the Cantabs kicked. Hurley lost the ball at the Newton 40 but raced back and recovered it at the Newton 25. Slight gains offset by an offside penalty Newton had to kick and Beatty got off a beauty that was finally downed on the visitors 3 yard line while the Newton stands called for a score. Randall again averted impending disaster with a pretty run to his 25 yard line and eventually Cambridge kicked to Hurley just beyond midfield. With Rezzuti picking up some yardage and an offside against Cambridge the home team made it first down as the period ended.

Second Period

On the third play of the quarter Beatty again kicked, the ball going out of bounds at the Cambridge 13. In a series of six first downs the visitors swept right down the field to the Newton 5 yard stripe. Randall reeled off several goodly gains including one of 17 yards. In the shadow of the east goal the Newton team stiffened and with a gallant defensive stand stopped three thrusts which with an incomplete pass gave the orange and black the ball on downs. A few plays later the half ended, giving Newton a much needed breathing spell.

Third Period

Hurley kicked off to Boudreau with the Cambridge back making a beautiful runback of 40 yards to the midfield stripe. On third down a punt went to Hurley at the Newton 30. Ashley and Hurley picked up a first down in three plays. Beatty attempted a pass but Randall came in fast to snatch the ball and race toward the goaline with Beatty coming over to overhaul the fleet Cantabrigian and bring him down five yards from the pay-off line. Cambridge would not be denied this time and tallied, failing to kick the goal. Ashley took the ensuing kickoff from his 10 yard line to the 33. Beatty kicked on fourth down but Cambridge was offside and Beatty kicked again to the Cambridge 30. A return punt gave Newton the ball again on their own 35 and another kick was fumbled by Boudreau and recovered by Newton on the Cambridge 37. Ashley picked up two yards as the period ended.

Fourth Period

Newton scored in three more plays. During the remainder of the period both teams took occasional flyers in the air but for the most part they were content to concentrate on defensive tactics. Cambridge intercepted a Newton pass but shortly after Fisher recovered a fumble to keep Newton in Cantab territory. As the game was drawing to a close a visitor's punt set Newton back to its 5 yard line. Beatty picked up seven yards as Boyer opened up a hole for him and Hurley made it first down in two more thrusts as time expired.

NEWTON ELEVEN PLAYS ARLINGTON TOMORROW

Makes First Trip Of 1939 For Second Game of Season

Coach Owen MacDowell's Newton high football team makes its first trip away from home tomorrow trekking over to Arlington. The Spy Ponders, smarting under a 6 to 0 defeat at the hands of Leominster high last Saturday, are on the comeback path ready to meet all comers and should be rated pre-game favorites over the orange and black.

Following last Saturday's tie with Cambridge Latin, the Newton coaching staff has been working hard on many of the weak points which showed up in the first set-to. A long scrimmage session with Wellesley high was staged on Wednesday afternoon and much was accomplished. Although it has been practically impossible to iron out all of the difficulties which cropped up during the first game last Saturday, considerable progress has been made.

The annual Newton-Arlington affair, which dates back some seven years, has developed considerable rivalry between the two schools and it is expected that a considerable number of fans will make the trip to support the team.

Unless unforeseen developments take place, the Newton mentor will start the same eleven boys that took the field last week against the Cantabs. This eleven had Captain Brooks Heath at quarterback, Joe Beatty and Tony Rezzuti at the halves, and Walter Hurley at fullback. Ross will start at centre, flanked by Hugo and McNeill as guards, Boyer and Kaloudian at tackles, and Macalone and Teschner on the wings. Two of the first-string reserves, Bill Ranganow, centre, and Carl Fisher, guard, are suffering from boils which may keep them out of action on Saturday. Other Newton players who may keep here and there, the remainder of the squad is in fine fettle.

One of the interesting bits of news from Clafin field is the promotion of Gilbert Dobie, son of the well-known Boston College coach, from the intermediate squad to a varsity rating. Young Dobie, who incidentally has never had any previous team experience, has shown considerable promise and may see considerable service against the Spy Ponders tomorrow.

During the week the first string reserves have been showing improved form and a disposition to scrap for places on the starting line-up with the possibility that before another week is over some of them may get a chance to show their worth.

Although Arlington High opened its season two weeks ago with a 13 to 0 win over Winchester High, followed by the loss to Leominster last week, and thus has a two-game experience to but the solitary conflict for the locals the Newton eleven will be in there all the time.

Last week against the Cantabs there were several highlights. Joe Beatty's kicking and general all-around play were outstanding and in coming games he will be a lad to be watched. Although the line was consistently outcharged by the heavier Cambridge wall the locals staged a gallant defensive goal-line stand which proved that they had the courage to take what comes when the pressure is heaviest. During the week Newton safety men have been working diligently on the catching of punts with the expectation that repetition of the jittery handling of the ball last Saturday will be minimized. Considerable progress has also been made in the art of blocking the lack of which last week made several possible gains materially reduced in potential yardage. Following the visit to Arlington tomorrow the Newton eleven will return to home competition on Saturday, Oct. 7th entertaining the Quincy High outfit which opens its season tomorrow against a potential strong Brookline High team at Brookline.

One Year In Jail For Assaulting 9-Year-Old Girl

George D. Neal, 48, of 26 Phillips st., Watertown was sentenced by Judge Gray in the Superior court at East Cambridge on Tuesday to serve one year in Billerica prison. He was found guilty of having committed assault and battery on a nine year old Newton girl. He was originally charged with a more serious offense, but the judge permitted the less serious charge.

On July 27, Neal, formerly a clergyman, accosted the little girl at the Burr Park playground and on the pretext of showing her how to do a puzzle, lured her to the partly enclosed entrance of the Underwood School on Baldwin st. The janitor of the school unexpectedly came out of the building and the child's father learned of the occurrence. He obtained a warrant for Neal's arrest. Several friends of Neal testified as to his previous high character, and one woman who so testified stated that she did not believe he committed the offense, even after Judge Gray told her that Neal had admitted his guilt.

Course In Selling To Start October 5

Courses in Retail Selling and Retail Store Organization will start on October 5 at the evening school at the Technical High School Building, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. The course will be conducted by Charles E. Barry of the William Filene Sons' Company of Boston, and persons wishing to register may do so on October 2 and 3 from 7 to 9. There will be classes each week on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings from October until February.

Aldermen Meet

The petition of Raymond De Rubels for a permit to store 12,000 gallons of fuel oil in underground tanks at 78 Crafts st., Newton, was granted by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night. Alderman Fahey explained that the objection to the permit by a Newton bank (holding a mortgage on a piece of adjoining property) has been withdrawn. He said that an agreement had been reached whereby the petitioner will erect a fence between his property and that of the Maguire family, who had objected to the granting of the permit. Fahey also said that Chief Randlett of the Fire Department had approved the proposed locations of the fuel oil tanks.

Residents of Bemis rd., Newtonville, asked for the improvement and acceptance of that street. They stated that in winter months they cannot, at times, drive automobiles over the street because of mud and holes there. The petition of Minnie Whalen and others, protesting against the use of a building at 25 Clark ter. (in a residence zone) as a shop for WPA projects was given leave to withdraw. Alderman Rawson said that this is an executive matter which has to be handled by the Mayor instead of the Aldermen.

Among the appropriations passed by the Aldermen were—pension for David Kerney, retired street department employee, $355.88; for care of new library building at Newtonville, $480; for purchase of Stearns land on Watertown st., $3750, plus tax adjustments; Water Department, mains in Pond Brook and Woodcliff rds., $2575; sewers in Bemis rd., $2415; in Plimpton rd., $3412; Woodside rd., $650; drain in Watertown st., $1700. The recommendation of Mayor Childs for an appropriation of $1166.66 for the salary of the Director of Recreation from September 15 through December 31, was not passed by the aldermen. Neither was a recommended appropriation of $11,000 for a sewer in Roundwood rd.

The trustees of the Horace Censers Fund were authorized to sell property taken by foreclosure, and which has an estimated value of $9000. A petition was received from D. N. Richard and others, asking for the improvement of "Klondike Pass," a narrow footway leading from Bellevue st. to Lewis ter. The petition of Ella Stearns Humble, asking the city to take the balance of the Stearns property on Watertown st., Nonantum, was given leave to withdraw. Permits were granted to M. F. Ruane to alter his building at 77 Walnut st., Newtonville, to David Melman for a junk license formerly held by his late father, and to Peter Groper to use a 2000 gallon fuel tank at the former Hopewell residence on Waverley ave.

At the next meeting of the Board a hearing will be held on a petition of John Janse to use a building on Compton pl., West Newton, as a garage for nine trucks. Mayor Childs recommended an appropriation of $552 as a pension for the balance of the year for William Foley, a disabled fireman. It was held up until a report will have been received from the Veterans Hospital where Foley has been a patient. The Mayor recommended that an extension of sick leave be granted to Eliot Hutchinson, another fireman, who was injured while on duty, and that it date from April 24.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Joseph Coletti, 26, of 56 Lincoln rd., Nonantum, was arrested on Tuesday night by Patrolmen Fitz-Simmons and McManey after he was driving a car which collided with a Middlesex & Boston bus at Watertown and Crafts sts. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday on charges of drunkenness and driving a car while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until October 5.

In the Newton court on Wednesday Judge Mayberry fined Paul Tadkowsky of Somerville $25 for failing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. Sergeant Bannon testified that he blew his whistle for the defendant to stop at West Newton sq. and when Tadkowsky did not comply, Bannon pursued him to Washington st. opposite the Woodland Golf Club. John Bell of Ramstead rd., Medford, was also fined $25 on a similar charge. Patrolman Muller said he signalled Bell at Newton Center sq. Both defendants stated that they were unaware the officers signalled them to stop.

In the Newton court on Wednesday Judge Mayberry, fined Leon Grills, 23, of Longmeadow and Stanley Le Blanc, 19, of Underwood ave., West Newton, $25 each for speeding. It was the second conviction of each on this charge within a year. Among those fined $5 for speeding were Kenneth Barry of Hammett place, Chestnut Hill; Benjamin Waldman of Rotherwood rd., Newton Center; Richard Peterson of Carver rd., Watertown; and Charles McAndrew of Watertown. Jerome Proce of Winthrop and George Gunnard of Foxboro were fined $5 each for passing cars where their view was obscured.

Automobile Accidents

Donato Antonellis, 76, of 20 Jasset st., Nonantum, was hit last Saturday night at 10:45 at the intersection of Watertown and Chapel sts., Nonantum by an automobile driven by Minnie Harlow of Malden. He received an injury to his left leg.

Cars driven by Urban McIntyre of 893 Chestnut st., Boston and Donald Lambert of 218 Elliot st., Upper Falls, collided Saturday evening at Oak and Elliot sts., Upper Falls. Paul Schiavone of 1018 Chestnut st., who was riding with Lambert, received a cut on his head.

Taxpayers' Asso. Ends Drive For More Members

With its corps of nearly 300 workers making last-minute clean-up calls, the Newton Taxpayers' Association closes its annual membership drive Saturday night.

The widespread interest and approval accorded the aggressive activities of the association have made the solicitation of members much easier than in previous years, and President C. B. Jones says that all previous membership records will be broken. It is also hoped that sufficient funds will be raised to carry on to a successful conclusion numerous studies and surveys now underway or contemplated in several city departments where great economies are possible.

The Newton Taxpayers' Association is composed of citizens of Newton and as its only income is derived from annual memberships, accomplishments during the coming year will be limited only by the funds available for its work. Every taxpayer is, therefore, urged to do his share by joining now. "Individual" memberships of $1, "sustaining" memberships of $5, or "business" memberships of 40c per $1000 of assessment should be mailed at once to Newton Taxpayers' Association, Inc., at 1357 Washington st., West Newton.

Mayor Kane Talks At Newton Kiwanis

Mayor Kane of Woburn was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club. He told of having ended two rackets which had been costing the city $75,000 annually. These rackets included the hiring of old trucks, and old horses. He found all city departments overmanned with relatives of politicians holding jobs as janitors and matrons. Kane said he could not see the justice of 74% of the city's income being paid to three departments—school, police and fire, and he made salary cuts a year ago of 19% to save the city from bankruptcy, a condition that might lead to property owners losing their homes.

In one year Mayor Kane reduced the number of welfare cases from 218, costing $136,000, to 79, costing $92,000. The salary of the Mayor of Woburn is $1500, and that of the City Solicitor $1000, while janitors in that city receive $2200 and police and firemen from $2200 to $2500. He said that his efforts to cause the city to live within its income have resulted in much publicity, and that at a recent plebiscite the voters were with his policies by a ratio of 8 to 1. Mayor Kane impressed the Kiwanians as courageous and straightforward, and as a man who dares to put into practice the principles on which Democracy was founded.

Bowling Alley To End Noise Nuisance

The petition of residents of Bacon and Peabody sts., Newton asking for relief from a nuisance caused by the noise of bowling on 20 alleys at the Garden City Bowling Alleys, 320 Washington st., was given a hearing before the Licenses Committee of the Newton Aldermen last Thursday night. Since last spring the noise of balls rolling along the many alleys and hitting pins, has annoyed many residents in the vicinity, and prevented them from sleeping until the new bowling establishment closed about midnight.

As a result of the hearing, the management of the alleys agreed to close the windows at the place at 10 o'clock nights, and will also consider sound-proofing and air-conditioning the building. The management will definitely decide whether or not they will make the improvements before April 1, 1940, when the present license of the alleys expires. John O'Donnell, head of the bowling alleys company was present, and the 25 petitioners who attended, had John Killian and Cornelius Donahoe as their spokesmen.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 1.

The Golden Text is: "There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing; there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches" (Proverbs 13:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine. When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee; and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee" (Isaiah 43:1, 2).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Who that has felt the loss of human peace has not gained stronger desires for spiritual joy? The aspiration after heavenly good comes before we discover what belongs to wisdom and Love. The loss of earthly hopes and pleasures brightens the ascending path of many a heart. The pains of sense quickly inform us that the pleasures of sense are mortal and that joy is spiritual" (p. 265).

Arrest Man For Waban Burglary

John Piccirilli, 43, of 28 Faxon st., Nonantum, was arrested last Thursday afternoon by Captain Goode and Lieutenant Crowley of the Newton police, on charges of burglarizing a house at Waban. He was arraigned in the Newton court last Friday on charges of breaking and entering at the home of Dr. Benjamin H. Codman, 1743 Beacon st., Waban, and also receiving stolen property. The burglary at the Codman house occurred on May 20 and jewelry valued at $300 was stolen. Piccirilli had disposed of several pieces of the jewelry at a second-hand store on Cambridge st., Boston, and the proprietor of that store, becoming suspicious, notified Boston police. When the Boston police approached, it is alleged that Piccirilli dropped a watch and other jewelry into a box at the store. His action was observed by the store owner and the jewelry turned over to the police.

The Newton police investigated the case, and it was found that the movement of the watch allegedly dropped by Piccirilli at the Boston store was that of one stolen at Dr. Codman's home, but it had been placed in a different case. Piccirilli denied that he had entered the Codman house and claimed that he had obtained the loot from some stranger whom he met on Adams st., Nonantum.

In the Newton court last Saturday Piccirilli was found not guilty on the burglary charge. He was found guilty on the charge of receiving stolen property and sentenced to serve one year in Billerica prison. He appealed.

I know something good about you

Wouldn't this old world be better
If the folks we meet would say,
"I know something good about you!"
And then treat us just that way?

Wouldn't it be fine and dandy,
If each handclasp warm and true
Carried with it this assurance,
"I know something good about you!"

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,
If the good that's in us all
Were the only thing about us
That folks bothered to recall?

Wouldn't life be lots more happy,
If we praised the good we see?
For there's such a lot of goodness
In the worst of you and me.

Wouldn't it be nice to practice
That fine way of thinking, too?
You know something good about me!
I know something good about you!

Ducks Disturb Crystal Lakeites

Barking dogs have for generations been the cause of disturbing the sleep of persons in thickly settled neighborhoods. In recent years some nervous persons in Newton have complained of the cooing of pigeons. A year or two ago a West Newton woman was annoyed by the croaking of frogs. Now, some folks residing near Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, are complaining because the quacking of a small flock of ducks has been awakening them early mornings. They complained to the Newton Recreation Department, which in turn notified the Metropolitan District Commission, as the lake is a "great pond" and under State control. The Newton Recreation Department only controls the humans who swim at the bathing beach; not the ducks. Anyhow, probably the ducks are some of the offspring of wild mallards which were tamed in recent years by M. D. C. policemen at Auburndale on the Charles. The people who complain about the ducks at Crystal Lake should hear the bluejays early mornings in the writer's neighborhood.

Car In Collision, Driver Arrested

John Hennessey, 19, of 796 Mount Auburn st., Watertown, was arrested on Wednesday afternoon after the car he was driving had hit a car at Beacon st. and Crescent ave., Newton Centre. Hennessey had no license or registration. Clifford Blackington of Providence, driver of the other car, said his left side and leg were injured.

1940 Buick Models Show Advances in Motors and Bodies

Six new series of automobiles for 1940, on wheelbases ranging from 121 to 140 inches and affording extended motor coverage from just above the lowest price field, are announced by the Buick division of General Motors Corporation.

Featuring the Buick line for 1940 are two completely new series of cars of ultra modern styling and new standards of quality and performance in the lower and medium price fields. They are the series 50 super and the series 70 Roadmaster, constructed on entirely new chassis of 121 and 126-inch wheelbase, respectively.

Completing the Buick group for next year are the popular series 40 Special, on a 121-inch wheelbase; the series 60 Century, on a 126-inch wheelbase, and the series 80 and 90 Limited, on 133-inch and 140-inch wheelbases, respectively.

Throughout the model range the 1940 Buicks have been stepped up to new highs of style, quality and performance. Bold and artistic treatment in front end styling has provided a distinctive Buick hood representing pronounced change and improvement over previous years. Underneath the attractive exteriors are chassis held to be the sturdiest ever produced by this manufacturer, and, at the same time, the most advanced.

The series 40 and 50 cars, are powered by valved-inches straight eight engines of 248 cu. in. displacement developing 107 horsepower at 3400 R.P.M. Engines of identical design, but with 320.2 cu. in. displacement and developing 141 horsepower at 3600 R.P.M., are used in the series 60, 70, 80 and 90 cars.

Outstanding structural and design features, including such important items as improved torque tube drive; independent front wheel suspension; Buick's Rear Spring suspension, ride stabilization force and aft, more powerful hydraulic brakes, and improved lighting and electrical equipment, are incorporated in the cars. In addition, more than 70 new features representing detailed change and improvement are listed in the engineering description of the models.

The 1940 cars have improved front and rear direction signals. Foamex rubber seat cushions, engine turned instrument panels, sealed beam safety headlights; entirely new frames, new engine mountings, new carburetor, addition of oil filters on all engines, better direct steering linkage, improved handshift gear control, marked improvement in shock absorber equipment, new safety free reeling inside rear door handles, windshield wiper boosters, an improved system of tire changing, and a host of other refinements marking them as complete and luxuriously equipped automobiles.

For 1940, all Buick engines are balanced after assembly by an exclusive electrical process to within a fraction of an inch-ounce, claimed to be the finest engine balance tolerance in the industry. As a result, the engines, which in addition are cradled in rubber mountings having a 60 per cent increase in cushioning capacity, deliver their power virtually without trace of vibration.

The Buick series 50 super and series 70 Roadmaster, are highly advanced cars. Both are available in two models, a six passenger four-door touring sedan and a sport coupe having full width rear seat. The series have been engineered to include new developments in materials, methods and design, and embody the smooth curving lines of practical streamlining for lower wind resistance and increased beauty.

The long lines of the bodies project without break into the sheet metal of the hood and fenders, and together with the slight tilt of the radiator and the in-built head and tail lamps, present a beautiful appearance, particularly noteworthy for balance and proportion.

The new series have a reduced overall car height and floors have been lowered, allowing the elimination of running boards on these lower bodies. In spite of the reduction in overall height, more than adequate headroom has been designed into them.

Exceptionally easy ingress and egress also is possible, with the front doors hinged at the front pillars and the rear doors hinged at the center body pillars, aided by the proximity of the floor to the ground.

With the increased performance of modern automobiles, better driving lights have been the goal of engineers, and the 1940 Buick sealed beam headlights, of the "optical pack" type, go further toward attaining that goal than any yet introduced as production equipment. The headlights have been increased in capacity by 45 per cent in the country driving beam and since the bulb, lens and reflector are combined in a single replaceable unit, maintain maximum efficient brilliancy throughout the life of the car.

Changes in Buick's coil spring suspension have resulted in a greatly improved ride. The angle of suspension of Buick's knee action front wheels has been rotated four degrees backward, providing better cushioning effect against road bump and preventing noise or vibration from this source reaching the passenger compartment.

Gear shifting on the new cars is accomplished by a greatly improved remote control mechanism, have the lever located on the steering post just below the steering wheel, where it is easily accessible to the driver. The entire linkage is completely redesigned to create an inherently positive, quiet, easy gear selection that at the same time feels substantial and solid. Not the least advantage in its location is the cleared front compartment.
